THE Hoo-Hoo March, By No. 1050.

By No. 1050. Dedicated to the SUPREME NINE.

The Only Authorized Music of the Order.

No better advertisement for the Order could be had than to have this piece of music become one of the popular airs of the day.

The price of the music is 40 cents per copy, and will be sent post paid upon application to the Scrivenoter.

The cut herewith shows the Hoo-Hoo Ladies Pin. We have yet to see a lady, old or young, who did not want one of these pins the minute she saw it. To have these pins in the hands of pretty women—and a good Hoo-Hoo knows no other sort—is the best possible advertisement for the Order. Every Hoo-Hoo ought to buy one of these pins, have his number engraved on it, and give it to some good woman. Remit $1.00 to the Scrivenoter, and one of these pins duly engraved will be sent by registered mail to any address. It is one of the nicest presents imaginable for a man's sweetheart. Only members in good standing can purchase.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

Outline of Business and Pleasure Programme at Ninth Annual Meeting.

EXCURSION TO THE CITY OF MEXICO TO FOLLOW.

THE RAILROAD RATES.

The following general outline of the programme for the Ninth Annual Meeting has been agreed on. This programme may be altered in some minor particulars, but it will be substantially carried out:

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9.

- Forenoon—Meeting called to order at 9:00 A.M.; addresses of welcome; responses by Snark Lock and others; the Snark's annual address; Scrivenoter's report; appointment of committees.
- Afternoon—Visit to the Texas State Fair. This is no ordinary fair, but a real exposition of the wonderful resources and products of the "Lone Star Empire," with some unique features peculiar to the great Southwest.
- Evening—The Annual concatenation, with the usual "Session on the Roof."

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10.

Forenoon—Business sessions.

Afternoon—Visit to the Dallas race track to witness a series of special match races.

Evening—"Texas Barbecue," with accompaniments of music, at the German Gardens of Dallas.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11.

Forenoon—Business sessions continued to a conclusion.

Afternoon—Match race between greyhounds and Jack rabbits at the fair grounds; business meeting of the Osirian Cloister.

Evening—Mr. B. A. Johnson's stereopticon lecture at the theater on "First Things in Hoo-Hoo."

The part of this programme most likely to be changed is Mr. Johnson's lecture. The best theater in Dallas is engaged for the evening of the 11th. Effort is being made to have this engagement annulled. If unsuccessful, Mr. Johnson's lecture will occur on one of the other evenings of our stay at Dallas. Later announcement will be made on this point.

This is but a bare outline of the programme. Many other features of the meeting are being arranged by the Texas people, it being their purpose to occupy every moment of our time, when not engaged in business, in some form of entertainment. These details are in the hands of an Entertainment Committee appointed some time ago, and which is now at work. Particular attention is being devoted to the entertainment of the ladies who may attend, and it is the earnest hope of our hosts that the wives, daughters, and sweethearts of our members will be well represented. That the meeting is to occur in Texas, whose hospitality is as broad as her prairies, is a sufficient guarantee of the entertainment. If a man does not want to have a good time, he had better not attend.

The Railroad Rates.

The Southwestern Passenger Bureau has made a rate of one fare plus $2 for the round trip. Tickets at all points on the lines controlled by this organization will be put on sale three full days, exclusive of Sunday, before the first day of the meeting. This makes it possible to purchase tickets, if desired, as early as Saturday, October 6. A final return limit has been formally granted to leave Dallas on October 15. Application has been made, however, for a return limit of thirty days in order to accommodate those who may go on the excursion to Mexico, which is mentioned below. The association now has this proposition pending, and it will in all likelihood be granted. The Southern Pacific Railroad has announced a return limit of thirty days on the tickets of all who go to Mexico, independently, and has asked its connections to concur. Later announcements on this point will have to be made.

The various other passenger associations have been asked to concur in the rate of one fare plus $2 made by the Southwestern Passenger Bureau, and the application is now pending. Every possible pressure is being brought to bear on the Central Passenger Association, and the Southeastern Passenger Association, particularly, to concur in this rate. In the meantime both these latter associations, as well as the Trunk Lines Association, have announced a rate of a fare and a third on the certificate plan for the meeting. As soon as it can be settled whether the rate of one fare plus $2 will be concurred in, later announcement will be made.

The lines controlled by the Southwestern Passenger Association, and over which the one-fare rate has been announced, are as follows: Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway; Chicago, Rock Island and Texas Railway; Fort Worth and Denver City Railway; Gulf, Colorado and Southern Railway; Houston and Shreveport Railroad; Houston and Texas Central Railroad; International and Great Northern Railroad; Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway (in Texas); Choctaw, Oklahoma and Texas Railway; Missouri Pacific Railway; Port Arthur, Route; St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad; San Antonio and Aransas Pass Railway; St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway; St. Louis and Southwestern Railway (in Texas); Southern Pacific Company; Texas and Pacific Railway; Texas Midland Railroad.

Hotel Rates.

The hotel accommodations at Dallas are of the finest, and special rates have been announced for visiting Hoo-Hoo. The Oriental Hotel, which is the largest hotel south of St. Louis, has agreed to provide for all the Hoo-Hoo that come, to the number of 300. This hotel makes a special rate of $2.50 a day. There are two other first-class hotels in Dallas which will make the regular commercial rates to all Hoo-Hoo.

The Awful Storm.

Arrangements had all been about finally closed for the free excursion about the State of Texas in a special train of sleepers, to be furnished by the Texas people, when the awful calamity of the storm was visited upon the State. It had been intended to run this train to Houston and Galveston and out to San Antonio. Mr. Lyon and Mr. Anderson, of the Committee on Arrangements, had been in conference at Houston with a number of Texas members, and were just on the point of leaving for Galveston to meet Snark Lock and to attend the big concatenation that it had been arranged to hold there on Saturday night, when the storm reached the coast. In a few hours railroad communication with Galveston had been abandoned. The awful destruction that ensued during the next eighteen hours has staggered the world. In view of the almost total destruction of Galveston and the partial wreck of Houston, with the railroads all over the southern part of the State washed away, it was thought best to abandon the proposed State trip and to augment the programme at Dallas. As soon as communication by wire could be had, this was agreed upon. The trip about the State will not occur, and all the money that had been subscribed for that will be expended on the entertainment at Dallas.

