WILLIAM A. PRIDDIE (129), Snark of the Universe

ONE of the satisfactory results of postponing the 27th annual meeting is the retaining of Snark Priddie in office for another year. By devoting a large part of his valuable time, and at considerable personal expense in visiting the West Coast and other sections, he has greatly increased the order's strength, and enabled it to overcome unprecedented difficulties during the past year. Now the war is over and, under new conditions, his able leadership will add still further to the future success of Hoo-Hoo.

A QUARTERLY JOURNAL DEVOTED TO HOO-HOO

COOPERATION

A Personal Message from the Snark to You

BROTHER HOO-HOO, you are today rejoicing in the knowledge that Democracy has triumphed over Autoeracy, and feel a supreme satisfaction in knowing, that in the achievement of this great and glorious victory made possible by the tireless and persistent devotion and sacrifice of the allied sons and daughters of freedom, you have done your share.

NOW THAT WE CAN SEE THE DAWNING OF A NEW DAY, when the great forces, who were but yesterday engaged in destroying the evil followers of might above right, can turn their tremendous power into forging the links that will bind the nations of the earth together so they can establish and maintain peace and good will to all mankind. It will be our privilege, in remembering the great lesson that has been taught by this war, to do our utmost to assist the government do its full duty in the work of reconstruction that will now be the lot of everyone to take their share in.

THE LUMBER AND ALLIED INDUSTRIES will have a very prominent and important place in the ranks of those to whom the government will have to look for a full measure of support. Members of Hoo-Hoo, you know what the principles and policies of this organization are. You know that if properly applied they can be of great benefit to the lumber and allied industries in the great work that is to be done. Then, I ask each and every one of you to give Hoo-Hoo a full measure of support, and ask your assistance in developing our great Order so that it can fulfill in the highest sense those living principles of true fraternal brotherhood, and take full advantage of the great opportunity now placed before it.

Fraternally yours,

M. M. M. M. M.

The New Hoo-Hoo Year

On the stroke of the clock at 9:09 a. m. on the 9th day of the 9th month of the year 1918, the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo entered into the twenty-eighth year of its existence. In looking backward over the long trail that the Great Black Prince has blazed through Hoo-Hoo-Land, it is very noticeable that in making the journey he has climbed high hills from which the outlook was one grand panorama of peace and prosperity, but he has also passed through the dark valleys from which the sun of life had been almost excluded and the way grew rough and toilsome. On the ninth day of the ninth month of the year 1916, the Great Black Prince was journeying along one of the darkest and gloomiest trails through which he had ever been forced to travel, but guided by mutual friends he struggled on, and before long saw the bright light of a new day glowing just ahead at a turn in the road. On his twenty-seventh birthday he passed beyond the turn and once more stood on the hilltop of success. Before him ran a new road smooth and straight through pleasant sun-kissed valleys and over hills that reflected the glory of passing days. It is a source of pride and gratification to thousands of loyal Hoo-Hoo to know that by their steadfast support this great organization has been able to accomplish so much during the past three years. By their support Hoo-Hoo has been able to put out a helping hand to the widow and orphan; has been able to bring men engaged in the lumber and allied industries together so they could unite their energies in the one big duty of every citizen, and that is, help win the war. They have brought the realization to hundreds of lumbermen that the fraternal principles of co-operation taught by Hoo-Hoo must be taken advantage of by the whole industry before the goal of commercial co-operation can be reached. So that today, with the valley of the shadows behind him; with the store of wisdom gained by experience of the past, and with an assured path before him, the Great Black Prince can go forward in renewed strength and vigor, fulfilling his destiny in the highest sense by dispensing Health, Happiness and Long Life to all who come in contact with him.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY-TREASURER.

In order to arrive at a correct understanding of our financial and other reports for the past year, it is necessary to take into consideration the unusual conditions which have prevailed during that period. We have had to labor under difficulties that have never been encountered in the history of the Order. It is only when we realize the great obstacles which have been overcome that we can understand what a really splendid record Hoo-Hoo has made. All precedents and comparisons of previous years are useless, as no previous year has had to meet and overcome the great changes in business methods and handicaps imposed on industrial and social activities by reason of war conditions.

During the past year, the industrial life of this nation has been put more and more on a war basis. The lumber and allied industries have had to adjust themselves to conditions that no one connected with them ever thought of having to face. In common with the other elements of the lumber industry, The Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo has had to adjust itself and endeavor to carry on its work in a manner that would harmonize with the great efforts lumbermen and their allied friends are putting forth toward winning the war.

When you take the above into consideration, the record for the past year is one of the best ever presented, of which every member of the Order can be proud.

Financial Report.

Our financial reports show that the policy of keeping the running expenses of Hoo-Hoo on a cash basis has been maintained. In addition to that, we have been able to reduce the balance of $10,500 of the old debt account which was outstanding on Sept. 9, 1917, to $1,833, a reduction of $8,667 during the year. This practically places Hoo-Hoo clear of debt, our monthly bank balance being sufficient to offset the balance still outstanding on bank loan account. The reason why our bank balance has not been used to pay off the balance of the bank loan is that, in order to keep the organization on a safe financial basis, it is imperative that we maintain a balance of at least $1,500 to $2,000 to our credit in the bank. Conditions are so uncertain that if we were to pay out all of this balance it might place us in an awkward financial position. Had it not been for the fact that a large number of our members are on active service (which means that their dues are remitted, and thereby reducing our income to that extent) and also that war conditions have prevented Hoo-Hoo concatenations at numerous points, there is no doubt but what we could have taken care of the balance of the outstanding bank loan last year. Our records show that we have in the neighborhood of two thousand members who are generally dragging along one to two years in arrears on dues account. If these members would keep paid up and in good standing all the time, we could not only avoid having to use borrowed money as capital, but could still further increase our death benefit. The same overhead which it now takes to handle the business affairs of the Order, with very little addition, will take care of an active membership double what it now is and thereby allow us to use the extra income to give our members a larger death benefit.

