MEMO

...from the Snark's desk

Eugene D. Zanck L-68162
Snark of the Universe

Writing my final memo as your Snark is a challenging task. All the good things that have happened this year as well as these past 3 months need telling as do the last 3 goals of our 9-point program for this year. I'll first review our No. 7, 8 and 9 goals.

Goal No. 7 is to solicit more input from members for the good of our Order. We've listed a lot of this information in this issue and entitled it "Club Activities". In addition to that, we've also enclosed an article about who can belong to Hoo-Hoo. I'm also covering some of this other input in the final section of this memo. I hope you'll find these articles interesting and helpful. The information they contain is passed on to you from your brothers in Hoo-Hoo in the hope it will be of help to you.

Goal No. 8 is to establish a club secretary award. We'll present this at Honolulu for approval, so it should be available to local clubs after that. I'm also happy to report that more clubs now recognize the importance of their club secretary, and as a result, have awarded him items of recognition. Life memberships, special plaques and a perpetual trophy named in the secretary's honor are but a few examples of what some clubs have done.

Goal No. 9 was recently reached with the awarding of an honorary membership in our Order to Congressman Don Clausen of California. An article describing this event appears in this issue. News releases announcing this award were sent to all clubs for release to local media. Similar releases were also sent to numerous trade journals. Couple this with our Hoo-Hoo ads, and we have a successful program of putting the Hoo-Hoo name before thousands of potential members. In addition to that, I took further steps to spread goodwill by being the first Snark in attendance at a Hoo-Hoo-Ette convention. A write-up describing this event also appears elsewhere in this issue. Our next step now is to capitalize on all of this promotion. Now that more people know about Hoo-Hoo, it's easier for them to join. International has done its part to spread the good word of Hoo-Hoo. It is now up to the local clubs and individual members to carry this further by asking men to join. How long has it been since you asked someone to join Hoo-Hoo?

Have you finalized plans to attend the '79 convention in Honolulu? This should be one of the best conventions yet. Australia normally holds their convention in Australia, but this year will be holding it in Honolulu just prior to ours. That means the Ausies will be there in force. Think of what fun this promises to be! As for entertainment, we all know the sight-seeing will be spec-

CLUB NEWS

Twin Cities Club No. 12 Mpls., St. Paul, Minn.

As time passes, this year will prove to be an eventful year for most of us in the Twin Cities Club No. 12. On March 20th our club honored, as Lumberman Of The Year, a man loved and respected in all of Hoo-Hoo land. A crowd of 172 people were on hand to pay tribute to Robert (Shorty) Ford as our Man of the Year.

Members of Hoo-Hoo International will be happy that Bob Ford received this award but we, in Twin Cities Club No. 12, are especially proud and happy because Shorty is part of us. We love him. The event was held on the 50th floor of the IDS Tower in downtown Minneapolis.

We were also fortunate and honored to have the Snark of the Universe, Gene Zanck and his wife, Jackie, with us. They were instantly and permanently loved by all. We wish to take this opportunity to thank Gene and Jackie for visiting our club.

This event also recognized and honored past Lumbermen Of The Year and Past Club Presidents of the Twin Cities Hoo-Hoo Club No. 12. It was a great night and it was great to see them all. We are looking forward to the remainder of our Hoo-Hoo year with anticipation.

Hope to see you all in Honolulu in September.

Club No. 242

Dallas, Texas

The regular monthly meeting of the Metro-Plex Club No. 242 was held on May 10th at the Catfish Hut on Lake Grapevine. American Timber products was the happy hour host.

After a cocktail hour and dinner, we had as our guest speaker Rich Hand, a former Texas Ranger pitcher. He showed a film on last year's World Series and had a lot of interesting comments about baseball.

Frank Parrott was the program chairman and he was assisted by Bob Edwards. There were about 40 men in attendance.

A door prize of 2 tickets to the Byron Nelson Open Golf tournament was donated by Eddie Hunt and the tickets were won by Curtis Turner, who was the highest bidder.

On April 5th the club met at the Sleepy Hollow Restaurant in Dallas. This was for one of two concatenations that will be held this year.

Nineteen new members were brought into our great order which brings the total membership for this new club up to 56.

Slaughter Brothers, Inc. was the happy hour sponsor and Frank Parrott was the program chairman.

Four guests came up from Houston to join us for our meeting. They were Buddy Durham, Ron Strickland, Gary Hester (Supreme Nine Member) and Melvin Allen, the Houston Club President. Thanks for coming up, men.

tacular. As for business, we'll elect officers, review by-laws, conduct seminars and make a final decision as to where the '82 convention will be held, Australia or Seattle. I've called my final board meeting for Friday, September 14th and have a full agenda to keep it from becoming a lame-duck session. All S-9 candidates are invited to attend this board meeting to acquaint themselves with Hoo-Hoo procedures.

Now for some convention thoughts: We'll vote on an important by-law change which could have far reaching effects on the growth of the Order. A convention also affords all of us an opportunity to express our views on other matters pertaining to the good of the Order. Input received concerning convention is as follows: should we always hold these conventions at expensive hotels, or should the host city attempt to find alternate hotel accommodations more reasonably priced?; Should International receive a percentage of the convention's registration fees? (International gets nothing from a convention at present); Should we hold our 1982 convention in Australia? (They've promised no registration fee and private housing for those that want it and air fares have been lowered to as little as $550. round trip); Should officer's and director's expense allowance be based on performance, rather than a fixed dollar amount set by the board?; Should clubs be allowed to send in proxy votes and if so, should these proxy votes be limited to the selection of a Supreme 9?; Should terms of officers be limited?; Should the Assistant Editor's convention transportation and registration fee be paid by International?; Should we establish some sort of lottery or drawing whereby convention trips are raffled? These are but a few of the questions being asked about the operation of our Order. I'd like your input if you have other questions or would like to volunteer your feelings in

Singapore Club No. 245 Singapore

We are pleased to inform the International Office of Hoo-Hoo that the Singapore Hoo-Hoo Club has now been formally registered by the government. We can, therefore, start our Hoo-Hoo activities. Our first meeting is being planned and we will inform you of the line up of the office bearers, etc.

In the meantime, this club would appreciate it if you could, through Log & Tally magazine, inform all members of our official answering some of these others.

I've tried to recognize in my "Snark Salutes" column as many members as possible that have helped me make this year a success. Undoubtedly, I have missed a few names. It is not intended, so please excuse the oversight. I thank each one of you again. You have all made my year as your Snark the most memorable experience of my life. It's impossible to highlight any one event that was greater than another.

Our Order is unique and exhibits the type of friendliness that other clubs try to achieve, but seldom accomplish. The base for membership in our Order is greater now than it has ever been. Times are ideal today for people to join our Order. 9 clubs were started this year and the growth work for starting 3 or 4 others has already been laid for next year. As a result, we should continue to show growth next year and in the next decade. Hoo-Hoo has been in existence since 1892, and with proper club management and programming, can continue to grow and stay healthy. The leadership I have met in my travels as Snark convinces me that we are healthy and need not fear a reduction in our ranks.

My thanks again to each and every one of you for all of your help and cooperation.

Fraternally yours,

Eugene D. Zanck

Hobart Club No. 235 Hobart, Tasmania Australia

The Hobart (Tasmania, Australia) Club No. 235 conducted its first ever promotion on the occasion of World Forestry Day on March 21st, 1979, and it was conducted in our Beautiful "by mountain and sea capital city of Hobart".

A gallant group of people distributed some 1,000 Blue Gum seedlings to the public from our mall.

An information bulletin was given with each seedling which read:

This is a seedling of the species "Eucalyptus Globulus" commonly known as Tasmanian Blue Gum. On good sites it grows into a beautiful tree up to 200 feet in height and 20 feet in girth.

It is a fast growing tree and will grow about one metre in height per year.

This seedling should be planted in a site where it has room to grow. It will grow into a tree 20 to 30 feet high in a few years and then by lopping it can be kept as a lovely bushy tree for the home garden. It should be planted with the paper pot intact, as this soon rots away, allowing the roots to grow.

The seeds of the Eucalyptus Globulus have been exported from Tasmania for many years, and now the trees are a common sight in California, Southern Europe, North Africa, South Africa and South America.

The timber from this species is very heavy and dense and it is frequently used for bridge and wharf decking as well as scantling in home construction. Last century many of the streets of London were paved with blocks of blue gum which came from Southern Tasmania forests. It is also ideal for making fine writing papers.

Tasmanian Pulp and Forest Holdings Limited are planting about 150,000 of these trees each year in our forests on the East Coast of Tasmania, Australia

Above are Sue Risby, Pat Parkinson, Mary Rapp, Julie Waters and Kay Creed. The group gave away about 1,000 seedlings to the public.

Washington Club #99

Washington, D.C.

Our April meeting was a little different. Through the efforts of Howard Jesneck, and Bill Dockeray, we reserved 110 seats at the Garland Dinner Theater in Columbia, Md., to see a delightfully funny play, "There Goes the Bride". The members and their wives and guests enjoyed a delicious buffet dinner and an excellent performance. It was our best attended meeting this year and also the most popular.

In May we held our golf outing at the Washingtonian Country Club, and we were honored by the presence of the Snark of the Universe Eugene Zanck. Gene came to Washington to attend the meeting and also to award a plaque to Rep. Don Clausen (R-Calif.) for his efforts on behalf of the lumber industry.

Bob VanEvery, 2nd Vice-Pres., and Dich Mullen, S-9 Juris I, were on hand for the presentation along with our club officers. After a tour of the Capitol building and an exciting ride on the new Metro Subway System, Bob and Dick departed for home. We tried to persuade them to stay for the next days golf outing and meeting but they had other commitments.

During his two day stay in Washington, Gene was the guest of our President George Dockeray. The night before the regular meeting the Snark met with the Board of Directors at George's house for a combination cookout and business meeting. Both the food and the meeting were excellent.

The golf outing, under the direction of Harold Hershey, was once again a huge success. The forty plus golfers had a beautiful day and some nice scores. We never did find out what Gene Zanck's score was, but he kept saying he should have won high gross.