The Excursion to Mexico.

The abandonment of the trip to Texas cities necessitated some slight changes in the excursion to the City of Mexico. The excursion will now start from Dallas instead of San Antonio. All arrangements have been made so far as they can be definitely closed in the absence of knowledge as to how many will go. The following rates to the City of Mexico and return have been announced:

From Dallas .....	$33 50
From Houston .....	$1 25

This rate is made by the "Huntington roads"—the Mexican International to Torreon and the Mexican Central from there to the capital. These rates are irrespective of the number who will go. If a minimum number of seventy-five will go, a special train will be run, with schedules and stops to suit the party. The regular sleeper fare from Dallas to the City of Mexico is about $7.50 each way. If a number sufficient to fill even one sleeper will go, the car can be chartered and the fare per capita much reduced. If something like fifty or seventy-five will make the trip, the sleeper fare can be reduced to something less than $1.50 per day per capita. This would certainly bring the expense of the trip within the reach of every one. Buffet cars can be had for $50 per day; nonbuffet cars, for $45 per day. The Southern Pacific Railroad officials offered to provide the cars wanted on short notice. A dining car a la carte can be had if wanted, but the railroad people advise against this as not necessary and expensive. They recommend buffet cars, well stocked, and a schedule to stop at regular meal stations. The railroad people guarantee the service at all meal stations, and will also guarantee hotel accommodations of the very best at the City of Mexico. If the special train is run, the Southern Pacific Company will put it in charge of a competent official, who will accompany the party. The details suggested above can all be arranged speedily when it is seen how large a party will make the trip. The matter is well in hand and will be closely looked after. The trip will be a magnificent one, and quite a number have announced their intention of going.

The Texas State Fair.

This great exposition will be in progress throughout our stay in Dallas. It is not simply a "fair" in the ordinary acceptance of that word, but a great annually recurring exposition of the agricultural, horticultural, mechanical, and live-stock interests of the great Southwestern empire. No similar enterprise of anything approaching its magnitude is anywhere else attempted. Horse racing is a special feature of the fair, and those who know say that there are only two tracks—those at Chicago and New York—where higher purses are offered. More than $75,000 in premiums and purses are annually distributed at the fair, and the attendance runs up into the hundreds of thousands—not only from Texas, but from the entire country. The regular race programme for the days we will be in Dallas provides for four running races and one pacing race (2:13 class) on October 9; four running races and one trotting race (2:24 class) on October 10; and four running races and one pacing race (2:20 class) on October 11. Special events on the days named are promised, however, for members of Hoo-Hoo. If any Hoo-Hoo elects to take a chance, "Jack's Tips" and all the "assists" will be furnished free by the committee.

Headquarters.

Headquarters will be at the Oriental Hotel, which is near the hall of the Maccabees, where the business meetings will be held.

Mr. Johnson's Lecture.

One of the special attractions for the meeting will be Mr. B. A. Johnson's illustrated stereopticon lecture on the birth, history, methods, and purposes of Hoo-Hoo, which has been arranged for by the Supreme Nine and the committee at Dallas. This lecture was a great treat to those who heard it at Denver last year; and as Mr. Johnson has now perfected all the pictures he will use, besides considerably elaborating the lecture itself, there is another treat in store for them. For those who have not heard it, there is more than a treat in store—an hour as interesting as it is instructive. Later announcement, as intimated, will be made as to just which evening will be set apart for this lecture.

If You Are Going.

The committee requests that every member of the Order intending to come to the Annual Meeting at Dallas will send in his name, together with the names of those who may accompany him, to W. H. O'Neill, Dallas, in order that sufficient accommodations may be secured beyond a peradventure. While the hotel accommodations of Dallas are considered ample, at the same time, if the committee has advance notice, preparations can be made that will enable it to give its guests better service and better location of rooms.

If you will make the trip to Mexico, it is doubly essential that you notify Mr. O'Neill. It would be well to also notify the Serivenoter, at Nashville. Whatever final details are agreed upon for this trip, the expenses and general arrangements will not materially differ from what is outlined in the foregoing. Every man should decide now whether he will go or not. Arrangements for a trip like this cannot be made at the last moment.

The Mexico of To-Day—A New World.

The excursion to the City of Mexico, which has been proposed to follow the Ninth Annual Meeting of Hoo-Hoo, will prove an interesting and profitable trip. The rate made for the round trip is but a fraction over two cents per mile, the distance from Dallas being close to 800 miles. The attendant expenses of the trip will not be heavy, and every one who can afford the time and money for any kind of a pleasure trip should go. Millions of American dollars are expended in Europe annually by tourists who go there for a few months or a few weeks, while our great sister republic, equally rich in historic interest to the American traveler, and fraught with industrial potentialities greater, perhaps, than any other country on earth, lies at our doors practically a land unknown. In past times, no doubt, there were reasons enough for this, but they no longer exist. The Mexico of to-day is a new world. It must be admitted that the reputation of the Mexico of old for safety and stability was bad, very bad; but reform has been abroad in the land, and within the last thirty years a silent and salutary revolution has occurred in Mexico. This reformation is the wonder of the century to every one who has given it attention. While in the United States we have been achieving a material development, she has wrought the political and social miracle of the century. Within less time than has elapsed since our Civil War invented millionaires, Mexico has stepped across as wide a gulf. From a state of anarchy, tempered by brigandage, she has graduated to the most compact and unified nation in the New World. She has acquired not only a government which governs, but one which knows how to govern, and, contemporaneously, a people which has learned how to be ruled. Only those who seriously knew the country in the old days can at all conceive the change from the Mexico of a generation back to the Mexico of now. There was no touring then, and nowhere was travel more unsafe. By every country road, even into the very heart of cities, the "bandido" robbed and murdered. There were even lady Turpins, and some of them were geniuses. There were no railroads, no telegraphs, practically no commerce; at the bottom of all, no security; To-day Mexico is the safest country in America. Life, property, and human rights are even more secure than with us. As for stability, the record speaks for itself. Mexico had sixty-two viceroys in two hundred and eighty-six years, not very tumultuous; but it also has had fifty-two presidents, emperors, and other heads in fifty-nine years of this century. It has now had one president for twenty years. Some will say that this is not republican. Possibly not, but it is business. Among all the mistakes of foreigners as to Mexico, none is more groping than that which disparages its government. We do not know anything in history which fairly parallels these twenty years in Mexico. It is not far to remember when there was not a railroad in Mexico and when other material conditions were in proportion. The actual Mexico has forty railroads, with nearly 7,000 miles of track and everything that that implies. Its transportation facilities are practically as good as those of our Western States, and the investment is far more profitable. It is netted with telegraph lines (with the cheapest tariff in America); dotted with post offices, schools, costly buildings for public business and public beneficence. It is freer than it was ever before, with free schools, free speech, and free press. There is progress everywhere—material, intellectual, and moral.