When you consider that in addition to putting the organization on a cash basis and paying off a total of $16,700 on account of the old inherited debt, we have paid out $12,524 in premiums to the Missouri State Life Ins. Co. in order to maintain our death benefit, you can readily realize what wonderful progress this organization has made during the past three years. No other fraternal order in the country can make anything like an equal financial showing during that period. Where others have gone into the hole, during these war times, we have come out and are stronger and better than ever.

The Bulletin.

During the past year, the cost of printing and paper has increased to such an extent that we have had to continue our policy of publishing The Bulletin only quarterly and also holding it down to the smallest possible size. The government has also requested that every care be taken to conserve print paper, so that, under these conditions, we will have to continue The Bulletin as a quarterly, and try so far as possible to confine each issue to strictly Hoo-Hoo news.

The Death Benefit.

Our death benefit has proven to be one of the most successful policies ever adopted by this organization. It has now been in operation two and one-half years and our records prove beyond question of doubt that through this benefit the paid up members of Hoo-Hoo have been able to be of real practical assistance to the bereaved dependents of deceased members. Occasionally we receive a letter from a delinquent Hoo-Hoo, stating he does not need the benefit and that as he is not able to attend meetings in his immediate neighborhood he does not see the need of paying dues. If every lumberman were to take the same selfish viewpoint, there certainly would not be much need for Hoo-Hoo or for any other kind of a fraternal order. In fact, if all men took such a purely personal stand, this would indeed be a mighty poor place to live in. It is only by service to others that we can secure genuine service for ourselves. It is quite true that our benefit is small and that a large number of our members have secured ample protection for their own dependents, but those who have protection must remember that there are others who, on account of physical disability, are unable to get any insurance. Hundreds of others can carry only limited amounts. Our records show that in a majority of cases, when death comes to a member, that the cash on hand is very low, and even if there is some insurance it takes considerable time to collect it. As our claim is paid just as soon as proof of death is sent in, it means that there is some cash on hand to tide over a very trying period. One hundred dollars may not look very much to the average member, but to the scanty purse of a bereaved widow it is a real help. It therefore ought to give every member who has kept himself in good standing a feeling of satisfaction to know that by doing so, he has enabled Hoo-Hoo to live up to the highest ideals of the Order. It is not so much the size of a gift as the spirit in which it is given, and as our death benefit is given to members without medical examination, and is paid out to their dependents as soon as possible, with the sole idea of being a real practical friend in time of need, every member can know that even if he does not require the benefit, by keeping in good standing he is doing something worth while for others.

There is another feature about our death benefit that some members overlook and it is this, that in the event of his death his family will receive back from Hoo-Hoo more than he ever put into the Order, thus making his dues payments a first-class investment.

Work of the Year.

Following out the duties of the Secretary-Treasurer as prescribed in our by-laws, I have during the year visited a large number of the different vicegerencies. One of the most important trips made was in company with Snark Priddle to the West Coast, including California, Oregon, Washington and Montana. It is with genuine pleasure that I acknowledge the wonderful reception given the Snark and myself on this trip. In all my Hoo-Hoo experience I have never before so fully realized the depth and strength of the real genuine friendship created among lumbermen by this organization. Our California members especially have taken full advantage of the opportunities given them as members of this Order, and as a result the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo is looked upon as the leader in lumber organizations of that state.

In addition to the West Coast I have visited the South East, where I found very much the desire to build up influence of this Order. A great deal of active work started, but war conditions have, however, stepped in and prevented the carrying out of many plans which have been formulated. A number of our most active workers have gone on active service. Others who had hoped to be able to devote considerable time to Hoo-Hoo found that owing to the shortage of labor and the great need of doing everything possible to get out government lumber orders, it was simply impossible to find time for anything else. As a result, we have had to rest content with holding our own in a number of important vicegerencies. In other places, however, our Vicegerents have taken advantage of the opportunity given them by Hoo-Hoo and have used the organization to get the members in their districts together and help the government put through the various Liberty Loan, Red Cross and other campaigns, thereby utilizing Hoo-Hoo to help the government win the war. In this connection I might mention that a few Vicegerents have not pushed Hoo-Hoo work because of their activities in various government money-raising campaigns. Here is where I think they made a big mistake. Their Hoo-Hoo connection could have been made a great advantage to their other work and in place of keeping them from war activities could have been utilized to assist them. Had they organized the members of Hoo-Hoo in their jurisdictions they could easily have secured their help for win-the-war work.

You will note we have not been able to hold many concatenations during the year. The principal reason is that the draft and other war work has taken up the great majority of our available candidate timber. We have therefore had to be content with small classes, and where candidates were not available, hold got-together and other meetings in place of concatenations. We could have in many cases, by letting down the bars, secured a large number of new members who were anxious to join, but we have strictly adhered to our eligibility by-laws, and while it interferes with the work of the Order to have to postpone our concatenations on account of the lack of new members, we feel this is the only wise policy to pursue until the war is over and conditions change. Our experience in the past has shown that, if Hoo-Hoo is to be maintained as a representative lumber and allied organization, we must maintain our eligibility rules, otherwise we will lower the value of the Order to lumbermen, impair its influence and destroy the effectiveness of the work of the Order which it has organized to do.

You will probably have noticed in The Bulletin reports of concatenations and other meetings that the St. Louis and New Orleans members have inaugurated weekly luncheons. These luncheons have proven to be a great success. The St. Louis members invite all lumbermen, whether Hoo-Hoo or not. They elect a different chairman for each week, who appoints two assistants. These chairmen have the privilege of providing any entertainment they can secure, provided it does not detain those present beyond 1:30 p. m. As a result, the St. Louis luncheons have been of great interest. They have boosted Liberty Loan, Red Cross and other war funds and have had the pleasure of listening to visiting army officers and men from our own and the allied armies; heard speakers on vital topics of the day; got better acquainted one with the other and have taken full advantage of the weekly meetings. The average attendance is between seventy-five and a hundred, and every luncheon seems to be more interesting than the previous one.

One of the results of the St. Louis luncheons has been the formation of the St. Louis Lumbermen's Golf Club. This club has held three very interesting tournaments during the year, and are looking forward to a very active season next year.