After the golf outing, we held our last meeting of the year, which started off with our usual buffet dinner, and happy hour. Outgoing Secretary-Treasurer Bill Dockeray gave his report on the status of the Club, after which we had our election of officers for the coming year. The results of the election are as follows: President - Jim Joseph; Vice-President - Bill Dockeray; Secretary-Treasurer - Fred Lemley; Board Member Harold Hershey, and Board Member George Triplett.

Club President George Dockeray then introduced the Snark and presented him with a plaque as a memento of his visit. Gene then spoke to the membership on the ideals of Hoo-Hoo and what he had tried to do this past year, and the goals that he would like to see reached for the future. Gene then led the members in the Hoo-Hoo song, after which the meeting was adjourned for the summer. See you in Hawaii!

Jim Joseph 81089
Vice-President

Club No. 99's Directors Meeting - Seated: Gene Dove, Jim Joseph and Gene Zanck. Standing: Bill Dockeray, George Dockeray, Neill Dumont and Howard Jesnick.

A Washington welcome to the Snark! V.P. Jim Joseph, Sec/Treas. Bill Dockeray, Snark Zanck and George Dockeray.

Cowichan Valley Club #229

Duncan, BC Canada

"During April Club No. 229 held a very successful fund raising dinner." writes Pat Salmie 80905. "It was held in the Rotary-Kin Hall at Chemainus, B.C., and all those who attended had an enjoyable and an exciting time. Some had a very profitable evening!"

"Our club owes a hearty thank-you to Ways and Means Chairman Bruce King and his committee for a well organized and well attended event."

Here are a few of the treasures to be put on display at the B.C. Forest Museum.

On May 5th the club held its annual Open Invitation Golf Tournament at Mt. Brenton Golf Course in Chemainus, B.C. The day was absolutely perfect for 64 participating. Our congratulations to Jim Avon for providing an overwhelmingly successful event. The winners on the links were No. 229 members Kieth Rankin, President Bob White and Gary Urton.

Club No. 99 President George Dockeray presents Snark Gene Zanck with a plaque commemorating his visit to Washington.

Ben F. Springer

Club No. 35

Milwaukee, Wisc.

The Ben F. Springer Club held its annual Scandanavian Fish Boil in March. Our event was well attended and the ladies present enjoyed the evening. There are always new faces and it is a special treat for the old timers to introduce everyone to the Danish hospitality.

Ken Hallgren and his wife Carol, along with Fred Diesel and Dave Dolby, came up from the Northern Illinois Club to share the evening with us. This is our continuing effort to have more joint club functions.

Jack Vanderspool our newly elected club president, was introduced by Ed Foley, outgoing president. Jack had some encouraging remarks for those present. We are sure Jack will have a successful term of office. The other new officers are: Denmon Chase, 1st V.P.; Phil Mork, 2nd V.P.; John guse, Sec. - Treas.; Jim Scales and Dick Reich, Directors.

So What Is A Hoo-Hoo-ETTE?

The first Hoo-Hoo-Ette Club was organized in 1951 by Miss Anne Murray, in Los Angeles, California. In April, 1963, the first convention was held in San Francisco, California and National Hoo-Hoo-Ette Club organized, comprising of the first nine clubs. Annually a two day convention is held.

The Order of Hoo-Hoo-Ette takes its pattern from the lumbermans fraternity of Hoo-Hoo; however, it is completely independent of that organization. Hoo-Hoo-Ette is now National in scope, with chapters located in Oregon, California, Arizona, and Hawaii. The initial purpose was to function as a social organization of women employed in the lumber industry and give the opportunity to get acquainted with each other -- to help ourselves in our profession by learning to play together so we may learn better to work together; to use the organization to educate and improve in their field of employment; to participate in the development of our local community through charitable contribution.

Hoo-Hoo-Ette offers a scholarship to a student in the forest industry annually. The recipient must be a third-year student and the scholarship is awarded in the basis of academic standing, financial need and dedication to the forest industry.

Hoo-Hoo-Ette makes available to its members financial aid through the National Friendship Fund during a dire emergency, employment contacts for job seekers, either locally or for those moving into new areas.

Employers also can benefit from their employees as being members of Hoo-Hoo-Ette because Hoo-Hoo-Ette stimulates our loyalty to the industry from which we derive our livelihood.

The 17th national Hoo-Hoo-Ette Convention was held at the Villa Hotel, in San Mateo, California, on May 18, 19 and 20th, 1979.

Shasta-Cascade Club No. 133

Redding, Calif.

For the 25th time, the Shasta Cascade Hoo-Hoo Club No. 133 held its annual Ladies Night on March 31, 1979 at the Bridge Bay Resort on Shasta Lake in Redding, California. There was a cocktail hour, prime rib dinner, dancing, door prizes and a flower auction.

The attendance this year was better than ever due to the efforts of Vice President and program chairman, George Rogers. He had the novel idea of an auction of flowering plants. With George as the auctioneer and aided by President John Crane and treasurer Don Cherovsky, this activity was the highlight of the evening for all. Member can be assured that the flower auction will be an annual event.

The April, 1979 meeting of the Shasta-Cascade Club No. 133 was held jointly with the Rogue Valley Club No. 94 of Medford, Oregon at a point approximately half way between the two clubs in Mt. Shasta, California. It was held at a new, all wood, Tree-House, Lounge, Dining and Banquet Rooms owned by a Hoo-Hoo member, Marty Cooper. The Redding members and guests travelled by Greyhound bus which added to the good fellowship and association.

The program for the evening was presented by Bill Dean, editor of Random Lengths from Eugene, Oregon. He outlined in detail how the information and statistics are assembled, needed to make the weekly report. The audience was impressed with the procedure of weekly telephoning and research required to make the report as meaningful as possible.

Everyone took an active part in the question and answer period following the talk, and all were pleased that they were in attendance for one of the better meetings of the Hoo-Hoo year.

Under the leadership of

1) Some sharpies at work 2) Ron and some of his helpers 3) Cedar boys relaxing 4) A few of the Hoo-Hoo guests.

President Harry Stuchell 49775, the club held nine successful meetings with average attendance of well over 100. The Directors and Officers all gave extra effort in making sure all of our special events were well organized and interesting. Many of the regular members helped at many of the functions and assumed much of the responsibility.

Financially the club ended up with a modest surplus and there is to be no raise in dues for the coming year. Membership stayed near the same as the past several years at 240 members.

There was a fine effort by all members to interest new people in being part of our lumber fraternity, and we hope the new members will offer their services and ideas to keep the club strong.

Our new Club Officers are: Cliff Barlament 79080, President; Gordon Iverson 82104, Vice President, and Secretary/Treasurer is Ron Smith 81775.

Directors are: Frank Roesler 80157, Doug Greenshields 82817, Scott Findlay 83660, Dick Weiss 81527, Jack Hembury 73404, Clyde LeMaster 78865 and Tom VanNus 80162 - plus of course, Barlament and Smith.

The calendar roster will be ready to go by the first of September, so be sure you receive one.

The club address will stay the same and Tom Dolan will handle Club business.

We hope many of our members will be able to enjoy the coming convention in Honolulu.

Respectfully,
Tom Dolan 54333

On March 23rd, the San Joaquin Hoo-Hoo Club No. 31 held its most successful Casino Night in the history of the club. This is an annual affair for the club's Chester G. Harshner Memorial Scholarship Fund. The attendance was the largest and the amount of money received for the Scholarship Fund was the greatest from this activity to date.

Craig Gaffney was General Chairman of the event; Bob Schlotthauer acted as chef for the Cioppino feast while Elmer Rau barbecued steak for those who preferred steak to Cioppino.

Nick Bonetto, in his usual tradition, performed as auctioneer.

Hugh Service, Elmer Rau, and Chuck Wills are barbecuing the steaks.

Bernie Barber, Jr., Dave Walton, Bob Lewis and Dale Smith at the registration table.

The Club mainstays - Craig Gaffney and Hugo Rath.

Rich Taylor, Don Tockey, Gordon Knott (Club President) and Nick Bonetto, auctioneer.

Chuck Wills, Hugh Service, Wally Kennedy and Elmer Rau take some time to watch the basketball game.

Dale Winslow, Dick Kennedy and Jerry DeCou III.

The San Joaquin Valley Hoo-Hoo Club No. 31 held the annual Sports Day and Concat at the Belmont Country Club in Fresno on May 25th with a fine turnout.

Dick Holt was Chairman of the Golf Tournament and Wally Kennedy was in charge of the Concat.

There were 13 men initiated into our great Order that night - twelve for our Club No. 31, and one for the Oakland Hoo-Hoo Club No. 39. They are:

Don Johnson and Damon Bailey have a serious chat.

Brizze, Carl G. Carr, Gale Campbell, Henry H. Friesen and Eric Fromm.

Also, Dennis K. Hudson, Jerry K. Huish, William E. Myers, Steven E. Roberts, Dave Smith, Robert J. Staunton and Stephen D. Turner. There were no casualties.

Way back in 1955, the President of Club No. 31 was Wally Kennedy, who promoted the idea of having the club build some signs reading "Protect Our Forest - Your Future Homes."

One of these signs was placed in front of our Hoo-Hoo office in Fresno, and nine others were placed in the mountains east of us on all the major highways to the Sierras.

In the photo below we find Wally Kennedy, Bernie Barber, Jr., Gordon Knott, Louie Frame and Don Walker. This picture was taken after the sign at the Hoo-Hoo office had been repainted. The club now has the project of repainting all of the signs in the Sierras.

Wally Kennedy was also the author of the booklet "Out Daddy is a Lumberman," which proved to be a very popular promotional item to school children, and a few copies are still available, as noted in the picture of Wally holding a few of them.

Incidentally, there is a terrific change in the appearance of these men when compared to the 1955 photograph!