The Osirian Cloister.

The Osirian Cloister, through its proper officers, has issued the following two circulars. The first is to all members of the Cloister, while the second is to those members of Hoo-Hoo who have been already elected to the Cloister, and who are expected to present themselves at Dallas for initiation:

"Minneapolis, Minn., August 28, 1900.—To All Osirians: The annual assembly of the Osirian Cloister will this year be held in Dallas, Texas, on Monday, October 8. This is the day preceding the one selected for Hoo-Hoo Day for 1900. You are urgently requested to be present. All the business of the Cloister for the coming year, including the balloting on candidates, will be transacted at this assembly. The Tablets of Law provide that once a year each initiate in the priesthood may propose for membership in the Cloister some member of Hoo-Hoo not otherwise eligible. If unanimously accepted, such candidate may have the Egyptian mysteries conferred upon him. It has been found impracticable to hold any special assembly for initiation during the past year, and it is doubtful if any gathering but this annual can be arranged for the coming year. All members of Hoo-Hoo elected to the Cloister, or any desiring to join, should, therefore, not fail to be present at this assembly.

"We inclose herewith a blank form for application. At previous assemblies the number of desirable Hoo-Hoo candidates seeking admission has been greater than the number of Osirians present to propose their names. It has, therefore, been decided to have the petition constitute a proxy which can be used by the Cloister in the event of the candidate recommended in the petition not being present. This petition, if signed in blank, will be used for the purpose stated above. The initiation fee was last year placed at $10, which includes an official emblem.

"The high priests are desirous of ascertaining how many will attend the forthcoming assembly. You will, therefore, confer a favor by informing the undersigned of your intentions.

"The headquarters for the assembly, together with other information, will be furnished you later either directly or through the Hoo-Hoo 'Bulletin.'

"Faithfully yours,
PLATT B. WALKER, JR.,
"Scribe of the Cloister;
"W. I. EWART,
"Reigning High Priest of Ptah."

"Minneapolis, Minn., August 29, 1900.—Brother Hoo-Hoo: You have been elected to receive the mysteries of the Osirian Cloister, the upper chamber of Hoo-Hoo. The annual assembly will occur at Dallas, Texas, on Monday, October 8, the day preceding the one selected as Hoo-Hoo Day. This will probably be the only opportunity you will have to join the Cloister for some time, and the high priests earnestly desire your attendance. The order is one which you will appreciate, and you can well feel proud of the distinction of being selected for membership. The initiation fee is $10, which includes an elegant emblem.

"Please notify the undersigned whether you will be present or not at the annual assembly.

"Faithfully yours,
PLATT B. WALKER, JR.,
"Scribe of the Cloister;
"W. I. EWART,
"Reigning High Priest of Ptah."

Comments on Concatenations.

An even dozen concatenations were scheduled at different points from Boston to Seattle to be held on September 6, 7, and 8. Most of them were announced for the 8th. With two exceptions—the one at Galveston and the one at Boston—these meetings were all held, and proved notably successful. All the attendant circumstances of some of the meetings have been transmitted to "The Bulletin," while from others only the formal reports have come.

The biggest concatenation in point of numbers initiated was held by Supreme Custodian John Mason at Brookhaven, Miss. Twenty-two men were initiated, and a splendid lot of men they were. It is doubtful if any more enjoyable concatenations have ever been held anywhere than those of the past two years in Southern Mississippi. As Vicegerent last year, a member of the Supreme Nine this year, and a great and enthusiastic Hoo-Hoo by nature all the time, Mr. John Mason has had to do with most of these meetings, and their success is due to his efforts. This last meeting may be put down as the banner one of the whole number. No unusual advertising of the meeting was done and there was no fanfare of trumpets, which too often presages a coming out at the little end of the horn. Mr. Mason simply went to see the score of men he wanted, and then initiated them in his own good style. The initiation was preceded by a street parade, with the accompaniment of some novel and attractive features. A Hoo-Hoo Queen was chosen in the person of Miss Josie Heuck, and she lent to the occasion the grace of an exceedingly comely presence. Through the courtesy of Mr. Fosby, the photographer, of Brookhaven, we are able to present a picture of the Queen as she appeared at the close of the parade. Miss Heuck is the daughter of Mr. Charles Heuck (No. 6078), and a very winsome lady, with a host of friends in the Order in Southern Mississippi. Mr. Mason sums up the meeting at the bottom of his financial report in the terse words: "We had a good time; everything passed off in our usual manner."

MR. R. L. QUEISSER,
The Vicegerent for Northern District of Ohio, with headquarters at Cleveland, and who has done good work for the Order.