The New Orleans luncheons, while not so largely attended, have been equally successful. Here, I believe, is something that every lumber center where there are two dozen or more lumbermen and Hoo-Hoo who have to take luncheon down town every day can utilize this organization to bring the lumbermen of their community together and develop a fraternal feeling that will be invaluable to them. The luncheons I speak of are strictly "Dutch treat" affairs, and do not cost on the average any more than a man usually pays for his mid-day meal.

Our experience proves beyond question that if Vicegerents and old Hoo-Hoo would take a little time to organize and start affairs of this kind the other members are anxious and willing to attend them. All it needs is a little pep and push, and once they are started it is not hard to get others interested and thereby divide up the work. Every member who will take a hand in this work will be amply repaid by the development of the fraternal spirit which these meetings create among men who are engaged in the same line of business as himself in his own home town. The Rotarians, Kiwanis, Advertising and other clubs are making a great success of weekly luncheons all over the country. Why cannot Hoo-Hoo do the same thing?

I might also mention in connection with special meetings that a number of our Vicegerents have held very successful Ladies' Nights during the year. They invited the members to bring their wives and lady friends to these meetings, and in every case they have been a great success. I sincerely hope more Vicegerents will follow their example during the coming year.

Owing to the postponement of our annual meeting, all suggestions for needed legislation with which to carry on the work of the Order will have to be held in abeyance until next year. However, beyond a few minor matters that an annual could adjust, Hoo-Hoo is now in splendid condition to develop along lines that will bring the best results to its members. All we need is for some of our old stalwarts to jump in, and do just a little more work. I am ready and willing to help them all I can, but as it is impossible to be in fifty different places at once, I will have to trust to the co-operation of our Vicegerents and local Hoo-Hoo to do the work. I fully realize that present conditions in a number of vicegerencies make it somewhat difficult to hold concatenations, but these conditions will soon change. The Hun is on the run, and this year will probably see his finish. Then let us keep our old members together and make ready for the influx of new members when the boys come home.

Our Departed Brothers.

During the past year the Grim Reaper has taken a heavy toll from the ranks of Hoo-Hoo, sixty-eight of our members having passed through the portals of the realms beyond. This is an increase of fourteen deaths over the previous year. Among the deceased members are many of our oldest Hoo-Hoo men who have spent long years within the realms of the Great Black Prince and given the Order their constant and hearty support.

Included in the long list of departed brothers you will notice the names of six who will be forever enrolled on the Honor Rolls of their country. These six Hoo-Hoo laid down their lives while in the service of the United States and Canadian Armies. Lt. L. B. Loughran of the A. E. F. Aviation Service lost his life while battling with the Huns over the battlefields of France. Lt. J. J. Lietemeyer was also killed in action in France. Pvt. Bert Mocker was a victim of the cowardly Hun submarine, losing his life when the Tuscania was torpedoed. Lt. Lothman was in an aviation camp and Sgt. Michel was on special duty in New Orleans. Capt. J. S. Laycock of the 48th Canadian Highlanders of Toronto, Canada, a battalion of the "Ladies From Hell," who made the supreme sacrifice when the Canadians stormed the supposed to be impregnable Vimy Ridge. All these men did their full duty to their country and to humanity. Their names will be forever enshrined in the hearts of their countrymen as citizens who realized to the full the meaning of patriotism and love of freedom and while their endeavor to do all they could, to put right above might, has cost them their lives, we know that in passing over they have won the highest honor a man can win in that they offered their lives that others might live in peace and security. Our Scripture tells us that "greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for others," and that is the honor which our Brother Hoo-Hoo have won.

Our obituary list is a long one. You will see the names of many personal friends. Men who were a power in the lumber and allied industries. It was our privilege and pleasure to know them and to call them Brother and to feel that during their lifetime we did something toward making their pathway through life pleasant and happy.

Conclusion.

Before concluding this report, I wish to express to Snark Priddle, Members of the Supreme Nine, Vicegerents and all the loyal members who throughout the past year, in spite of conditions that would have daunted most men, have labored long and faithfully to build up the Order and keep it to the front. It is to these members that we owe our present high standing, and it is with genuine pleasure that I extend to them my heartfelt thanks for their friendship and support. I wish also to thank the many Hoo-Hoo I have visited during the year for their splendid hospitality and kindly courtesy. I indeed feel that Hoo-Hoo has given me a world of friends, and my sincere hope is that the time will not be long until I can meet them again.

In concluding this report, I can but impress upon the members of Hoo-Hoo that their opportunities as members of this Order for the advancement of the lumber and allied industries are many. Humanity now realizes, by having to go through the travail of the past four years, that no man and no nation is sufficient unto himself or itself alone. Both man and nation must have the respect and good will of their fellow-men and other nations. Lumbermen now know better than ever that if this industry is to succeed during the years of peace that are now dawning on our horizon, that they will have to respect and trust their fellow lumbermen. They will have to treat every branch of the industry as having a right to live and develop to its fullest extent. In order to bring about this era of mutual trust and confidence, they must use every means at their disposal to create friendship and begot confidence. A friend will always come first, so every Hoo-Hoo can help the industry and help himself by using this organization to draw all lumbermen and their allied friends together under the banner of Hoo-Hoo, and also to use this organization in every way possible to back up our government and help it drive the final nails that will forever put the coffin lid over the foulest, vilest creatures that ever cursed the earth, the Kaiser and his military hirelings. Do this, Brother Hoo-Hoo and success great and ever greater will be the portion of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo.

E. D. TENNANT,
Secretary-Treasurer.

St. Louis, Mo., October 10, 1918.

Mr. W. A. Priddle, Snark of the Universe,
Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo,
Saint Louis, Missouri.

Dear Sir:—

We have audited the cash account of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo for the fiscal year ending September 4, 1918, and submit herewith our report together with the attached statement showing in condensed form the cash receipts and disbursements for the period mentioned.