HAWAII'S FINE
IN '79

Long before the history of mankind, eruptions under the Pacific Ocean poured hot lava in such quantity as to build a mountain chain rising as much as 14,000 feet above sea level. Thus, the Hawaiian Islands were born. Nature, in ensuing centuries, blessed the islands with a wealth of indigenous plant life. Ginger, Hibiscus and Orchids grow in profusion adding color to lush greenery and emanating a fragrant perfume which hangs heavily in the air.

The Islands, directly in the path of cooling trade winds, are "air conditioned" by nature. It is rarely too hot and never too cold...comfortable is the word! Average monthly temperature in Honolulu varies from 75 degrees in February to 85 degrees in August. There is just enough rainfall year round to provide for the luxuriant greenery and vegetation. Fortunately, the beaches are protected from most of the rain by the mountain ranges. So when you come to the islands be prepared for sun--sun tan lotion and sun glasses are always in order.

Hawaii is primarily known for five of its islands. They are, in order of size: Hawaii (4,030 square miles and still growing), Maui (729 square miles), Oahu (604 square miles), Kauai (555 square miles) and Molokai (260 square miles). Each island differs from the other in geographic features, attractions and things to do.

Oahu
The Aloha Isle

Third largest of the Hawaiian Islands and by far the most densely populated, the most famous, and the most frequently visited. Here you'll find Honolulu, largest city in the islands--the governmental, financial and educational center of the state. On the outskirts of Honolulu is Waikiki, the super-resort full of activity and fun from early morning till very late at night. Visitors love Oahu for its excitement and gaiety and its exotic blend of American, Polynesian and Oriental cultures.

The Polynesian Cultural Center gives you the opportunity to see six native villages representative of those in Fiji, Tonga, New Zealand, Tahiti, Samoa and old Hawaii. There's informal entertainment, demonstrations of native arts and crafts in the making, buffet dining and a theatrical extravaganza featuring a cast of 120 Polynesians in song, dance and drama. Sea Life Park is great fun for everyone with shows featuring frolicking porpoises and leaping whales.

Maui
The Valley Isle

About 20 minutes by air southeast of Oahu lies the beautiful island of Maui. It is actually two islands joined together by a fertile peninsula, where modern suburbs adjoin broad fields of waving sugar cane. The eastern "half" is a massive volcanic peak--the majestic 10,000 foot Haleakala, legendary home of Hawaii's Sun God. It's also the location of the Hana resort district. Other Maui attractions include Iao Valley, the historic and picturesque whaling town of Lahaina and the fabulous Kaanapali and Wailea resort areas. Lahaina, Maui was the capital of the Hawaiian Kingdom until 1850 when King Kamehameha moved the capital to Honolulu.

Hawaii
The Orchid Isle

Often called "The Big Island", Hawaii is the largest and southern-most island in the group. Here you may see, at close range and in perfect safety, intermittently active Kilauea Volcano, the chain of craters, lava tubes and tree fern forests which are part of Hawaii Volcanoes National Park. From the palm-fringed shores of Hilo Bay, your gaze will take in cane fields--and the lofty peaks of Mauna Kea and Mauna Loa, snow-capped in winter. Across the island, the historic Kona Coast beckons game fishermen, antiquarians and all who know the joys of full and perfect relaxation.

Kauai
The Garden Isle

Less than 100 miles north of Honolulu is the island of Kauai. To many it is the most beautiful of all Hawaiian Islands. Legendary home of the memehunes, Hawaii's "Little Men", Kauai's mystical cloak of things-that-were adds enchantment to its very modern things-that-are. Popular scenic spots on Kauai are the spectacularly colorful Waimea Canyon (Grand Canyon of the Pacific); the lovely Fern Grotto on the Wailua River; exquisite Hanalei Valley and beaches so beautiful that movie producers regularly film them for "South Sea" settings.

MOLOKAI & LANAI

The islands of Molokai and Lanai are the smallest of the main islands, and least known to visitors. Molokai's beautiful Halawa Valley was the home for hundreds of Hawaiian fishermen and farmers until a tidal wave forced many of them to leave in 1946. Other attractions include churches built by Father Damien and Kalaupapa, the home of the old Leper Colony. Lanai is privately owned and devoted almost exclusively to pineapple culture.

DINING

Dining out is often one of the more pleasurable and memorable experiences of a trip away from home. Hawaii offers an unmatched variety of restaurants featuring menus from all corners of the world. Although the emphasis is naturally on Oriental and Polynesian fare, you will also find all the familiar American and Continental dishes. Many restaurants offer several distinct types of cuisine within one menu. And Honolulu has its share of Holiday Award winning restaurants, too. You can broil your own or be pampered with the finest of service, test lavish buffets or stop by a beach snack bar.

So hang loose, slow down, relax and enjoy--Hawaii's fine for '79!

Folsom Hoo-Hoo Club Honors "Old Timers"

The Harry L. Folsom Hoo-Hoo Club of Boston hosted its Annual Old Timers Night on Monday evening, May 7 at the Piety Corner Club, Waltham, Mass.

As usual, this popular event, which usually features a steer roast of beef banquet, brought out a large turnout of veteran lumbermen in addition to the younger membership. This year's "old timer" with the lowest Hoo-Hoo number was Mr. Paul W. Redden (No. 32186) of Wellesley Hills, Mass. Well Known in the club, Paul was formerly with Massachusetts Lumber Co., Cambridge.

In addition to the old timers, this meeting always attracts a large number of past presidents, as the picture will testify. Naturally, a lot of the veteran lumbermen fit into both categories.

The new slate of officers of the Harry L. Folsom Club were also voted in at the meeting. They include: Arnold L. Tarmy, president; Alden P. Hathaway, 1st vice president; Richard G. Cain, 2nd vice president; Jack W. Devlin, secretary; William H. Balsor, treasurer; and William F. Cotting, Jr., ex officio. The new directors are: John H. DeSimone, Robert K. Gurnon, Jr., Paul C. Scribner and Gregg P. Sweetser.

During the business meeting, it was announced that the date for the Annual Cookout, put on by the past presidents, is June 16.

Here's a pretty fair shot of the Harry L. Folsom Hoo-Hoo Club No. 13's "old timers"....

....and here's a shot of Club 13's past presidents. Note how many past presidents are "old timers."

Tampa, St. Pete, Fla.

Tampa Bay Hoo-Hoo Club No. 225 was reactivated on June 5th 1979 with approximately 98 in attendance. The Orlando Club No. 115 under the direction of Bud Ryan, their president, chartered a bus for the trip to Causeway Inn South in Tampa. The Orlando club furnished the equipment and most of the team to put on a well organized Con-Cat. They had 29 kittens who were able to survive the ordeal.

The following officers were permanently elected for the 1979-1980 Hoo-Hoo year: Dan Kelly President, Ted Anderson Vice-President, John Riley Secretary, Murry Pascual Treasurer and Tommy Le Duc Vice Gerent Snark.

The club was fortunate to have several other visitors from Hoo-Hoo International and other Jimmy Jones remarked after the Con-Cat that he was impressed with the meeting and thought this Tampa Bay club had the making of one of the best clubs in the Universe. Jimmy was able to meet each kitten that was initiated on a personal basis.

I am also proud of this club and each member who worked so hard to get it off the ground and going again. I hope to attend many meetings with them in the future.

North Idaho
Club No. 155
Coeur d'Alene, Idaho

Club No. 155's regular monthly meeting for April was held at the Iron Horse Restaurant in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. There was a discussion on a number of club activities, primarily wood-working and lumberjack contests both of which come up in May. There was also a good discussion on National Legislation and the RARE II program.

The meeting concluded with a Concat with two new members being brought into the Order.

Vice President Keith Olson presided in the absence of President McCarty.

The regular May meeting of the North Idaho Hoo-Hoo Club was held at the Athletic Round Table in Coeur d'Alene the evening of May 10. President McCarty called the meeting to order, 36 members, wives and guests were present. Since this was a Ladies Night, and a special program honoring 'Women In Timber' the regular order of business was not followed.

All members present introduced themselves and wives, and McCarty introduced the visiting ladies, and their husbands if they were present. Prior to the dinner, McCarty asked Louise Shaddock, Exec. Dir. of the Idaho Forest Club No. 155's Vice President Keith Olsen, left, welcomes new members Edward A. Pommerening and Jerry Wentworth.

Industries Council, to tell us a little about her recent trip to China as a member of a trade delegation. Louise gave very interesting highlights of her trip; impressions, living conditions, reception of visitors, hotels, etc. in her own very entertaining manner.

McCarty also called on Ruth Johnson, Staff Asst. to Senator McClure, and Sandy Teewalt, Staff Asst. to Congressman Symms, for a few remarks about what was going on in their respective offices.

Some of the Women In Timber present were Susan Frei, President; Judy McAvoy, 1st V.P. and Donna Favor, 2nd V.P.

and Directors Mrs. Knauf and Louise Shaddock.

After the meal Pres. Susan Frei gave an interesting summary of the background and purposes of the new organization 'Women In Timber' which was just started last November. Their object is to get women involved in the many issues relating to the timber industry, through Education, Communication and Legislation. Women are urged to visit the mills, wood using industries, nurseries, take woods tours and so become better acquainted with what is going on and needed. More members are needed. It was an inspiring talk.

According to Club No. 181 member Del Cole, the Black Bart club held another Railroad Night on April 18th at the Manor Inn in Ukiah, California. It was a good turnout with over 60 in attendance.

Golf was played and enjoyed during the day at the Ukiah Municipal Golf Course, and this was followed by libations and a delicious steak dinner. It was a fun day and night for all who attended.

Gary Gamble was the program chairman for the day.

Seattle
Club No. 34
Seattle, Washington

On May 16th, 1979, the Seattle Hoo-Hoo Club No. 34 and the Tacoma-Washington Club No. 89 played a slow-pitch softball game in Auburn, Washington. What a game!

Two years ago these two teams played and Tacoma-Olympia won. However, this year Seattle won with a score of 22-20. This time Club No. 89 had the opportunity of buying the beverages for the Seattle players.