The meeting reported from Tybee Island, Ga., was, we believe, the second one to be held at this delightful spot. Vicegerent Wilson was in charge, and had for his very able assistants Mr. William B. Stillwell and Mr. C. W. Saussy, than whom no two better men could be found. The former was chairman of the Committee on Arrangements, while the latter was made Scribe, and handled with businesslike skill and thoroughness all the routine details of the meeting. Vicegerent Wilson writes that through the efforts of these two men and the enthusiasm of the Savannah members generally the meeting was the most successful and enjoyable in every way that he ever held or attended. The occasion was an excellent one to begin with, it being the regular monthly meeting of the Georgia Sawmill Association. This association is such a compact and smooth-working organization and has all its affairs so thoroughly systematized that little more than routine matters were up for action at this meeting, and the members in consequence had ample time to devote to the general programme of entertainment that had been provided by the local lumbermen and Hoo-Hoo. The concatenation was the principal event in this entertainment, and was made a notable one. The Savannah "Morning News" thus reports the meeting:

"The concatenation was held in the dining room of the hotel, which had been prepared for the ceremonies by having the windows covered with black cloth to keep out the eyes of the curious; but if it kept out the eyes, it did not keep in the sounds made by the blind kittens and their visually better-favored brothers. Judging from the racket, the operation of imparting sight is a painful one; for the noises that emanated from the dining room resembled more the storming of a fortress or the hospital ward of the field hospital after a battle than it did the skillful and painless act of giving more light. There were salvos of small arms, interspersed with the 'whack, whack!' of what was afterwards learned to be a split paddle of large and formidable proportions, and which resembled very much the paraphernalia of similar description usually included among theater properties.

"After the last of the litter of twenty-one had received his eyesight, the concatenation was brought to a close. Many of the cats that had not formerly taken the opportunity of getting a bath went for a dip, while the new kittens spent most of the time, until the banquet was announced, in little groups discussing their experiences and wishing for the time to come when they hope to take out on the other fellow all that they themselves went through.

"The banquet was announced at 7:30 o'clock, and was attended by about 100. The tables were arranged in the form of the letter 'H,' the initial letter of Hoo-Hoo. The speakers were seated at opposite sides of the cross piece of the letter—at one side, Judge Robert Falligant, Hon. Pope

Barrow, and Robert M. Hitch; and at the other side, Capt. J. Ferris Cann and Mr. Richard J. Charlton. Mr. W. W. Starr, the toastmaster, sat between Judge Falligant and Mr. Barrow. Judge Falligant spoke in his usual happy vein, and told many humorous stories and anecdotes. Speaking of the Hoo-Hoo, he said when he had first reached the hotel and heard the rattle of musketry, the shouts of the victors, and the groans of the victims, he thought that a new Philippine war had broken out, and was at first inclined to wish he had not come; but that now that he had met the Hoo-Hoo at the banquet board, he felt inclined to say with the same intention that an old lady once did who, in her effort to make her friends at ease, remarked that she was thoroughly at home and wished everybody else was.

"A response to this welcome was made by Snark of the Universe W. S. Wilson, who gave some interesting information about the growth and popularity of the Hoo-Hoo. The other toasts were taken up in the order, though Mr. Barrow excused himself from speaking on the ground of being ill. At the end of the programme impromptu speeches and songs were in order, and many were given, among those received with the greatest favor being a song by Mr. Illiard; 'O Promise Me,' by Mr. J. J. McDonough, Jr.; 'Annie Laurie,' by Mr. W. D. Dixon; and a yodel song by 'Dry Kiln' Moore.

"During the latter part of the banquet the fun waxed fast and furious, and it was continued on the trip up to the city. It consisted on the car of songs, stories, and impromptu speeches of all kinds and on every conceivable subject. It also took the form of practical jokes, but everybody was in a good humor and entered into the spirit of the occasion. The concatenation was acknowledged to be a success. This success is mainly due to the efforts of Mr. William B. Stillwell, chairman of the joint committee, and the assistance that he received from his subordinate workers."

The menu and lists of toasts were printed on miniature circular saws, cut from rift-sawed yellow pine, with a bit of ribbon looped through the mandrel hole. We reproduce these handsome souvenirs herewith.

Another concatenation deserving special mention is the one reported from Pensacola, Fla. The following letter from Brother S. L. Chapman, who was the acting Scribe-noter at the meeting, very well sums up the occasion:

"A most successful concatenation was held here last evening. In the unavoidable absence of Vicegerent Snark Eitzen (who is located at Pensacola, a little village situated on a small body of water called the 'Gulf of Mexico,' some 360 miles from Jacksonville, the coming capital of the 'Flowery State'), Brother J. E. Borden very ably acted as his deputy. Six purblind kittens were duly enlightened in the mysteries of Hoo-Hoo land.

"To say that proceedings waxed hot at times utterly fails to express the actual facts; in fact, at one stage of the game one of the candidates got so warmed up that he caught fire, and as we could not get the fire department quick enough, only an abundant supply of Seltzer water from our Junior's supplies avoided another Chicago catastrophe and brought things to their normal status quo. As the Junior had deprived the gentleman of his worldly means, it was necessary for him to crawl into a lime barrel to avoid a possible chance of appearing before the police court in the morning. How he fixed it up with his wife cannot be learned, as his office is closed to-day. Anyway, he will have his meals served on the mantel for the next nine days, while he nurses tender recollections of grim Hoo-Hoo.

"While somewhat disappointed in the number initiated, owing to several candidates being called out of town on business, too much praise cannot be extended to Brothers J. E. Borden and H. H. Richardson for their indefatigable efforts to work up the concatenation. The proceedings closed in 'the wee sma' oor about the twal,' when all present partook of a most enjoyable session on the roof, finally adjourning on the stroke of two o'clock."

The concatenation at Cincinnati, O., on September 6, while not unusual in the number of initiates (for large concatenations are the rule at Cincinnati), was one of the most enjoyable that ever occurred anywhere. The initiation was performed on board the steamer Levi J. Workum during the afternoon, while the boat plied its way between the picturesque banks of the Ohio. In the evening all who had taken part in the concatenation, including the candidates and their friends and guests, to the total number of about 250, again boarded the steamer for a moonlight excursion. The evening was enlivened with dancing, interspersed with a cake walk and an occasional speech. It was a grand ball and a picnic all in one, and the ladies, who were present in large numbers, were particularly delighted. Vicegerent Shreve writes that the whole credit for the success of the affair is due to Messrs. Benjamin F. Dulweber, T. J. Moffett, and Charles W. Tomlinson. The two first named are prominent lumbermen at Cincinnati, of the firms, respectively, of John Dulweber & Co. and Maley, Thompson & Moffett; while Mr. Tomlinson, of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railroad, is an equally well-known and popular railroad man. An honorary life member was admitted at this meeting in the person of Mr. Sanford Tuthill, manager at Cincinnati of the Cypress Lumber Company.