We certify that all cash receipts as evidenced by the membership card stubs have been properly accounted for. These disbursements were verified with the vouchers and cancelled checks on file, all of which were found to be in order. According to information furnished us, all current liabilities pertaining to the period under review have been paid with the exception of a few minor items which have been considered as heretofore properly chargeable to the succeeding fiscal year.

The "Debt Extinguishment Fund" included under the caption of "Receipts" requires perhaps some explanation. It consists of funds donated by various members for the purpose of reducing the indebtedness of the Order. The funds derived from this source were used in paying the indebtedness due the Con. P. Curran Printing Company, and in reducing the $4,000 loan from the Manchester Bank, St. Louis, Mo., to $1,833.

The cash in bank at the end of the period under review was verified with certificates obtained from the Manchester Bank, St. Louis, Mo., and the cash on hand by actual count.

Forty-four death claims of $100 each were paid to beneficiaries of deceased members under the insurance plan of the Order.

The books and records examined were found to be in satisfactory condition. Yours very truly,

KESSLER & COMPANY,
Certified Public Accountants.

With Compliments of E. C. Atkins & Co. Indianapolis Indiana

GIVING THE IMAGINATION FREE PLAY.

The E. C. Atkins Co. of Indianapolis, as is their usual custom, offered to supply the badges for the Twenty-Seventh Annual Meeting. As these badges were ordered before the annual was postponed, the Atkins company had them left on their hands. Acting upon the suggestion of Brother L. J. Pomeroy of Chicago, Ex-Supreme Jabberwock, Mr. T. A. Carroll, manager of the Atkins publicity department, decided to send the five hundred badges which he had on hand to various Hoo-Hoo in different parts of the country.

Along with the badges he sent the following letter:

Dear Hoo-Hoo—Imagination is a most beautiful thing—sometimes, isn't it? We imagined that the members of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo would have a heluva nice time at the convention which everyone imagined would take place at Chicago on the 9th, 10th and 11th of this month. Imagination played a trick on us, however.

Now, we imagine that imagination works both ways. We bought the badges for the convention—500 of them—but when we were notified that it was cancelled you can imagine our surprise. However, we immediately began to imagine what we would do with the badges. After much imagination we finally imagined that the fellow who made 'em would not be offended if we asked him to cancel the order.

Can you imagine it? He said we had a wonderful imagination. Anyhow, we decided to write Jabberwock Lambert J. Pomeroy of Chicago, and he said in reply that he imagined it would be all right to mail the badges to members of the Hoo-Hoo. Said he imagined they would wear them Sept. 9, 10 and 11, even tho' there is no convention this year.

Here's your badge. Put it on and imagine you are at the convention, walking thru the Hotel Morrison lobby, listening to the wonderful music, talking to the beautiful woman, 'n' everything.

Pleasant dreams; my pipe is lit. E. C. ATKINS & CO. The cut shown above gives but a faint idea of the beauty of the 1918 badge. That the recipients fully appreciated the kindness of the Atkins company was fully attested by the letters sent to the company in reply to Mr. Carroll's treatise on imagination.

On behalf of the Supreme Nine and other members of the Order, The Bulletin extends hearty thanks to the E. C. Atkins Co. for their kindness in furnishing these badges, and can assure them that although the annual was not held, their distribution of the badges resulted in acquainting a wider circle of Hoo-Hoo that the Order has the best wishes of the Atkins company than if the badges had been handed out in the usual manner.

Get Busy and Keep It There!

The Answer

They ask for peace.
Liar and thieves, who slay, and rape, and burn,
Now seek to parley what they shall return.
They ask for peace.
Cool, cultured brutes, more foul than they that breed
Dumb beasts that know no law but lust and greed.
They ask for peace!
Their fat, short-fingered hands still dripping red
With blood of little children and our dead.
They ask for peace!
And think those loathsome paws are fit to be
Grasped by clean hands, the hands of chivalry!
Great God of mercy and of righteousness,
Give us the strength to make them understand
That on his knees their head of righteousness
Shall get the only justice from Thy hand!
Lay down your arms, you troops of treachery!
Lay down your pride, you hosts of hate and hell!
Lay down your lies, your loot, your lechery!
Lay down your arms, you killers of Cavell!
Then only shall you know your God of might,
Your "God with us," who now commands, "Thou must!"
He is the great Jehovah, God of right,
Your God, our God, the God in whom we trust.
To Him we leave all vengeance, and like Him
We come to you with healing for all harms;
But we come, led by Joan and seraphim.
Lay down your arms, dark power!
Lay down your arms!

OUR MEN Are Not Home Yet

They Ask You to Support

The United War Work Campaign

It means physical, and moral health, strength and comfort for them

Brother Vicegerents especially, and all Hoo-Hoo in general: We are sure that every one of you are anxious and willing, in fact are doing your utmost to win this war. But, are you sure that you are taking advantage of every means at your disposal to do so? Especially by way of keeping up the morale of those at home who have to furnish the means to supply the armies in France? You can do a whole lot more besides buying Liberty Bonds, Thrift Stamps and subscribing to Red Cross and other war funds. These are things we all can buy or give to, by digging as deep as possible into our pocketbooks and then hustling to fill them up again in preparation for the next call. But your government expects you, if possible, to do more than that. President Wilson has pointed out the wisdom of commercial and fraternal organizations continuing to work along their usual lines during this war. In fact, he has stated that they should increase their activities and that there is a greater need now than ever before for co-operative activity and systematized organization. In other words, men and women today should get together during these war times more than ever for the one purpose of unifying their efforts toward winning the war and helping the government.