Both clubs had a good time and it's possible the North Cascade Club No. 230 would like to join us at our next meeting.

This could develop into a good league!

The Seattle Hoo-Hoo Club No. 34 held its monthly dinner meeting on March 13. Dean Carlson, who set up the Seattle Club sponsored WCLIB Grading School at the University of Washington, reported that the Grading school was being offered at Highline Community College.

Two Grading School Scholarships were awarded by the Seattle Club - one to Amadeo J. Rossi, Jr., and one to Michael Platz, both are students of the College of Forest Resources at the U. of Washington. Rossi was Dean Carlson's special guests, however Platz was unable to attend.

Guest speaker for the evening was Steve Krause, public relations representative for the Seattle Mariner's Baseball Club. He presented a film on the 1978 season and answered questions pertaining to the 1979 baseball season.

Steve Krause, representing the Seattle Mariners, speaks to the Seattle Club No. 34.

Graham spoke briefly about the Newcastle Club, about his trip here and about his firm, Hardboards Australia Ltd. He showed slides of his country and some of the "bush" (woods) operations, etc.

This was one of our "better" programs and much enjoyed by the membership.

Club No. 16 member Dr. John P. Howe 73001, Forestry professor at the University of Idaho, will be retiring at the end of this school year after 23 years at the University. His students honored him with a roast pig and chicken Barbecue on a near-by farm on May 5th. More than 500 people honored this modest but highly effective teacher. Club Secretary and Mrs. Ernie Wales were among those who attended the Barbecue.

In the fall John will enroll in a Theology School in Massachusetts for study leading to his ordination as a minister.

Steve Kallberg was the program chairman for the evening, and about 55 members and guests were in attendance.

"The Seattle Hoo-Hoo Club is growing," says Randy Bailey 80949, "President John Bratland is hoping that the spring concat will bring total membership well above 150."

OUR TRAVELLING SNARK

Three things prevented the inclusion of some of the following photos in the last Log & Tally - Time, space and budget. We include as many as we can in this issue.

During our Snark's winter tour of the Southwest and Northwest, we find the Snark in seemingly, several places at once.

The Great Falls Hoo-Hoo Club No. 165 had their annual "Nightalong" with a special Saint Patrick's Day Party with about 150 in attendance.

Special guests were Jackie and Gene Zanck (Snark of the Universe). There was a splendid buffet dinner and then dancing until 2:00 A.M. Several door prizes were given away throughout the evening.

Great Falls Club No. 165's president, Jim Leister addresses the club at the St. Patrick's Day meeting.

Toronto Club No. 53 Toronto, Ontario

Toronto's Harbour Castle Hilton Hotel was the scene for the well attended meeting of March 19th. Some of you will remember that this Hotel was also the scene of last year's International Convention. Vic Spillman laid on a beautiful turkey dinner and two very interesting speakers.

International second vice president, Bob VanEvery and his wife, Marilyn, were our guests for the evening and after an uncharacteristically short and to the point introduction by our past Snark, Bill Bader, Bob responded with more of a pleasant chat than a formal speech.

The main speaker of the evening, introduced by an old friend, Al Burnes, was C.J. (Colin) Parsons who gave us a well documented and researched discussion of the home building prospects for the immediate and near future. His audience was most attentive, interested, and genuinely applauded President Bill Noble's thank you comments and the presentation of a framed logging scene.

Club 1st Vice President Rick Wozny reported that the Industrial Arts Scholarship program for 1979 was well in hand and being supported at the Home Show.

Publicity Director, Gord Condie, reported 26 people confirmed for the International

"Who Can Join Hoo-Hoo"

Members sometimes run out of ideas as to where to look for new members. They'll also ask, "just who can join Hoo-Hoo?" Even though our by-laws answer these questions, more specific and up to date definitions reviewed periodically will prove helpful in signing up new members.

We all know that loggers, lumber producers, wholesalers and retailers can join. Also eligible are other members of the Forest Products Industry. This includes cabinet makers (such as the kitchen cabinet shop with 3 or 4 employees), mill men, pallet makers, millwork people, particle board people, fibreboard people (wood fiber, not cane), wood carvers, furniture makers, garden tool makers (wood handles), wood fence people, truss fabricators, panel manufacturers, pre-hung door people, glu-lam fabricators, tree surgeons, nurserymen and many other people doing something with wood as their livelihood.

The Forestry category includes U.S. Forest Service people, city & state park employees, soil service employees, private timber company employees, timber cruisers, consultants, and many other individuals holding Forestry degrees. (Many of the larger cities have Foresters.) Teachers can also be included in this category, provided they are teaching Forestry or a Forest Products type course.

Members and staff of Forest Products Associations are also eligible, as are members of the Forest Products trade press. This means that people working for the many magazines that come into your office probably join Hoo-Hoo.

Personnel involved primarily in transporting Forest Products can also join. The same holds true for those who devote their total efforts to the sale of machinery and supplies to the Forest Products Industry. A quick rule of thumb is, if he derives 51% of his income from the Forest Products Industry, he can join.

Paulina Club No. 220 Redwood, Ore.

The very active Pauline Hoo-Hoo Club No. 220 had a very successful joint Concat with the Winema Hoo-Hoo club No. 216 on May 18th, reports Joe Fitzgerald. It was held at the Gilchrist Restaurant in Gilchrist, Oregon.

The highlights of the evening were a carved wooden plaque presented to Frank Gilchrist in recognition of many years of support to the Paulina club. The Winema Hoo-Hoo Club also presented Frank with a gigantic "Master Switch" for his new computerized Sawmill. (see photo.)

Club President John DeMarco hams it up a little with Frank Gilchrist.

Of course the real big deal of the evening was the initiation of nineteen (19) kittens into our great Order.

There were a lot of cash prizes from funds representing fifty percent of the cash collected from all the members and the kittens. The door prizes were too numerous to mention . . . Some of the kittens won the prizes

Contractors, however, are usually not considered eligible. The Forest Products Industry provides a large base from which we can draw members. A club that seeks members from this large base will be strong because it's doing what we all should be doing, bringing together, in the spirit of fraternalism, members of the Forest Products Industry.

proving beyond a doubt that the drawing was on the level. "When we have such a good turnout on the night before the opening of the High Lakes Fishing Season," says Joe Fitzgerald, "and have so many new kittens, I'd say we are a very healthy club." "The fraternal bond among lumber people no matter what segment they represent, is a real phenomena that a member must experience because it cannot be said."

We Get LETTERS

Dear Cliff:

Please enter my name as seconding the motion to eliminate the office of International Second Vice President. My comments to follow refer only to the position of International Second Vice President and do not apply to the talented, hard-working men who have held this office since its inception.

Since the office of International Second Vice President was created in 1975, I have often wondered about the NEED for this position, particularly within a small organization the size of Hoo-Hoo International. It was indeed unfortunate that the then (1975) vice president was unable to continue to become president (Snark). As Treasurer Bill Russell pointed out, since 1964 three vice presidents did not go on to higher office but in each case Hoo-Hoo international did not suffer, as highly qualified men rose to the occasion and overcame the challenge. Should an office be created to cover possible future disruptions of governing operations as just mentioned? I think not.

Secondly, let's look at the position of First International Vice President. The job functions and descriptions here are poorly defined other than taking over in emergency situations. I've held the office of International Vice President and quite frankly, felt frustrated as to the inactivity of that office. Why do we NEED to have two International V.P.'s when the need for one V.P. is required? In my opinion, the job qualifications of First International Vice President and Chairman need urgent clarification as to job function (Snark Gene - here's a good place for Permanent Membership Chairman you wrote about).

Thirdly, the argument for having a Second International Vice President is that it will give this person added experience to draw upon when he's president (Snark). Not so, if you've been this route, as I have. Your best preparation to become Snark comes with hard work as Jurisdictional Representative (Supreme 9 Member) within your home jurisdiction. If a person is successful as Jurisdictional Director, he will become a successful Snark. No amount of so-called training as Second or First International V.P. will change this basic premise.

In summary, and my opinion, the NEED for having an International Second Vice President has not been demonstrated. What is needed is a clearer job function as First International Vice President. If, and when, future job functions are too much for the First International V.P. to handle, then the NEED for having a Second International V.P. will become a supportable idea. Until that time, we have very little "NEED" for the position of Second International Vice President.

Very truly yours,

Wade P. Cory

Dear Cliff,

Warmest greetings from Colin and Diana Wilson "Down Under". It certainly seems ages since we've seen you and we really miss you all. The saddest part however is that we can't go to Honolulu for the Convention and unless we make the States in 1980 we probably won't see you until Melbourne Convention in 1982. As you may know I am involved here in the Army Reserve (a bird colonel) and I have to attend an important Army conference in September this year. We'll certainly try to make the 1980 convention - I might even nominate for junior vice-president. A year (1982/83) travelling around the Americas as Snark sounds very grand.

The timber industry in Australia is busy and if the tax man would relax his outrageous claims and demands we poor merchants might make a dollar.

All the Hoo-Hoo gang in Brisbane are fighting fit and send best wishes. Our two children are fast growing up (Sue 23 and Craig 20), so we oldies will be "Darby and Joan" soon, free of our strict family responsibilities and ready to travel.

Diana sends her love also and we both hope to see you maybe in 80 and certainly in 82.

Kindest Regards,
Colin Wilson

We regret to inform you that on Wednesday, June 13th, 1979, Mrs. Albina M. Fullmer passed away. She was the wife of Ernest M. Fullmer and Vice-President of Fullmer Lumber Company in Tigard, Oregon. Ernie and Albina have been involved in the lumber industry since 1947.

Fullmer Lumber Company reorganized their slate of officers and they are as follows:

Ernest M. Fullmer, President;
Louie J. Buschbacher, V.P.; Ted D. Fullmer, Secretary and Douglas P. Fullmer, Treasurer.