MISS JOSIE HEUCK,
Of Brookhaven, Miss., who was chosen Queen at the Hoo-Hoo
Celebration held there on September 1, 1900.

Mr. Tuthill, being a bit deficient in the matter of names, was given one, and will hereafter be known as Sanford "Cypress" Tuthill. He is a very popular man, and will prove a valuable member of the Order. It will be remembered that this concatenation was a joint one, Mr. R. L. Queisser, the Vicegerent for the Northern District of the State, at Cleveland, having come down to assist in holding it. He was very cordially received by the members and happily introduced to the Cincinnati lumber people.

Two concatenations, both small in the number of initiates, but worthy of especial mention, nevertheless, are those reported from Marshalltown, Ia., and Milwaukee, Wis. It has been a long time since a concatenation has been held in either of these States, and the two meetings referred to mark the commencement of a campaign for the reestablishment of the interest in the Order. Viewed in this light, both meetings were important and both were successful. The meeting at Marshalltown was held by Vicegerent H. W. Hogue, and he deserves no little credit for the earnest effort he has made under very unfavorable conditions. Vicegerent F. A. Felton, of the Southern District of Wisconsin, was appointed only a few months ago. He set at once about seeing the members who have allowed their membership to lapse, and has done a good work in collecting delinquent dues. He expects to hold another meeting in a couple of weeks, for which he already has a number of applicants for initiation.

Ohio comes in with two concatenations reported in this issue of "The Bulletin." The one at Cincinnati has been already commented upon. The other was held by Vicegerent Queisser at Cleveland. An unfortunate misunderstanding as to the place of holding the initiation reduced the number of candidates very greatly, but those who were present, whether candidates or not, had a very enjoyable time.

Georgia is another State to report two meetings in this issue. The second one occurred at Atlanta on the 8th. The attendance was good and the men initiated of a most excellent character. This meeting marked the close of Vicegerent Wilson's work for the year. He has made a good record, and has endeared himself personally with all with whom he has come in contact.

The following additional comment on the concatenation at Brookhaven reaches us:

"Brookhaven, Miss., September 6.—Saturday last was Hoo-Hoo Day in Brookhaven, and the public was kept on the qui vive for the anticipated procession that, regardless of their enthusiasm, was postponed by an evening shower for fully an hour. There were nine floats, emblematic of the nine lives of the Hoo-Hoo—the tall, black, defiant feline that headed the parade.

"Miss Josie Heuck made a beautiful Queen, and was followed by a float containing her maids of honor—Misses Mary Chambers, Ida Keenan, Laura Penn, Frances Mason, Fannie Moreton, and Mary Ewing. A bevy of beautiful young girls also occupied the next float. They were: Misses Susie Becker, Lottie Magee, Leo Throckmorton, Mamie Powell; Bessie Cooke; Cora Allen, of French Camp; May Sherman, Cleo Smith; and Idalette Harris, of Hazlehurst. Two of the supreme officers—John B. Nalty and John Mason—occupied a drag, with two visiting Hoo-Hoo—Messrs. Kent, of Kentwood, and McLaughlin, of Fernwood. The marshals of the day were Messrs. R. T. Scherck and T. M. Allen, who were effectively arrayed in silk tiles and white linen.

"The floats, or cages, containing twenty-two 'innocents,' or 'kittens,' which were to be initiated before they could be made full-grown 'cats,' and other attractions in the mysteries of the Order, all created interest and amusement. What followed the public display no man knoweth who is not a Hoo-Hoo. It leaked out some way, however, that a feast was spread in the Masonic Temple, of which all the 'cats' partook.

"This second grand concatenation of the Hoo-Hoo in Brookhaven proved to be a success greater than the one of last year, and it is the intention of the members of the local Order to annually celebrate hereafter.

"Messrs. Charles Heuck and Eugene McCormick deserve all praise for the decorations and paraphernalia of the parade."

Hoo-Hoo has been quite active on the Northern Pacific Coast for a month or more past. Closely following the concatenation of Chehalis, Wash., on August 3, came the gathering of kittens at Portland, Ore., on August 17, under the personal supervision of W. H. Braden, Vicegerent Snark of Oregon, who, having been put on his mettle by the Chehalis affair, and not to be outdone by Vicegerent Snark Reed, of Washington, opened the eyes of just as large a class, numbering ten in all. The Hoo-Hoo of Portland were on hand in large numbers, and the concatenation was a most successful one. It was held in the Pythian Hall, corner of Third and Salmon streets, and the following officiated: Snark, W. H. Braden; Senior Hoo-Hoo, R. D. Inman; Junior Hoo-Hoo, T. J. Claffey; Bojum, Clark Evans; Scrivenoter, Norman Ellsworth; Jabberwock, W. H. Fredericks; Custodian, J. H. Spadone; Arcanoper, E. H. Habighorst; Guard, A. L. Bratton. The initiatory service was carried out in an impressive manner, and the beauties of the gardens left and right—and, in fact, all the transcendent glories of Hoo-Hoo land—were duly impressed upon the kittens. At the conclusion of the initiation the old and new Hoo-Hoo adjourned to the Portland Commercial Club rooms, where a sumptuous repast in the nature of an "on the roof" was served in the banquet hall; and afterwards, with W. H. Braden as master of ceremonies, a "feast of reason and a flow of soul" continued until an early hour. To make assurance that he would not be outdone by his colleague of Washington, Vicegerent Braden held yet another concatenation at Portland on September 6, and wired in report of it. At this last meeting he initiated eleven men. Particulars by mail have not yet arrived.