We all know, that the lumber business today is in a condition where no man can foresee what tomorrow may bring forth. This condition is causing a lot of lumbermen to feel pessimistic and talk as though the end of their business career was in sight, but they never were more mistaken in their lives. We will grant that they are up against it, but what they complain of is a bed of roses compared with what our allied lumbermen in Europe are up against. Their condition here might be so much worse than the present outlook would seem to be the height of prosperity, so why get down in the mouth about it? We know this positively: that the Hun is on the run; that we are going to lick him so bad that he will never be able to raise his hideous, dirty head again; that our boys are coming back triumphant and full of the glory of knowing that they have completed the job and done it right. Knowing that happy, glorious time is surely coming, why cannot we anticipate some of it. Brother Vicegerents, there is no way you can do your country more good than by getting your brother lumbermen together. Help them look on the right side of things and get them to realize once and for all that present conditions are only temporary; that great times are just ahead. You do not need any elaborate show or entertainment to do this. Just put in a little time organizing your territory; get some of the old cats to help you round up a kitten or two (you don't need many) or, if all available candidates are in the draft or in the army, get the old cats together at get-together meetings. Every town or city has a number of live-wire speakers. Ask them to come and assist you to instill some pep into your audience. Misery loves company, but so does happiness. We have every reason to be proud and happy. Our boys are doing just what we expected and more; then, get together and celebrate it. Chase out the blues and let every one know that even if business is temporarily bad we can stand it, for the good of the cause, and that we are ready and waiting for the great day when with unbounded enthusiasm and a sure knowledge that we have done our part, we can make a new start and assure the lumber industry of a brighter and better success than it has ever had. Here is your opportunity, Brother Hoo-Hoo, now go to it. Get them together! If the Spanish influenza prevents meetings now, organize them for the day when that pest is overcome, and you can once more gather together to extend Health, Happiness and Long Life.

By reading the following reports of successful concatenations and other meetings you will note how some Vicegerents have succeeded in spite of adverse conditions in holding meetings that have proven beneficial not only to the members who attended, but have added greatly in assisting government win-the-war plans. You're next! The Great Black Prince expects every member to do his duty.

Two Fine Concatenations in Arkansas

Owing to an error on the part of the printer, copy which was given him for the August Bulletin containing an account of two fine concatenations in Arkansas was overlooked. However, better late than never, and The Bulletin has much pleasure in bringing notice of these meetings to the attention of its readers in this issue.

Vicegerent Snark J. B. Webster of Little Rock held the first of these meetings at Hot Springs, Ark., on the afternoon of June 8th. This meeting was held in connection with the Annual Convention of the Arkansas Retail Dealers' Association. The concatenation was attended by a number of old-time Hoo-Hoo, prominent among them being James Boyd of New Orleans, J. C. McGrath of Malvern, G. W. Funck and J. F. Judd of St. Louis, Tracy R. Thomas of Little Rock and several others.

Secretary-Treasurer Tennant presided at the concatenation and also made an address at the dinner which followed the meeting. This was a very enjoyable affair to which all the visiting lumbermen and their wives had been invited. A class of four representative Arkansas lumbermen were initiated at the concatenation by the following officers.

Concatenation No. 2058. Hot Springs, Ark., June 8th, 1918.

Snark—E. D. Tennant.
Senior Hoo-Hoo—James Boyd.
Junior Hoo-Hoo—J. C. McGrath.
Bojum—Tracy R. Thomas.
Scribener—J. B. Webster.
Jabberwock—Geo. W. Funck.
Custodian—J. T. Borreson.
Arcanoper—W. G. Funck.
Gurdon—A. R. Kimmich.

29981—H. B. Bateman, Jr., manager and owner Clarendon Lumber Company, Clarendon, Ark.

29982—Ernest R. Boll, manager, E. R. Boll Lumber Company, Hot Springs, Ark.

29983—John N. Coppock, owner, J. N. Coppock Lumber Company, Hot Springs, Ark.

29984—J. L. Leslie, sales manager, Arkansas Lumber Company, Warren, Ark.

The following members were present:

44, 1893, 2960, 7847, 8647, 13070, 16317, 18048, 21400, 24701, 29582, 29710, 29713.

After leaving Hot Springs, the Secretary-Treasurer accompanied by Geo. W. Funck journeyed to Texarkana where, with the assistance of Brother J. A. Cramer, Ira Titus, B. Champlin and F. H. Jones, succeeded in rounding up a class of five stalwart lumbermen who thoroughly enjoyed being taught the mysteries of Hoo-Hoo-land.

Following the initiation ceremonies, a "dutch lunch" was served and a real enjoyable social hour spent. This is the first concatenation held in Texarkana for some years and is but the forerunner of many to come. The Texarkana members are enthusiastic and thoroughly representative of the industry in that city. They believe in the value of fraternal co-operation and The Bulletin looks forward to rapid extension of Hoo-Hoo work in that territory.

Brother Funck and the Secretary-Treasurer thoroughly enjoyed their visit, especially the opportunity of meeting and addressing the members of the Lions Club. It is their hope to be able to pay a return visit at an early date.

Following is the list of officers and candidates:

Concatenation No. 2068. Texarkana, Ark., June 10th, 1918.

Snark—E. D. Tennant.
Senior Hoo-Hoo—F. W. Offenhausser.
Junior Hoo-Hoo—Geo. W. Funck.
Bojum—J. A. Cramer.
Scribener—Ira L. Titus.
Jabberwock—B. Champlin.
Custodian—Guy M. Hubbard.
Arcanoper—J. Pat Cook.
Gurdon—F. H. Jones.

29976—John Bleich, owner of mills, Texarkana, Ark.

29977—Sterling D. Cook, accountant, Hy. Shrine Lumber Company, Artex, Ark.

29978—L. Sol. Feinberg, secretary-treasurer, Cook Lumber Company, Texarkana, Ark.

29979—H. M. McIvor, vice-president, Cook Lumber Company, Texarkana, Ark.

29980—Leon S. Williams, owner, Patmos, Ark.

The following members were present:

814, 4895, 9335, 13070, 15302, 17136, 7847, 19208, 19204, 21201, 29851, 29878.

ASHEVILLE MEMBERS HONOR MEMORY OF HOO-HOO HERO.

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 1, 1918.

Lumbermen of the Hoo-Hoo, the lumbermen's fraternal order, met at the Langren Hotel last evening, and took action to honor the memory of a member of the organization, Lieut. Lawrence B. Loughran, who was killed July 28 in air combat with the Huns in France.