Dear Cliff:

The Portland Hoo-Hoo Club No. 47 wishes to extend our support to the Great Country of Australia in their effort to host an International Hoo-Hoo Convention. We feel confident that the Portland Hoo-Hoo Club No. 47 will send three to five representatives to the Convention if it is held in Australia. We understand our Brothers in Australia are willing to open their homes to us for our visit. We also understand there will be no registration charge for the Convention. We feel that if we have to spend approximately $2,000.00 per couple to go to Hawaii, we should gladly spent that much to go to Australia.

We should like to present a challenge to all of the clubs in Hoo-Hoo Land. We have three votes at the International Convention; we plan on sending three representatives to support those votes. How many does your club have? How many will you send to Australia? Send a letter to the Snark of the Universe and your Supreme Nine representative. Let's show our Brothers from "Down Under" that we love them and support them as much as they do us.

Dear Cliff, Lois and all the rest of our wonderful Hoo-Hoo friends.

My wife, Marilyn, and I would like to announce the forthcoming marriage of our daughter, Maureen, to Mr. Tom Osborne.

The wedding is planned for the 9th day of the 9th month of 1979 at 1:59 P.M.

Honeymoon to follow in Hawaii.

Tom is the newly elected President of the Detroit Hoo-Hoo Club No. 28, so you can see it will be a Hoo-Hoo wedding all the way through.

We have always been a Hoo-Hoo family and it looks like we will continue to be.

sincerely,
Bob VanEvery L-73186

Dear Cliff:

I was so glad to receive your good letter of June 6th and I'm sorry that so far you have not run into a good Hoo-Hoo to at least match my $100 for a partial payment of the new office copy machine. Maybe the actual partial payment may get someone else to loosen up and help our funding program to succeed.

I consider my own donation tax-deductible as I feel this machine is a necessity when our foundation project gets under way.

I surely am looking forward to meeting you sometime, Cliff. I feel as though I already know you even though we have not actually met. I do know you have meant a lot to Hoo-Hoo. Let me know if you run across someone who will participate in helping to finance the copy machine.

My Warmest regards,
LeRoy H. Stanton, Seer,
Rameses No. 41

Dear Cliff:

In the May issue of the Log & Tally, you will recall, articles were published Pro & Con concerning the office of Second Vice President of Hoo-Hoo International.

The statement by Snark Eugene Zanck has merits. He outlined several reasons why the office should be continued. On the other hand the financial condition of Hoo-Hoo is in the best shape we have been in for several years and I can not disagree with Secretary-Treasurer Bill Russell. As a matter of fact, at the board meeting in El Paso in January I voted to eliminate the office. So, you can see I have mixed emotions about the job.

The reason for this statement is that within the past several weeks I have had phone calls from many sections of the country asking me to consider running for the office of Second Vice President. Some letters placing my name in nomination may be published in this issue so I would like to make my position clear to the membership.

My term of office on the Supreme Nine expires in September and I have been seeking qualified members in Juris Nine to run for my board seat. On the calls I received asking me to run for 2nd V.P. I told them that their request could be moot as the office could be eliminated by a vote of the full membership at the convention in September.

I do not now take a position for or against retaining or eliminating the office. On each call I received they explained "Dick, if the membership votes to retain the office will you agree to have your name placed in nomination". I did agree on the condition that a qualified man was elected to fill my present position on the Supreme Nine.

I hope that my statement does not sway one vote for or against keeping the office. I will vote my convictions in September as you will. I only want the best qualified and hardest working officers available in all of Hoo-Hoo.

Fraternally yours,

Dick Wilson 51796
Jurisdiction 9

Dear Cliff:

It has been a long time since we were in touch with one another. Hope this finds you well and in good spirits.

I am returning the enclosed dues notice for $17.99 because I reluctantly tender my resignation from Hoo-Hoo International because in my retirement with extremely limited income, I am unable to carry on.

My number, 47787, must be one of the lowest in the Roger William Club No. 51 which I helped to bring into the world and whose support I spent hours of service and a considerable amount of money. Until I retired from Weyerhaeuser in 1962, I enjoyed a partial expense account which paid for my Hoo-Hoo dollar outlay.

Until I retired, I enjoyed Hoo-Hoo activities and fellowship to the utmost and it was heartening to me and all concerned, when you took up the late Ben Springer's duties in the secretariat and helped keep this fine organization alive and thriving. More power to you!

At age 75 now and counting, I find myself in a great many volunteer capacities, struggling to keep expenses down. I was awarded the Thomas Jefferson Medal for Lifetime and Outstanding Services in Volunteer capacities for Rhode Island in 1978. It was a pleasure to have been a part of Hoo-Hoo and I'm sorry that I must forego the pleasant associations in future months.

Message from First Veep

A keen moral sense in the fulfillment of your obligations to self and your fellow man, promotes health, happiness and adds years to your term of life, that is what Hoo-Hoo is all about.

Truth, friendship, confidence and cooperation are the basic qualities underlying integrity.

The sole object of Hoo-Hoo is to foster and promote these characteristics. Hoo-Hoo is the soul of lumberdom, to promote true fellowship, "The Brotherhood of Man."

Hoo-Hoo is your biggest building asset. Through its high moral standards it pervades and coordinates the six factors making for success through unity, namely; the employee, the employer, the man from whom you purchase, the customer, the stockholder and the public.

Hoo-Hoo imposes on its members no hardships, no act, motive or belief inconsistent with peace and freedom.

Loyalty to the underlying principles of true manhood is demanded always.

The Hoo-Hoo is loyal to his country, loyal to his fellows, loyal to his product, loyal to his customer, and loyal to the long honored history of the lumber industry.

The impressive history of the lumber industry dates from the beginning of the human race, when man first used wood to build shelter and make his tools. It is fitting that members of the lumber industry maintain and continue this history with the respect reflected in the character description of the "International Order of Hoo-Hoo."

Hoo-Hoo is the most powerful influence in the entire lumber industry, in the matter of extending acquaintance, building good will and "making lasting friendships."

Hoo-Hoo is the only organization in existence bringing all branches of the lumber industry together.

Message from Second Veep

As the sun starts to settle on another Hoo-Hoo year and as I look back on my many experiences, I realize there have been many things that will keep my enthusiasm in Hoo-Hoo at an all time high for a long time to come.

The one thing that gives me the greatest satisfaction this year was the chartering of the new Saginaw Valley Hoo-Hoo Club No. 246. The club, as the name implies, is located in the Saginaw Valley in central lower Michigan. It is not far from the cities of Flint, Saginaw and Bay City. This area, according to Matt Lewis, has a lumbering background and was once known as the lumber capital of the world.

Charter Night was on July 19th in the historic and famous little town of Frankenmuth, centrally located between the three cities. Much credit for the chartering of this club must go to Deputy Supreme Nine Member Jim Riley of the Detroit Club. Jim has put countless hours of work on this project. Thank you, Jim.

In my previous reports I have tried to pass along any useful information I have learned over the years in Hoo-Hoo. My suggestion to you at this time is regarding the selection and election of your new club officers. One of the greatest factors in club success is the club's choice of officers. I believe it is the duty of the Nominating Committee to consider the assets of your future leaders for determining his potential for elective office.

I would like to suggest the following guidelines.

1.) A desire to serve in a position of leadership and accept responsibility.

2.) His understanding of Hoo-Hoo gathered through active participation in various club functions.

3.) Possesses the personal qualities of leadership and has some background in supervision.

4.) Willingness to work with others and provide motivation to

Report from Juris. I

Jurisdiction I has been very active since my last report. I had the opportunity to go to Washington D.C. to participate with Snark Zanck in the presentation of an Honorary Membership in Hoo-Hoo International to Congressman Don Claussen from California for his efforts on behalf of the Forest Products Industry. Thanks to George and Bill Dockeray, club officers of Washington, D.C. Club No. 99 for being our congenial hosts.

At the time that I was in Washington, the Western Massachusetts Club No. 59 held its first official function in over two years as some 40 Hoo-Hoo journeyed to Boston to take in a Red Sox Baseball game. Dr. Harold Gatslick deserves a word of thanks for getting this club back on its feet once again.

Jim Jones, International 1st Vice President, came to Boston in early June where some of the past presidents of the Boston Club No. 13 and Joe Kuczynski from the New Hampshire Club No. 107 had an informal dinner meeting and discussed Hoo-Hoo in general.

make club projects productive and enjoyable.

5.) Ability to visualize the task, develop methods accomplishing a goal and see the task through to completion.

6.) Available time and energy required to perform the task without impairing his efficiency as an employer or employee.

Remember - enthusiasm is highly contagious. It is born in club projects and heightened by meaningful club meetings. In a club where these are absent, lethargy has or is about to set in.

Emerson once wrote, "Every great and commanding moment in the annals of the world is the triumph of some enthusiasm."

What a fine blend! A mixture of leadership and enthusiasm. It is the golden elixir for involvement.

Report from Juris. II

I am happy to report that things in Jurisdiction II are going very well. Our paid membership is close to last year and by year's end should exceed the 1978 total. All clubs have been active with meetings and concats. The Detroit Club has had a most

On June 11th I returned to New Hampshire for that club's annual Clambake. This club is to be congratulated on two points....They have named this annual event after Harold Littlefield, one of the old time members of the New Hampshire club and a prime mover in Hoo-Hoo for over 50 years. Harold passed away early this spring. Secondly, the New Hampshire Club now has passed the 100 mark in paid members. Congratulations! to the officers and directors for a job well done.

On June 16th, the past presidents of the Harry L. Folsom Hoo-Hoo Club of Boston sponsored a cookout. At that time my father, Tom Mullen No. 43886, was presented a LIFE membership in Hoo-Hoo International. He joined Hoo-Hoo in 1929. Although he has never held office in Hoo-Hoo he has been a big supporter of Hoo-Hoo in general and the Boston club in particular. He has been active in the lumber business for 55 years and founded his own business in Sudbury, Mass. about 25 years ago.

Also at this cookout, it was announced that the Boston Club has well over 300 paid members. Super job, Boston! Thanks!