A big concatenation had been fixed for Galveston for the night of the 8th, and elaborate preparations had been made for it by Vicegerent McClure, who had worked so hard to bring his State up to the head of the list in the year's work. He had arranged for the leading men on the committees for the Annual Meeting at Dallas to meet Snark Lock and the Galveston members at this concatenation. At the hour when this is written it is not known how many of them got there or how many of our members are dead or wounded. Mr. McClure has wired the names of the known dead, and is doing what he can for the wounded and bereaved. He has shown himself a valiant man and one of resources in this great calamity.

"We had our usual good time" is Vicegerent G. B. Meiser's short comment on the concatenation he held at Paragould, Ark., on August 28. All the concatenations that have ever been held in Paragould have been good ones, and there are as many high-class members of the Order in the vicinity of that lively little town as are to be found in an equal area anywhere. Without stopping now to look up the record, we feel safe in saying that there have been more men initiated at Paragould in proportion to population than any other town in America.

Prospective Concatenations.

Vicegerent J. J. Hayes, of the Northern District of Mississippi, has issued the following circular:

"Vicksburg, Miss., September 4, 1900.—To All Hoo-Hoo and Lumbermen—Greeting: The retail lumber dealers of the State of Mississippi will have their next semiannual meeting in Vicksburg on September 18 and 19, and a very large gathering is expected. The local Hoo-Hoo will grasp this opportunity and hold here the largest concatenation ever held in the State on the evening of September 18. We would be pleased to have all good Hoo-Hoo and eligible candidates join us on that date. Yours fraternally,
"J. J. HAYES, Vicegerent Snark."

Vicegerent F. A. Felton, of the Southern District of Wisconsin, is determined that the enthusiasm evoked at his recent meeting shall not be allowed to cool off. He has announced another meeting at Milwaukee for the evening of September 29, and is sending out his formal notice.

Vicegerent C. H. Stanton, of the Western District of New York, is announcing a concatenation at Buffalo for the evening of October 3, when he expects to initiate a class of twenty men, all excellent men.

In The Ministry.

Nansen, Pa., August 28.—In the course of human events I have drifted from the sunny regions of Southeast Missouri to the picturesque hills of Northern Pennsylvania, and incidentally have laid down the cares of the lumber business and taken on additional cares by engaging myself in the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church. However, I have not forgotten when we drank together the water which flowed from that mystic fountain. Long live memories of Hoo-Hoo days! I hope I may never forget to send my annual dues. I have often wondered whether the ministerial list was not quite short in our unique Order.

Yours,
W. B. LINN (NO. 6126).

[We have another member in the ministry in the person of Brother W. A. Bowen (No. 2671), now located at Rock Springs, Texas. Brother Bowen is also a Methodist.—Ed.]

Our Political Members.

Mt. Vernon, Wash., August 21, 1900.—Editor "Bulletin": As an example of enterprise in politics displayed by members of the Hoo-Hoo, notice their showing in the Republican County Convention held here last week. F. O. Ehrlich

MR. DAN A. LINDSEY,
Agent of Pennsylvania Railroad at Nashville, Tenn., an enthusiastic and loyal Hoo-Hoo, and a tireless worker in the interest of the Order.

(No. 2009) was nominated for State Representative; M. P. Hurd (No. 6103), for Prosecuting Attorney. Prominent in the convention were G. W. Reed (No. 2421), Snark of this State; B. D. Minkler (No. 5562), C. E. Bingham (No. 5544), J. C. LaPlante (No. 5555), W. J. Munro (No. 4309), Homer Shrewsbury, O. M. Robertson (No. 6785), T. G. Hattie (No. 6781). Among the spectators was E. C. Million (No. 6786), Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of the State. The way their nominations were ratified was almost like attending a Hoo-Hoo spread. Fraternally yours,
NO. 6781.

The Practical Side.

Warren, Ark., August 29, 1900.—J. H. Baird, Esq., Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Sir: Please accept our thanks for your courtesy in publishing our letter in "The Bulletin." We secured a bookkeeper promptly, and are expecting to hire a Hoo-Hoo applicant for stenographer.
Yours very truly,
CANDALL & LEAVITT.

THE GALVESTON HORROR.

SPECIAL CALL ISSUED FOR CONTRIBUTIONS TO A FUND FOR RELIEF.

Following close upon the newspaper announcements of the awful disaster at Galveston, and before the extent of the destruction of life and property was known, came the following characteristic letter from the founder of Hoo-Hoo:

"Chicago, Ill., September 10, 1900.—J. H. Baird, Scrivenor, Nashville, Tenn.—My Dear Jim: Ever since I read the awful news from Texas at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, on Hoo-Hoo Day, I have been impressed that we should send out a call to every member of the Order for 99 cents or more for the immediate creation of a fund to help that suffering people, whether they be Hoo-Hoo or not—if they be Hoo-Hoo who have not other resources, then immediate money; if they be Hoo-Hoo who have suffered that which is worse than the loss of fortune—the violent death of members of their family—some memento or token of sympathy in the way of a memorial parchment of some sort as coming from the whole Order, signed by the Supreme Nine; and if after that there be money left of the fund, that it should be spread about for sweet charity's sake.

"In an endeavor to cut across lots, I this morning sent the following message to all the Supreme Nine, except yourself:

"If you favor special relief call for suffering Galveston, please wire Baird.—Bolling Arthur Johnson, Secr."

"Yours B. T. O. T. G. S. B. C.
"BOLLING ARTHUR JOHNSON."

Nashville Tenn Sept 17 1900
Received from J. H. Baird, Scrivenor
Two Hundred $200.00
to be placed by telegraph to the relief fund.
W. F. McClure "Galveston Texas"
Charge Complimentary
E. R. Bryan Manager.
POSTAL TELEGRAPH-CABLE COMPANY.