A committee was appointed to take appropriate action. J. M. English was made chairman and the other members are W. H. Westall and J. E. Fulham. These members will act as a standing committee to write letters to lumbermen of the order who are now in their country's service.

A liberal donation was made by the members present for the tobacco fund and this will be forwarded to Hoo-Hoo headquarters in St. Louis.

George L. Forester, Vicegerent Snark of Hoo-Hoo in North Carolina, announced at the close of the meeting that the meeting pledged the members present to do all in their power, individually, to aid liberty loan, war stamp and other war movements to aid the nation in the struggle for freedom. A number of patriotic talks in regard to this work were made and there was considerable enthusiasm manifested by the lumbermen for all efforts which will defeat the Hun.

LAST CONCATENATION OF THE HOO-HOO YEAR.

The last concatenation of the Hoo-Hoo year in the San Francisco district, was held on the evening of August 29th in the San Francisco Commercial Club rooms.

The affair reflected great credit on the Vicegerent Snark, R. T. Buzard, who has made an excellent record for the year, having held two concatenations in San Francisco and one in Oakland, with a total of twenty-seven kittens—making a tie with the record of Snark Connor of the Valley district.

Snark Buzard also held three get-together luncheons and one ladies' night, which was a brilliant affair, at the Hotel Oakland, on the occasion of the visit of Snark of the Universo W. A. Priddie and Secretary-Treasurer E. D. Tennant.

There is a strong desire that Mr. Buzard shall succeed himself as local Vicegerent Snark for the ensuing year, but so far he has not consented to do so.

Of the eleven kittens led through devious windings to the throne of the Great Black Prince, there was one from Hankow China, and another who was a recent resident of Tennessee—a one-time Confederate soldier seventy years young—and now making San Francisco his home.

Junior Hoo-Hoo R. A. Hiscox acquitted himself in his usual witty manner and the Snark was ably supported by the entire nine in putting on the work of the order in an impressive manner, bringing out the spirit of the organization and illustrating the good fellowship that is an inspiration for perpetuating its motto of long life, health and happiness.

A tasty cold collation with hot coffee and chocolate was served at the session on the roof, which was opened by singing "America," enlivened by a number of speakers and closed with three rousing cheers in honor of Snark Buzard. The officiating nine were:

Concatenation No. 2072. San Francisco, Cal., August 29th, 1918.

Snark—R. T. Buzard, 24837.
Senior Hoo-Hoo—R. O. Wilson, 15200.
Junior Hoo-Hoo—R. A. Hiscox, 14423.
Bojum—C. Stowell Smith, 21846.
Scribener—E. Harvey Sarright, 28752.
Jabberwock—Hunter Savidge, 8411.
Custodian—Theodoro Lerch, 25466.

A GREAT BUNCH OF AMERICAN BEAUTIES

Denver, Colo., Sept. 9, 1918.—The response to invitations sent out by Vicegerent R. D. Mundell for an informal dinner at the Denver Athletic Club of the clan of Hoo-Hoo was well attended and a royal good time had by all present.

This informal meeting was turned into a love feast to Brother Hoo-Hoo James E. Preston, No. 51, who, after a residence of some twenty-one years in Colorado, is departing for New York City to make his home.

At nine minutes past nine p. m. of the ninth day and the ninth month, there was presented to Brother Preston a handsome traveling bag, and he was assured that the bag was filled with love and best wishes of all his Hoo-Hoo friends, and admonished to carry it with him on the path of life.

W. P. McPhee acted as toastmaster for the occasion, and it is needless to say that great bunches of wit and humor were scattered thick and fast throughout the evening, and the flowers that were handed Brother Preston in the way of nice sayings and kind thoughts would make the American Beauties ashamed of their loveliness.

Those present were: W. R. Abbott, 22274; E. E. Aldous, 23854; C. E. Bullen, 6157; P. G. Conover, 22280; I. F. Downer, 8083; D. H. Elder, 10278; H. W. Hanna, 9920; Albert V. Kipp, 29132; C. K. Kirchner, 8088; Edward R. Lels, 20493; W. R. McFarland, 14157; W. P. McPhee, 6172; Robert D. Mundell, 28312; J. G. Noll, 20790; John I. Poffor, 23376; J. E. Preston, 51; O. O. Russell, 6743; R. W. Stewart, 2224; G. H. Valle, 26268; J. E. Willard, 22299; O. D. Neill, 22292; W. E. McClung, 2199; C. W. Fischer, 22890; L. K. Beach, 28856; W. H. Lewis, 29131.

The following sent letters saying they were unable to be present: F. B. Choate, 23371; W. M. Lampton, 6767; B. F. Freedland, 6173; C. K. Gould, 7315.

HOO-HOO OBSERVE ANNUAL DATE

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 10.—The day set apart for the annual of Hoo-Hoo was observed in this city. More than a hundred loyal members of the order met at dinner at the American Annex Hotel last evening, heard informal talks by their own brothers and initiated four men into the mysteries of the great and only fraternal organization of lumbermen. It was one of the most enjoyable affairs in the history of Hoo-Hoo in this city.

The meeting was patriotic throughout. The speakers' stand was draped with American flags and beside it stood a large photograph of President Wilson. "America" and other patriotic songs were sung by the members, assisted by some outside talent. Sidney S. May, chairman of the entertainment committee, presided. A telegram of greeting was sent to Supreme Snark W. A. Priddle, of Beaumont, Tex., and a special Hoo-Hoo yell was given in his honor.

Many of the Hoo-Hoo wore badges sent by E. C. Atkins & Co., which were intended to have been used for the Chicago concatenation, and a clever letter written by T. A. Carroll, manager of their publicity department, was read in which he asked the members to imagine they were at Chicago. A vote of thanks was extended to the Atkins company.

E. D. Tennant, Secretary-Treasurer, said that the order is being conducted on a pay-as-you-go basis and that within the next six months it will be entirely free of all debt. Mr. Tennant took exception to an article in a lumber paper to the effect that the Black Cat was not a dignified emblem for a lumbermen's organization. He said:

"Several days ago I went out to Forest Park to see the wonderful evolutions of the crack British and American aviators. Lo and behold, what did I see painted on these airplanes but a big black cat, very much on the order of our own Hoo-Hoo cat. Well, if the black cat is good enough for our aviators to use when they fly over Europe in their efforts to drive the Hun out it is good enough for lumber men or any other body of men."