As I wind down my first year as the Nine, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the officers and directors of the clubs in Jurisdiction I for their cooperation. I look forward to your support as I run for a two-year term as your representative at the Convention in September. See you in Hawaii!

successful membership drive bringing their total membership to over 200. Congratulations!

We attended a great Concat in Erie, Pennsylvania accompanied by Jim Flury, and Mike Justinger from the Buffalo Club No. 71. Mead Carlson is now Deputy Supreme Nine and Secretary/Treasurer. Speaking of Concats, Andy Gich of the Pittsburg, NY club has promised to organize and hold a Concat on September 26th. Members of the Pittsburg Club please note and look for kittens!

Deputy Supreme Nine member Jim Riley got together an organizational meeting for Flint, Michigan area and will have a charter meeting soon. Thanks, Jim.

Another new club is about to be formed in the Syracuse, N.Y. area. The charter meeting will be held on July 23rd. Thanks for this one must go to Rochester, N.Y. Club. All members have worked on it.

In early June, Jurisdiction II had a most successful get-together in Niagara Falls, Ontario. Forty-four attended the Saturday night banquet. Members from Detroit, Toronto, Rochester, Buffalo and the Embryo Syracuse Club were on hand. . . . Our 2nd V.P. Bob VanEvery suggested this should be an annual meeting and offered to work on next year for a Jurisdiction meeting at Greenfield Village in Michigan.

At this meeting we held a most productive "brain-storming" session and I will, in my next report, fill you in on the many ideas that were brought forth.

In closing, I wish to go on record as being in favor of keeping a 2nd V.P. in Hoo-Hoo International. Bob VanEvery has shown very clearly how useful and important this office can be. The question of keeping or eliminating this office will be brought before the delegates at the convention. If you will be in attendance, I urge you to vote to keep the office.

Hope to see many of you in Hawaii!

Report from Juris. VI

Last December I attended Sacramento Hoo-Hoo Club No. 109 Ladies Night and Casino Night. Then in January we again visited the Sacramento Hoo-Hoo Club with the Snark of the Universe, Gene Zanck. It was Speakers Night, and the speaker's subject was "The Importance of Rare II to the Lumber Industry." Our next stop was Redding and the Concat held by the Shasta-Cascade Hoo-Hoo Club No. 133. I also participated on the Degree Team.

On February 17, 1979 I met with the members of the Honolulu Hoo-Hoo Club No. 142 at their Ladies Nite Dinner Dance, and was informed of their plans for the 87th Annual Convention under the direction of Nagao Yamada, chairman. They are planning an excellent convention! The interest throughout Jurisdiction VI is very great for this event, which will be held September 15-19, 1979.

The Crab Feed put on by Humboldt Hoo-Hoo Club No. 63 always has a tremendous turnout, and also there was no shortage of crab this year. This event took place March 1st at the Elks Club in Eureka.

In March I attended "Old Timers Night" at the Oakland Hoo-Hoo Club No. 39. Several "old timers" from the Oakland area were present, including Emanuel Fritz L-32837. He is 94 years old and joined Hoo-Hoo in 1923. He, of course, knew Bolling Arthur Johnson Rameses No. 1 personally. Emmanuel had a few anecdotes to tell club members regarding the founder of Hoo-Hoo.

On April 6, I returned to Oakland and enjoyed Hoo-Hoo Club No. 39's 48th Annual Reville. It was well attended, and evidence the interest in the Oakland Club is growing.

On May 15 the Oakland Club had scheduled a concat. Unfortunately, this was at the time the gas lines were the longest in the Bay Area, and as a result the concat had to be postponed due to the fact so many members and kittens were unable to attend. The club plans to hold a concat later this year.

I met with the Redwood Memorial Grove Committee on May 21, including the Snark of the Universe, Gene Zanck. It was a delightful day, and a great inspiration to visit the Hoo-Hoo Memorial Grove. It was certainly one of the nicest groves in the area, and one in which all Hoo-Hoo members should try to visit. The Hoo-Hoo Grove is located in Prairie Creek State Park, which was to be taken over and become part of the Redwood national Park; however, a decision was recently made to leave Prairie Creek State Park in the park system and not make it a part of the Redwood National Park. I believe this is an advantage to the Hoo-Hoo Club, as the state forest rangers are very gracious and cooperative in making arrangements to visit the grove.

On May 21 in the evening, the Snark of the Universe, Gene Zanck, and the members of the Redwood Grove Committee, Al Kerper, Roy Dunbar, Jimmy Jones, First Vice President, Hoo-Hoo International, and I met with the Board of Directors of the Humboldt Hoo-Hoo Club No. 63, and had a very excellent interchange of ideas to promote Hoo-Hoo International. We believe as a result of this meeting there will be several reinstatements in the near future from this area.

On May 25 the San Joaquin Valley Hoo-Hoo Club No. 31 held their Concat, at which time 13 kittens were initiated.

Several clubs in Jurisdiction VI still have concats scheduled before the end of the Hoo-Hoo year. We believe that when the figures are all in, Jurisdiction VI will show a substantial increase in the number of members this year.

On July 20 the San Joaquin Hoo-Hoo Club No. 31 will have their annual Coast Frolic at the San Luis Bay Inn. This event is drawing larger crowds every year. It provides a nice weekend for the members and their wives, as well as a golf tournament.

Report from Juris. IX

About the best thing that happened in this jurisdiction since my last report was the reactivation of the Tampa Bay Club No. 225. ;I know that with the leadership they elected they will be one of the best clubs in Florida.

Our next move in Florida is on Jacksonville. They have about 15 to 18 paid members in the Jacksonville area but have not been meeting on a regular basis. We hope to improve the membership and to get the club meeting on a regular basis.

All five Hoo-Hoo clubs in Florida will come together during the Florida Lumber & Building Material Dealers Convention in Orlando on September 18, 19 and 20th. They will all be talking Hoo-Hoo, bringing in new members and holding a Con-Cat during the convention.

We still have plenty of work to do in Juris 9. Several clubs need to be activated. I will be working on this until I see you at our convention in Honolulu.

Dick Wilson 51796
Jurisdiction 9

We are also looking forward to the Los Angeles area Four Club meeting, which will be held on August 10. A Golf Tournament and joint meeting of Inland Empire Club No. 117, Orange County Club No. 234, Los Angeles Club No. 2 and San Diego Club No. 3 are planned. The Snark of the Universe, Gene Zanck, also plans to attend this meeting.

We are looking forward to a great convention in September. Aloah!

Fraternally,

"HOW TO RAISE KITTENS"

Give them something to do during their first year in Hoo-Hoo. This will help them feel that they are a part of our organization.

Have the kitten understand that the initiation is merely the first part of his becoming a member. The second part is serving his "kittyship", much the same as a doctor serves an internship for a year or two following his graduation. During their "kittyship" a kitten can and should be asked to do certain things for the club. Examples are selling raffle tickets, writing a news release, picking up another member for his meeting and most important of all, signing up two additional members during his "kittyship".

Put the kittens on your meeting call list. Assign members to each kitten to call for each meeting thereby affording the kitten the opportunity to meet other members in his club.

Most important of all, keep introducing yourself to new kittens so that they continue to feel important to your club. Ask a kitten to sit next to you at your next meeting. Better yet, bring a kitten to your next meeting.

Front Cover Pictures Needed

Second VP Bob Van Every has suggested we use more pictures of club activities for our front cover as we did last fall when we featured a tree planting ceremony. This can be done if the club will send an 8x10 picture taken with a good camera. Blow-ups of snapshots taken by Brownies or other small cameras just do not turn out well for front cover use. Your club can make the front cover of our magazine if you send us a good picture of an interesting club project or function. This can result in added publicity for your club if you will but take the time to send Cliff a worthwhile picture of a noteworthy activity by your club.

SUGGESTED CLUB ACTIVITIES

Our members have asked for an exchange of club activities. A brief outline of these activities is as follows:

FUND RAISING ACTIVITIES —

The Vancouver B.C. Club sponsors an annual drawing that has a grand prize of $5,000.00. Tickets to this dinner party sell for $60.00 each with ticket sales limited to 350. The club grosses several thousands on this function each year. Specific details can be obtained by contacting the Vancouver B.C. club. They also sponsor an annual "ladies night" in October with ticket sales limited to paid-up members. This latter affair is used to get members to pay their dues early. It's my understanding the club made between $500.00 and $1,000.00 on this ladies night function. Tickets to the ladies function sell for $70.00 per couple and include libation and dinner. Each lady's name is posted on a board with the first drawn receiving $100.00 and every 10th name thereafter receiving $70.00. The grand prize at the ladies night is $500.00. The last lady's name drawn receives the $500.00. Side wagers between the ladies as to whose name is drawn first adds interest to the party.

Auction. An auction has made several clubs as much as $4,000.00. Participating dealers and wholesalers donate their "cats and dogs" to the auction with the understanding that they are to receive 50% of the sale after the auction expenses have been deducted. In other words, if the auction grosses $10,000.00 and advertising and auctioneer's expenses amount to $2,000.00, the $8,000.00 net is split between the club and the firms donating the material. Donated material is auctioned directly off of supplier trucks which arrange themselves in a circle at a pre-determined shopping center or other convenient location that generates a lot of traffic. Shopping centers are receptive to this type of promotion. Newspaper and radio advertising is also essential for the success of the auction.

Pin Count. In a pin count fund raising activity, a kitten or other member wearing his Hoo-Hoo pin is appointed by the president to check all members at a meeting to see that they are wearing their button. Members not wearing Hoo-Hoo identification are usually fined $1.00 for this omission.

Meeting Raffle. At each meeting, the club purchases a suitable door prize such as a bottle, Hoo-Hoo tie, belt buckle, etc., with the item being raffled off that night through the sale of raffle tickets. The prize can also be donated by a member firm.

Golf Outings. Many clubs use a golf outing as a primary source of funds. Details of this can be obtained by writing the Eugene Oregon, Medford Oregon or other clubs utilizing the golf outing for fund raising.

Turkey Shoot. This type of fund raising activity consists of usually shooting clay pigeons with the best shots receiving appropriate prizes of frozen turkey. Refreshments and sandwiches are usually included with the registration fee.