Within a few hours the responses to Mr. Johnson's telegrams to the members of the Supreme Nine began to arrive at the Scrivenor's office. The Snark could not be reached for several hours, as all communications with the extreme Southwest were interrupted. The call was printed, however, and held all ready for mailing. Late in the evening a telegram was received from the Snark, who had been called away from home by the danger that threatened his own family. He sanctioned and heartily indorsed the call, and it went into the post office in time to catch the midnight and early morning trains. The call is as follows:

"Relief of Galveston Sufferers."

"In the relief and assistance of those made destitute, helpless, and hopeless by the frightful disaster that has visited Galveston and other Gulf points, whether members of our Order or not, the true spirit of Hoo-Hoo can shine forth. Five of our number are known to be dead at this hour, with many others unaccounted for. The entire family of one brother who was drowned is missing. Between 3,000 and 5,000 people are thought to be dead, and 30,000 are homeless and hungry. They cry aloud for help, and organized Hoo-Hoo will respond. After telegraphic conference, the Supreme Nine has decided to issue this call for voluntary contributions. The money will be put where it will do the most good—for our members first, and others later. Steps will be taken to make the contributions rapidly available. It is purely voluntary, but let all who can respond, and quickly. The usual pittance of 99 cents will light again the lamp of hope in the bosom of many who sit in darkness, but no man is debarred from sending more.

"B. T. O. T. G. S. B. C."
"GEORGE W. LOCK,
"Snark of Universe;
"J. H. BAIRD,
"Supreme Scrivenor.
"Nashville, Tenn., September 11, 1900."

The responses were immediate and liberal. A list of contributions will be printed in this issue, if they can be entered and listed rapidly enough. With a view of making at least a part of the money contributed quickly available, the following telegraphic communication was had with the Snark:

"Nashville, Tenn., September 15, 1900.—George W. Lock, Westlake, La.—Can arrange with bank to make $500 of Galveston relief fund immediately available. I suggest the appointment of two members at Galveston to act with McClure in its proper disbursement. Contributions coming in fast.
J. H. BAIRD, Scrivenor."

"Houston, Texas, September 16, 1900.—J. H. Baird, Nashville, Tenn.—Make arrangements with bank and forward $500 relief funds to Mayor Jones, Galveston.
"GEORGE W. LOCK, Snark."

"Westlake, La., September 17, 1900.—J. H. Baird, Scrivenor, Nashville.—If not too late, send Galveston relief fund to McClure. Apport No. 68 and Honorary 30 to act with him.
GEORGE W. LOCK, Snark."

The following receipt from the telegraph company speaks for itself:

The Known Dead.

All that is definitely known up to the hour this is written as to the number and identity of our members who may have been caught in the disaster is contained in the following telegram from Vicegerent McClure:

"Houston, Texas, September 11, 1900.—J. H. Baird, Nashville, Tenn.—Destruction of life and property appalling. Our dead so far: W. E. Dalley, No. 6852; O. M. Males, No. 6858 (family unlocated); R. D. Bowen, No. 2947; O. Haase, No. 4917; Charles Monroe, No. 4922. Will report further later.
W. F. MCCLURE,
"Galveston, Texas."

As Mr. McClure has reported no further and has been several times heard from, it is to be hoped that no others of our about forty members resident at Galveston are lost. Mr. McClure has been most active in good work, and is proving himself the right man in the right place.

Some Personal Mention.

Brother J. H. Dickinson (No. 4077) is now located at Atlanta, Ga., with offices in the Prudential Building. He is at the head of the Southern business of the Lidgerwood Manufacturing Company, of New York.

R. E. Masters (No. 71) has been summering at Long Beach, Cal. The following bit of newspaper correspondence from that place shows how he has been spending his time:

"R. E. Masters, one of the local expert rod-and-reel men, had an exciting experience in catching a shark this morning. Mr. Masters went out on the power boat Ivy. When about ten miles off toward Catalina, he was trolling with a rod and reel and a twenty-one-thread caddyhunk line, which is the standard at Avalon. He had the hook baited with a mackerel. Two sharks made a dash for the bait, and fought for it till the mackerel was torn to pieces. Then one of the sharks caught the hook and was off like a flash. The skill of the trained fisherman was applied to the reel and rod, but the shark soon had 500 feet of line out. The shark went to the bottom, sukked a moment, came up with a bound, leaped out of the water, and circled about the boat at an amazing pace. It took a twenty-minute struggle to bring him in, and even then he was so full of fight that he bit the gaff hook savagely. The shark measured nearly six feet in length. It was not of the man-eating kind found in the Gulf of Mexico, but was one of the 'man-eaters' (so-called) found near this part of the coast."

Brother Charles F. Degen, of the Augusta Lumber Company, Augusta, Ga., is taking an extended pleasure trip through Colorado and the West. Brother Degen was one of the Georgia delegation to Denver last year, and it is barely possible that even in the short time he stayed at Denver he left hostages to fortune there in the shape of a sweetheart. We do not know anything about this, but suggest it as a possibility. Brother Degen is one of the most loyal and enthusiastic members in the Southeast, and he has done some most excellent work in the interest of the Order in Georgia. He expects to be gone several months.

At another place will be seen the half-tone likeness of Mr. R. L. Queisser, of Cleveland, O., the popular Vicegerent for the Northern District of that State. Mr. Queisser was born at Indianapolis, Ind., in August, 1866, and has been in the railroad business all his life. He is now in the traffic department of the B. & O. and C. T. V. Railroads. He is Past Exalted Ruler of the Elks at Springfield, O., and Past Grand Inner Guard of the Elks' Grand Lodge; a member of the F. & A. M. and of the Holyrod Commandery, Knights Templar, at Cleveland.

Brother W. F. Greaves (No. 6595), general Southern agent of the "Big Four" Railroad, is now located at Cincinnati, his office having been transferred from Atlanta on September 1. He can now be found in the Big Four Building, at Cincinnati, where he will be pleased to have his Southern friends call.

Seeking Light.