Mr. Tennant referred to the various loans and drives, and said that Uncle Sam can absolutely bank on lumbermen being behind him in everything that they possibly can. He said that the old cat is very much alive. His mail brought him 475 letters that day, and every letter has a check for dues, and at least two-thirds of the writers had a kind word to say for the order. In conclusion, he urged:

"Stay behind the organization. Do everything you possibly can. Hoo-Hoo is very much alive and has not even used up one life. We are going ahead with Hoo-Hoo, the strongest organization of lumbermen in North America."

Roy M. Edmonds, St. Louis representative for the American Lumberman, as an old Hoo-Hoo, told the men about to be taken into the order the value of such membership, and J. T. Dowd, of Lumber, responded on behalf of the kittens.

T. C. Whitmarsh, chairman of the special entertainment committee for the Wednesday meetings of lumbermen and Hoo-Hoo, told of the value of such meetings, and announced that lumbermen who will attend the wood-working section of the National Safety Council here next week had been invited to address the lumbermen on Wednesday, Sept. 18.

Orville A. Pier, secretary of the Lumbermen's Exchange, said there was need for more get-together meetings of lumbermen and that there could not be too much entertainment. He said that he was strong for Hoo-Hoo. He added:

"My heart and soul are in getting fellows to pull together. I do not care whether it is in a social way or a business way or an organization way that is the way to get results. Hoo-Hoo is a mighty fine organization."

H. M. Willhite laid special stress on the weekly luncheons and pleaded for a large attendance. P. T. Langan, of Cairo, who seldom overlooks an opportunity to attend a Hoo-Hoo meeting, was on hand and took occasion to say that Cairo would profit a great deal by the revival of traffic on the Mississippi, even more than St. Louis, because the river below Cairo would be open twelve months of the year. He expressed pride in the fact that he was a Hoo-Hoo.

Julius Seidel, than whom no man in Hoo-Hoo is more popular, told of the many benefits to be derived from the order and more especially referred to the insurance feature. He said:

"Last year we paid out the death benefits of fifty members, amounting to $5,000. And we got the best of the insurance company, because the protection for all of our members cost but $3,800. Just think, eighteen of the fifty carried no other insurance, and families of eight wrote for the benefit money of $100 and said that they really needed it."

Mr. Seidel reviewed the troubles of the order in the early days of his office as Snark of the Universe. He said the order is now trying to give its members something for their money. He referred to the Wednesday meetings and said they should be encouraged.

The concatenation was conducted by the following officers: Concatenation No. 2071, St. Louis, Mo., September 9th, 1918.

NEW YORK HOO-HOO CELEBRATE THE NINTH DAY.

Owing to the postponement of the Twenty-seventh Annual preventing their going to Chicago, the New York members under the leadership of Vicegerent P. L. Sillman, ably assisted by Supreme Senior Hoo-Hoo Chas. J. Kammer, held a rousing concatenation at the Shelbourne Hotel, Brighton Beach, the evening of September 9th. While war calls have temporarily taken away most of the available kitten timber from New York, still the members managed to round up two stalwart candidates who proved to be worthy of the honors bestowed upon them.

Brother G. H. Warner, Sr., performed as Junior Hoo-Hoo, aided by that master of initiation ceremonies, Chas. J. Kammer. After putting the candidates through the various tests and finally pronouncing them worthy of being real lumbermen and Hoo-Hoo, a war-time dinner was served and as much fun and entertainment extracted out of the occasion as present war conditions warrant.

The New York members are all working their heads off to help Uncle Sam win the war, but they find that a little relaxation now and then helps the good work along, and as a result a New York concatenation is always a lively and enjoyable affair.

Following is a list of the officers, candidates and those present:

- Concatenation No. 2073, Brighton Beach, N. Y., Sept. 9th, 1918.
- Snark—Phillip L. Sillman, 26152.
- Senior Hoo-Hoo—Chas. J. Kammer, 7281.
- Junior Hoo-Hoo—Geo. H. Warner, Sr., 29763.
- Bojum—John H. McAleer, 27798.
- Scrivener—Jesse R. Augustine, 28130.
- Jabberwock—B. W. Clothier, 28130.
- Custocatian—Wm. H. Thatcher, 28156.
- Arcanoper—Frank B. Schermerhorn, 29312.
- Gurdon—Theodore J. Ansett, 29193.
- 30014—George Hagermeyer, superintendent of production, Huddleston Marsh Machinery Company, 299 West 128th Street, New York City, N. Y.
- 30015—Samuel Harvey Prever, assistant mill superintendent, Mill No. 1, Lewis Thompson & Co., 303 Stockton Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

- The following members were present:
- 5000, 7281, 12261, 27798, 27803, 28127, 28130, 28136, 28152, 28156, 28440, 28446, 29193, 29198, 29200, 29228, 29312, 29390, 29398, 29437, 29444, 29763, 29313.

WOUNDED LUMBERMAN BOOSTS LOAN.

The regular weekly noon-day luncheons inaugurated by the St. Louis Hoo-Hoo have, up to the time that the Spanish Influenza quarantine put a temporary stop to them, proven to be one of the most popular moves ever made by local Hoo-Hoo in bringing lumbermen of this city together. The following reports of luncheons held on Sept. 25th and Oct. 9th will give readers of The Bulletin a good idea of what these gatherings mean from both a patriotic and fraternal standpoint. St. Louis lumbermen went over the top on the Fourth Liberty Loan 100 per cent. The patriotic meetings held by Hoo-Hoo had a strong effect in putting St. Louis, the first city of over 500,000 inhabitants, over the top.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 25.—As a preliminary to the opening of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, lumbermen of this city hold an enthusiastic meeting at the weekly luncheon at the American Annex Hotel today. Nearly a hundred were present, the largest number yet attending these gatherings. It was a patriotic meeting through and through.