Turkey Trot. This function utilizes live turkeys and a pre-numbered floor area utilized for wagering purposes. Turkey droppings indicate the winning number plus the awarding of several live turkeys at the end of the evening make this function an interesting one. The N. Cascade can be contacted for further details.

50/50 raffle. 2,000 tickets are sold at $1.00 a piece and when sale is completed, a $1,000.00 prize is given to the winner. Sometimes the $1,000.00 is broken down into 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes so that more members have a chance to win something. The remaining $1,000.00 is kept by the club. The Washington D.C. Club can supply more information on this if necessary.

Hoo-Hoo Advertising. The club operations manual describes in detail our policy in selling space in the Log & Tally. Space sold by a club is subject to a commission for the club.

Local Club Advertising. Space on the club's monthly mailing or news release can be sold. The Washington D.C. Clubs sells their 37-40 spaces for $50.00 a year each. The money derived from this income is used to defray the club's convention expenses. Special letters of interest are stuffed in their folded news letter containing the ads. Again, Washington D.C. Club will be glad to send you additional information about this.

Lumber Grading School. The Portland Oregon Club has successfully conducted 3 grading schools at a profit to the club. Again, the Portland Club will be more than happy to send you information concerning this item.

Convention Raffle. The Houston Club developed a convention raffle for the purpose of increasing attendance at their meeting. It was highly successful in 1978 in that 10 members won travel packages to the Toronto Convention. To be eligible for the final drawing, members are required to be in attendance and purchase tickets at a high percentage of the meetings. This program is highly successful and you should contact the Houston Club for final details.

Dues Collection. Operational costs of running clubs are usually met through the collection of both local and International dues. Most clubs add from $5.00 to $10.00 to the International dues and keep the difference for running the club. It also keeps members in good standing with International.

Proposed By-laws Changes

At the International Board of Directors Meeting in El Paso, Texas on January 20, 1979, the following was accomplished:

A motion was made, seconded and carried to change

Article I of the Articles of Incorporation from "The name of this corporation shall be International Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo." to "INTERNATIONAL CONCATENATED ORDER OF HOO-HOO dba (doing business as) HOO-HOO INTERNATIONAL and-or INTERNATIONAL ORDER OF HOO-HOO"

A motion was made, seconded and carried to eliminate the office of the International Second Vice President.

In accordance with Article XVIII of the International By-laws, the paid membership in Hoo-Hoo International is notified of the above proposed by-laws changes at least 60 days prior to the 1979 convention.

SERVICE RELATED ACTIVITIES —

The Sacramento Club operates a blood bank for the benefit of its members. This is easily arranged through your local Red Cross or blood bank center.

Scholarships. Several clubs offer yearly scholarships to deserving forestry students. The Fresno Club gives away a $2,000.00 scholarship every year.

High School Woodworking Contests. More and more clubs are utilizing a high school woodworking contest as a service function for the club. Details of this can be found in the operations manual or by contacting the Spokane or Toronto Clubs.

Model Home. It's possible for a local club to work with a vocational school in the building of a model home. This can also be utilized as a fund raising activity for the club if the local lumber dealers are willing to cooperate in that fashion. Don Knecht of the Rapid City Club can furnish more information relative to this item.

Speaker's Bureau. The Spokane Club has successfully offered the services of a speaker's bureau to local grade schools, high schools and professional organizations. Forestry films and slides presented by Hoo-Hoo members enhance the interest in this work.

MISCELLANEOUS SERVICE WORK

Wooden fences erected around hospital swimming pools, picnic benches for convalescent homes, forestry signs and other wood related projects can all be successfully accomplished by clubs wanting to do these things. It usually involves some good healthy outdoor work and can result in positive publicity for the local club.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

An interesting drawing used as an inducement to encourage attendance has been successfully utilized by the Northwestern Montana Club. A small donation of 50¢ or $1.00 is made by each member attending a meeting. A member's name is then drawn from the club's paid membership file and if the member is in attendance, the funds collected are sent to his wife with a letter of congratulations. In the event the member is absent, the funds are carried over to the next meeting and a letter of condolence is sent to the absent member's wife advising her how much money she would have won had her husband attended the designated Hoo-Hoo meeting. Needless to say, attendance at the meeting increases in proportion to the size of the pot available.

Life memberships are also raffled off as an inducement to encourage meeting attendance. The Shasta-Cascade Club utilizes this form of raffle.

Beer-Crab feed and style show. The Spokane Club has successfully sponsored this function in early December. It offers all the beer you can drink and crab you can eat, plus chances on several evening gowns. The style show is pre-arranged with a cooperating boutique which provides models to show evening gowns, swim wear, sport clothes, dresses and other attractive women's apparel. This is a good type of meeting to bring in non-members, because it's an enjoyable occasion.

MISCELLANEOUS SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Clam bake, stag fish fry, Valentine party, Christmas party, club picnic, past president's night, race track trip and mystery night are but a few other social activities successfully put on by many clubs. The trend has been away from stag functions, even though several clubs still successfully sponsor this type of activity. Our increased membership shows that clubs with good programs and clubs that include the wives in several activities during the year, have stable membership and operate successfully year after year.

Our Hoo-Hoo promotion brochure entitled "What Makes a Club Go" should be must reading for each officer. It contains many additional helpful hints on club activities and how to run a club.

There was also a visit to the Hampton Roads Club No. 154 in Hampton Roads, Virginia. Although the Snark arrived at a time when there was no club activity, the Club President, Robert E. Hayes, managed to get the Club's directors together for a noon luncheon.

Rapid City, South Dakota was also on the agenda of our traveling Snark. This club, dormant for a number of months, was recently re-activated with the help of Cliff Taylor, Supreme Nine Member, and Keith Danley's Secretary. The Rapid City Club was founded in 1941 and was chartered as the West River Club No. 113. We'll hear more from that club as time goes by.

On this same swing through the west, Snark Zanck visited the Sioux Valley Club No. 118 of Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Our Snark had a nice visit and joined a meeting of the Club Officers and Directors.

Gurdon, Arkansas, the birthplace of Hoo-Hoo, was next on the agenda. The Snark was joined there by Louis Cabe, of the Gurdon Club, Gary Hester, Supreme Nine Member, and Rameses No. 70 Lauren Champ.

As the front cover of this magazine tells you, Snark Zanck went to Washington, D.C. to make a presentation to Congressman Don Claussen, but he was met by members of the Washington, D.C. Club No. 99 and was entertained in the home of George Dockeray and even found the time for a game of golf while there.

Then came the Idaho Logger's Fair, and a big attraction this is. There were all kinds of logging contests to watch, and Snark Gene was met by the North Idaho Club Veep Keith Olson, N.W. Montana Club President Lum Owens, and Women in Timber President Susan Frei. Susan Frei and Gene Zanck were guests speakers at this function.

The Snake River Valley Club No. 185 was recently reactivated and Snark Gene went there April 15th to attend their first concat since reactivation. The club is located in Boise, Idaho. The club brought seven new members into our great Order. There was also another concat held by the club on June 14th.

This brings to a close (almost) Mr. Zanck's travels for the year. He has been a hard-working Snark and deserves a lot of credit.

San Diego Club No. 3

San Diego, Calif.

San Diego Hoo-Hoo Club No. 3 recently completed its 13th Annual Architectural Design Contest. The purpose of this annual competition is to provide architectural design students in the San Diego area with the opportunity to develop their creative abilities, and to explore and achieve a high level of design excellence utilizing wood products. The contest is open to community college students and is judged by a panel of local architects.

Every other year the contest alternates between commercial and residential problems for the students' benefit, allowing a two year student to have a completely different design a small retail lumber facility which would provide "an exciting and functional place to serve retail customers as well as contractors."

A well attended awards dinner was jointly held May 17th by Hoo-Hoo Club No. 3 and the San Diego Lumber and Wood Products Association, co-sponsor of the event. The evening affairs were ably presided over by fellow Hoo-Hoo, William S. Cowling, Jr. (No. 63821 Dixieline Lumber Co.), current president of SDL&WPA.

First, second, and third place certificates were presented to the winners by Ralph Smith (Boise Cascade), G.T. Frost, Jr. (No. 83698 Frost Hardwood Lumber), and Henry Neely (No. 83705 Bendix Forest Products), along with cash awards of $300, $150, and $75 respectively.

Houston

Club No. 23

Houston, Texas

The Houston Hoo-Hoo Club No. 23 had its regular meeting on April 26th at the Memorial Plaza Holiday Inn. The cocktail sponsor for the evening was Block Wholesale, and the guest speaker was Mr. Guido Merkins, a member of the Houston Oiler Specialty team.

Guido showed two highlight films of the Oiler's play-off games, and after the meeting we had an open discussion on the past, present and future goals of the Houston Oilers Organization.

There were 64 members and guests present, which isn't too bad. Paul Cagle won a $10 door prize; Roy Reid won a $10 door prize and Mark Sensat won the $30 door prize.

On May 24th, the Houston Club had another meeting at the Memorial Plaza Holiday Inn. The guest speaker for that evening was Mr. Rex Spencer of the Texas Forestry Association. The cocktail sponsor was Seaboard International, out of New Hyde Park, New York.

There were only 41 members present for this meeting, but it was well presented and well received.

A cash prize of $10 was won by Solly Moglovkin; a $20 prize went to Tom Fair, and a $30 prize went to Roy Reed who also won a prize the month before.

Then on June 7th came Club No. 23's most looked-forward to meeting of the year - the Spring Golf Tournament. The tournament was held at the Inwood Country Club, and trophies were awarded for four main categories - 1.) low gross members 2.) low gross guests 3.) low net members and 4.) low net guests.

Bruce Woods won the low gross for members with a fine 78. The longest drive was recorded by Keith Watts and the closest to the hole honors were taken by Gerald Walker.

The Grand Prize (Color T.V.) was won by Kirby Herndon. There were 210 members and guests for dinner, and we had 135 members and guests playing golf.