The following letters are from sections of the country that should receive the very careful attention of the next Supreme Nine. It is to be regretted, certainly, that these voluntary seekers for admission cannot be accommodated:

"Santiago de Cuba, August 22, 1900.—Mr. J. H. Baird, Scrivenor, Nashville, Tenn., U. S. A.—Dear Brother Baird: I have thirteen blind kittens who are very desirous of having their eyes opened in order that they may enjoy a visit to the land of the Hoo-Hoo; but, unfortunately, I have wandered about on this part of the island for two years wearing my button, without so much as a fellow-cat to gaze upon it. If you can suggest any possible way for holding a conensation here, I am sure I could establish a fair-sized branch of Hoo-Hoo in Cuba in a short time.
"Yours very truly,
"A. E. VON B. PATJO (NO 4913)."

"New York, August 10, 1900.—Mr. J. H. Baird, Esq., Scrivenor, Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Sir: Upon looking through your list of Vicegerents to whom I might apply for instructions and obtain blanks for applications, I find we have no one representing New York City. I have been approached by two first-class men who are eligible to become members and are desirous to join the Order. Will you please advise me what to do? I think, with a little push, several other lumbermen could be induced to enter the land of Hoo-Hoo. Yours truly,

"J. R. SILJMAN (NO. 148)."

"Salt Lake City, July 27, 1900.—Mr. J. H. Baird, Esq., Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Sir and Brother: Utah kittens are ripe for initiation and no Snark to look after them. Can we not get some help and a dispensation to open their eyes? I think we could get a class of fifteen or more at least. Kindly advise whether any Utah member is resident here or in this vicinity, and what arrangements could be made.
"Fraternally yours,
GUS. LURELLWITZ (NO. 1204)."

"Salt Lake City, August 11, 1900.—Mr. J. H. Baird, Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Sir: Yours of the 7th came duly to hand, and noted. I realize the position I am in, being the only member in this State; but, with the prospects of a large class, it seems to me that we can well afford to get some help from neighboring States, either Colorado or Washington. Some opportune time, when some of the Colorado members can get excursion rates, we could arrange to initiate a class of at least twenty-five, and with a little effort may possibly be able to increase this. I forget how many members are required to do the necessary work, but if we could get a few members from neighboring States, I think we can get along first-rate at a nominal expense. Montana also has a large number of people who would be glad to join the Order. Your suggestion in regard to a call for volunteers, paying their expenses, is the only solution to the problem that I can see. Material for future growth is rather limited; therefore I would say that we can make an earnest effort to initiate as large a class as possible. I shall be pleased to do what preliminary work is necessary, and as soon as advised by you or the Supreme Nine I will act accordingly. Yours truly,
"GUS. LURELLWITZ."

Obituary.

W. H. Hassett (No. 3909).

Brother Hassett died at his home, at Tecumseh, Neb., on July 20, from tubercular peritonitis, after an illness of nearly two years, much of which time he suffered intensely. He leaves a wife and four children—two boys and two girls.

William Henry Hassett was born at Lancaster, N. Y., on July 17, 1838; removed to Jersey County, Ill., and engaged in the lumber business in 1865; was married in 1869; removed to Tecumseh, Neb., in 1879, where he was continuously in the lumber business up to the date of his death. Brother Hassett was a Knight Templar, a Knight of Pythias, and a member of the A. O. U. W. and the M. W. A. He was also a member of the Nebraska Retail Lumber Dealers' Association. He was a prominent citizen of his State and an honorable, upright man.

E. N. Marble (No. 4284).

"Memphis, Tenn., September 6, 1900.—J. H. Baird, Scrivenor, Nashville, Tenn.—We regret to inform you that Ezra Newton Marble (No. 4284) died on Sunday night at the hospital at Jonesboro, Ark., and was buried here the following Tuesday by the Knights of Pythias, of which order he was a member in good standing. He was well taken care of during his illness, and all matters pertaining to the burial were well attended to by the Knights of Pythias. He was last employed by the Chapman & Dewey Lumber Company, Jonesboro, Ark. Very truly yours,
"THE REICHMAN-CROSBY CO."

Brother Marble was born at Batchellerville, Saratoga County, N. Y., on August 12, 1858. He was a band sawmill expert, and during his life was located at many different places in the South and West. He was unmarried and apparently without known relatives when he died.

F. D. Alexander (No. 4973).

"New Whateam, Wash., August 4, 1900.—It is with feelings of deepest regret that I have to report the sudden and untimely death of Mr. F. D. Alexander, who for some time past has been the sole member of the firm of Alexander & Stewart. He was one of the foremost business men of this community, and had the happy faculty of inspiring those who knew him with implicit confidence and warm affection. His standing in business and social life was without a blemish, and his sad end has cast a gloom over all who knew him. Yours very truly,

"H. W. BATEMAN (NO. 5543)."

Poster Davis Alexander was born at Lewistown, Pa., on November 15, 1864, and began his lumber career at Fairhaven, Wash., in 1890. He was the sole proprietor of the lumber business conducted under the name of Alexander & Stewart at the time of his death; but the business will be continued by Mr. Bateman, who has been long connected with the firm. At the concatenation held at Chehalis, Wash., on August 3, the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas the divine Creator has removed from our midst Brother Foster Davis Alexander (No. 4973); and

"Whereas his untimely death is deeply and sincerely deplored by the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo, of which he was a highly-esteemed member; therefore

"Resolved, That the members in concatenation assembled do hereby order these resolutions to be forwarded to the Supreme Scrivenor; also to the relatives of the deceased, to whom we extend our sincere sympathy in their hour of bereavement.

VICTOR H. BECKMAN,
"FRANK B. COLE,
"E. H. LEWIS."

W. C. Riddle (No. 6087).

We have received from his wife the following particulars of the illness and death of Brother W. C. Riddle. A brief notice of his death appeared in the last issue of "The Bulletin."

"Mr. Riddle had not been feeling well from the first of February, but attended to business until April 3. His physician pronounced his complaint typhoid fever. He went to the Mercy Hospital, this city [Pittsburgh, Pa.], on April 6. We thought his case a very mild one. He was over the crisis of the fever on April 23. Erysipelas developed in his nose and throat. He lived but thirty hours after the erysipelas developed. He died at 3 o'clock A.M. at the hospital on Wednesday, April 25."