The principal address was made by Corp. R. J. Johnson of the 29th U. S. Engineers, who had been assigned by the metropolitan division of speakers of the Eighth Liberty Loan organization of the federal reserve district. Corporal Johnson had been a forster and logger and was in the lumber business before enlisting in the service last October. He was graduated from the forestry department of the University of Michigan. Corporal Johnson was given opportunity to win a commission but preferred quicker action. He gave an informal account of his experience and spoke as an earnest, simple but forceful speaker.

Corporal Johnson told how he was sent into the trenches without training and was in the battle of the Somme, last March; while serving with the British forces a Hun bayonet thrust in his arm rendered it useless and he was assisted from the scene by an English sergeant, who thereby saved his life. He told as much as he was permitted of how the American engineers had perfected a method whereby they could locate a big gun by sound waves. He described the activities of the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the Y. M. C. A., and related a number of atrocities. Being unfit for further service on the field he has been invalided home to aid in the Liberty Loan campaign. He received an ovation at the close of his eloquent address.

F. J. Reising, who presided, had as aids Grant Gloor and D. R. Fitzroy. He called on several visiting lumbermen to speak and G. H. Murphy, of the Beaumont (Tex.) Lumber Co., responded, commending the get-together spirit evinced in the attendance. Other speakers were J. C. Dionne, secretary of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas, and John W. McClure, secretary of the Bellgrade Lumber Co., of Memphis, Tenn.

Vicegerent F. E. Conner holds big Concatenation at Fresno, Cal.

The night of Saturday, August 24th, was set apart by F. E. Conner, Vicegerent Snark of the valley district, as the time for giving Hoo-Hoo of Fresno and vicinity an opportunity to open the eyes of a large number of kittens, long mewing in the outer darkness and longing for the pleasant gardens of the Great Black Cat.

Four of the purblind felines, making paid-up applicants for membership, were missing at roll call, but fourteen responded to their names at 7:50 p. m. and two hours later they were entitled to take their seats with the veterans, who had assembled in the Woodman's beautiful hall for the evening monies.

Clean-cut Americans. A Past Snark of the Universe who was among those present, commenting on the appearance of the kittens, said: "They were as fine a lot of clean-cut American boys as could be found anywhere."

The Session on the Roof. The concat was closed by singing "The Star-Spangled Banner," an adjournment then being taken to the Hughes Hotel, where an excellent dinner, presided over by F. Deon Prescott, was enlivened by vocal and instrumental music, followed by "Health, Happiness and Long Life"

HUGHES HOTEL, 10:00 P. M., Saturday, August 24, 1918. A number of witty talks and wound up at midnight by singing "America," with everyone happy, intensely pleased with the affair and deeply appreciative of the prompt and harmonious schedule from start to finish.

Visitors Entertained. Out-of-town visitors were entertained during the day with luncheons and auto trips, including a stop beneath the famed Smyrna fig trees, personal garnering of the delicious fruit and eating it "neath soothing, green shade, and anyone, other than a native, hankers for some kind of shade on an August day in Fresno.

The Cheerful Workers. Those "in the know" say that the orderly arrangements for the concatenation are directly traceable to Geo. W. Cottrell and C. D. LeMaster, a couple of cheerful glad-handers, whom the Angel of the Lord has delighted in honoring with the grace of get-there-ativeness and hospitality plus, which was manifested throughout the occasion.

A Big Place. Vicegerent Conner has held concatenations this year at Stockton, Sacramento and Fresno, with a total of twenty-seven kittens, making an excellent record for war time. There are, however, quite a number of kittens still at large in the valley district, embracing an area of something like 25,000 square miles, and it would probably advantage the order to divide the area into two districts; such a division would undoubtedly develop greater interest in the order, as concatenations and get-together meetings could be held at more frequent intervals.

1919-ANNUAL

will be held in

Chicago, Sept. 9-10

This Letter was Sent to Members in Arrears Does it Apply to You? Then Obey That Impulse

Dues are $3.65 Per Year

November 15, 1918.

Dear Brother Hoo-Hoo:

If the bereaved wife or fatherless children of a deceased Brother Hoo-Hoo came to you personally and ask for a helping hand to lift them over a few dark days until they could get a new start, could you refuse them? Especially when you knew all it cost would be a trifling sum of money? I do not think so.

A cup of cold water or a hundred dollar bill may not look much to you, but to the parched throat of a fever-stricken man or to the scanty purse of a bereaved widow it means a whole lot. It is a real helping hand. You can help Hoo-Hoo stretch out that hand time and again by keeping yourself in good standing. You can secure this benefit for your own dependents, which assures them a return of far more than all the dues you ever paid into Hoo-Hoo, and also helps the Order give it to others.

We have hundreds of members who cannot get any insurance on account of physical disabilities and others can get it only in small amounts. Hoo-Hoo can give them some protection without medical examination. There is not a week passes but we receive a call for this benefit. It is maintained out of our annual dues of $3.65 per year. If every Hoo-Hoo would keep in good standing, we could increase this benefit without extra cost to them.

The above is only one of the real benefits a member derives from Hoo-Hoo. The Order is today stronger and better than ever. War conditions have delayed active work in some sections. In others Hoo-Hoo has held numerous practical win-the-war meetings. The huns are on the run and better conditions will soon enable us to get busy.

The enclosed is a reminder of the amount of dues you have omitted sending in. Remember, our death benefit is absolutely dependent upon prompt payment of dues. Attach your check to this due bill now. The amount is small, but when all comes in, the aggregate enables Hoo-Hoo to do something really worth while.

Fraternally yours,

E. D. TENNANT,
 SEC'Y-TREAS.

Coming Concatenations

THE epidemic of Spanish Influenza, now prevalent, has caused the postponement of a number of Concatenations, Get-To-Gether meetings, and Luncheons. Just as soon as the Health Authorities lift the ban, announcements will be sent from the St. Louis office notifying members in territories where meetings will be held.

In the meantime, organize and get ready everywhere