1.) A. W. Harris and Roy Cummins 2.) John Johnson and speaker Guido Merkins 3.) Tim McCarthy 4.) Mike Barringer and Bill Compton 5.) Chuck Baas, Gary Hester and John Kelly 6.) Chris Gogg 7.) Sig sigur and Joe Jaramillo 8.) Fritz Lee and Ken Rosenberger 9.) President Mel Allen.

1.) Bill Frank & Bill Russell 2.) John Cornell and Harry Herndon 3.) Speaker Rex Spencer and Leonard Craig 4.) Mark VanSickle, David Tschatschulla and Rick Moore.

Leonard Craig was the program chairman and he had help from Mark VanSickle, Bob Ridley and Bill Compton.

There were 210 members and guests for dinner, and we had 135 members and guests playing golf.

Sacramento

Club No. 109

Sacramento, Calif.

April 21st, 1979 saw the local Sacramento Hoo-Hoo Club No. 109 off to the wine country for an extended tour. We gathered at 8:30 AM and left the parking lot on a bus at 9:00 AM. It was Saturday. The bus arrived at Domaine Chandon winery about 10:30 AM. This winery bottles only champagne, so it was a good place to start!

We visited another winery before lunch and then a swell picnic lunch at the St. Helena City Park. One more winery in the afternoon was enough for most of us, so we headed home arriving back in Sacramento about 6:00 PM.

The tour was arranged by one of our members, Gene Patterson, who has done this same thing many times and everything went like clockwork.

Sincerely,

Dick Kidder 68569

Willamette Valley Club #33 Eugene, Oregon

Friday, June 8th was the day the Willamette Valley Hoo-Hoo Club No. 33 set aside for their 38th Annual Golf Tournament and gab fest. This has been the case for 37 years, hence the event was held at the Eugene Golf & Country Club, one of the most prestigious courses in the Northwest. (site of the 1978 NCAA Tournament).

Terry Hickson chaired this year's tournament, and despite this fact the event was another great success. Certainly Terry can take a little kidding. Anyone that can run a business, take tee-time for 230 people (and four times that many 'phone calls), prod the board members to get out and gather more prize money than ever before, and still arrive (a little bleary-eyed) in time to greet the first foursome at 5:30 A.M., has got to have an undaunted sense of responsibility plus a good sense of humor.

One hazardous event after another jeopardized the success of the tournament. First and foremost had to be the closing of Eugene's only airport for the week preceding the event.

The chipping contest on the porch was, once again, the afternoon highlight. It was a good time - that is until a ringer from Bend, Oregon by the name of Franz Miller finished his golf round and decided to terrorize the chipping contest. He won, but he spent a few bucks doing it! (You may be able to detect that this writer wanted to win the T.V. set!)

The prize winners??? 1st low gross, Franz Miller; S. Schadoma and E. Holmes.

First Calloway was W. Moore; 2nd B. Duch; 3rd, T. Carstensen and 4th, V. Stout.

On May 18th, from the sound of the gunfire around Cottage Grove, Oregon, you couldn't have blamed the local folks if they had thought WW III had begun in their back yards. In truth, it was nothing more than the Willamette Valley Club having their annual trap-shoot and crab feed. More than 60 members and guests had a blast and dined on dungeness crab with all the trimmings. John DeMarco, Jr., and Terry Hickson were co-chairmen for the event, and there were, once again, a lot of winners.

Terry Hickson and John DeMarco, Jr. finished 1st and 2nd in the experienced class; Ron Guard and Gene Klohs finished 1st and 2nd in the intermediate class, and Don Hudock finished 1st in the novice class.

Gene Klohs misses a close one (naturally) at Club No. 33's trap-shoot.

These are just a few of the shots taken at the annual golf tournament of the Willamette Valley Hoo-Hoo Club this spring. Over 230 golfers turned out for the occasion, which was one of the club's better turnouts.

Granite State Hoo-Hoo Clambake Honors Littlefield

The weather on Monday, June 11 was perfect for a clambake and the large turnout of lumbermen at the 32nd Annual Outing & Clambake of the Granite State Hoo-Hoo Club No. 107 attested to the fact.

Held as usual at Simpson's Pavilion, Dover Point, Durham, New Hampshire, the Popular summer gathering is now named the Harold Littlefield Memorial, honoring the veteran lumberman who ran it for so many years. Harold passed away this year on April 21 and his presence was sadly missed by his many friends in the industry.

The Granite State Hoo-Hoo Club No. 107, held their Annual concat on March 26 at the Yard Restaurant in Londonderry, N.H. Eleven new "kittens" were initiated into the lumberman's fraternal organization with the help of the famed Harry L. Folsom Club of Boston's Degree Team.

The new members are Doug Belanger, Ray Canton, Mario DeCarlis, Bruce Faut, Al Hill, Rod Jablonski, Rod Pahl, Jerry Rivet, Clark Smith, Peter Steer and Tony Trubiano. The Granite State Club now has over 100 members and is growing by leaps and bounds.

The Club has set June 11, 1979 as the date for the Annual Clambake at Simpson's Grove, Durham, N.H. Under the direction of Harold Littlefield, this event is the highlight of the year for the club with over 200 people usually attending. In the past two years, Snarks of the Universe have attended and, hopefully, this year's Snark will also be present.

Club No. 13
Boston, Mass.

June 16th was a big day for the Boston Club No. 13. It was the night of the annual past president's cook-out for members and their wives.

About 70 couples turned out for a most enjoyable summer evening of fun, dinner and dancing. Cocktails were served on the porch of the Prospect Hill Ski Lodge in Waltham, Mass. with lots of warm sunshine in the early evening. After the cocktail hour, Tom Mullen 43886, center, displays his 50-year certificate and his LIFE membership card. He is flanked by his son, Richard (left) and Bill Cotting, President of the Boston Club No. 13.

The First Annual Maine Hoo-Hoo All-Industry Outing will be held at the Beautiful Sebasco Estates, Maine (near Bath, Maine) on Thursday, September 13, 1979.

A very special committee of Retailers, Wholesalers and Manufacturers has worked diligently to develop a program of enjoyable activities which will promote a spirit of conviviality and comradery amongst all members of our great industry.

we went inside for a COMPLETE barbecued chicken dinner with all the trimmings. It was fantastic!

After dinner we pushed the tables back and danced to Disco music furnished by a friend who brought along about $12,000 worth of record equipment, blinking lights and amplifiers. The music went on for several hours until we were all exhausted. It was a fun night and everyone present enjoyed himself tremendously.

It is worthy of note that Emile Bernard and his wife made the trip down from Manchester, New Hampshire to enjoy the fun. We can always count on Emile!

Vancouver
Club #48
Vancouver, BC Canada

Chris Potter, reporting for the Vancouver Club No. 48, tells us that on April 19th the club held its annual concat and stag night at the Sir Walter Raleigh Restaurant in downtown Vancouver.

"We had twenty-four kittens," said Chris, "ready and willing to experience what every Hoo-Hoo member has had to endure, namely, to be led gently through all the heartwarming stages of concatenation!!"

The proprietor of the restaurant let us take over the entire place for the evening and also provided us with an excellent prime rib dinner with all the trimmings. A word of appreciation should be said here for the staff of the "Sir Walter Raleigh" who served us promptly and with a great deal of good humor.

Master of ceremonies was Mike Woodworth of Barnett Timber who did a first rate job of reading out the introductions and calling in the kittens.

Programme Chairman was Joe Gosse who should get a special vote of thanks for doing such a peach of a job on, lining up a programme of activities for the evening's entertainment.

On June 20th, 1979, Club No. 48 held its Annual Golf Tournament at Greenacres Golf Club in Richmond, B.C.

As usual we had an excellent turn out with 108 golfers teeing off on a bright sunny morning, with a light breeze which made for a perfect day of golfing.

In the evening we all went to the Airport Inn, Vancouver, where we were served a superb meal, after which the prizes were awarded.

This year the directors of Club No. 48, decided that it would be fitting to show our club's appreciation to Hoo-Hoo Director Ted Pratt who has arranged our Golf Tourney, every year since about 1966.

1.) Dick Poustie, Chris Waters & Ted Pratt 2.) Bob Hoddar, Jr., Bill Lewis & Orville Brown 3.) A fine foursome here 4.) Bob Hoddar, Sr. 5.) Frank White and David Miles 6.) Earl Wilcox, and 3 mutilated balls. 7.) Our gold organizer, Ted Pratt 8.) Gene Mulder and Earl. Wilcox.

We therefore created a new trophy called "Ted Pratt Trophy" which will be awarded every year to the "Low Net For A Paid Up Hoo-Hoo Member."

As Ted always gives out the prizes, he had the opportunity of presenting his own trophy to the first ever winner who was Jim Porcellato, of Landucci Lumber Company.

Prizes & Trophies as Follows:

- Low Gross - Jim Porcellato, Score 67 wins "Simon Saw Trophy"
- Low Net - Ross McCutcheon - Wins "Wray Clark Trophy"
- Closest to Pin - Jim Porcellato & Bob Elliott (2 Holes)
- Longest Drive - Jim Porcellato & Pete Maddison (2 Holes)

As special mention here for the SECOND LOW GROSS - TIM BRADSHAW with a 72 and tied for THIRD LOW GROSS was IAN SHOPLAND & BILL RAFTER with 73.

THE CLUB SCROLL

Another way to keep kittens attending meetings is to select certain kittens as Keepers of the club scroll. The club scroll is put in an appropriate wooden box as pictured and presented at the end of the concat to a selected kitten. This kitten is pledged to secrecy by repeating the following:

"I _____ (name) _____, solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of Keeper of the Scroll and will, to the best of my ability and to the limits of my strength, preserve, protect, defend and never repeat the contents of this scroll to anyone, so help me cat."

The kitten is then given custody of the scroll for one month with instructions to bring the scroll to the next club meeting. At that meeting, he is given the key to the lock on the box and permitted to read the scroll. It is locked again and then given to another kitten with the
