

The Ladies' Pin.

The cut herewith shows the Hoo-Hoo Ladies Pin. We have yet to see a lady, old or young, who did not want one of these pins the minute she saw it. To have these pins in the hands of pretty women—and a good Hoo-Hoo knows no other sort—is the best possible advertisement for the Order. Every Hoo-Hoo ought to buy one of these pins, have his number engraved on it, and give it to some good woman. Remit $1.00 to the Scrivenoter, and one of these pins duly engraved will be sent by registered mail to any address. It is one of the nicest presents imaginable for a man's sweetheart. Only members in good standing can purchase.

The Practical Side.

The men whose Hoo-Hoo names appear in the notices below are out of work and want employment. This is intended as a permanent department of THE BULLETIN, through which to make these facts known. It is, or should be, read by several thousand business men who employ labor in many varied forms, and it can be made of great value in giving practical application to Hoo-Hoo's central theme of helping one another. It is hoped the department will receive very careful attention each issue.

Put Me Off at Buffalo!!

Arrangements Under Way for the Annual Meeting.

A GOOD TIME COMING.

The members at Buffalo are bestirring themselves actively, and preparations for the annual meeting are well under way. Everybody who attends the Buffalo annual is assured of a good time. Everybody who misses it will be sorry. It is hoped that every member who possibly can do so will begin at once to make his plans to go. The Buffalo people are proud of their magnificent city and they will open wide their gates to welcome their guests. In a letter from Brother C. H. Stanton, he says, among other things: "Last year at Milwaukee, Mr. Frank Snell, Su-

Local and adjacent points of special interest and attractiveness.

A glance at any correct map of the United States will show that Buffalo has been most signally blessed as to ready means of transportation. Including more than a dozen of America's chief trunk lines, Buffalo has thirty railway lines at her disposal. Over one-half the population of the United States and Canada (or 43,000,000 people) can depart from their homes and reach Buffalo in a single night's ride.

Buffalo's location on the famed Niagara Frontier associates with her an historical interest which increases year by year. Then there is the mighty cataract of Niagara, the wild and furious Rapids, the swirling Whirlpool, the Gorge and its many points of peculiar interest, the peaceful Chautauqua Lake and her charming resorts. Olcott Beach (America's newest up to the hour fashionable resort), Grand Island, Crystal Beach, the beautiful Canadian shore preme Junior Hoo-Hoo, made the statement that they could show you the largest sawmill machinery plant in the world, and I replied to him that we have a steel plant in Buffalo, in a corner of which we could place and lose their sawmill machinery plant."

Other things in Buffalo are on the same scale of grandeur, and its location is such as to make it a point of great interest from many standpoints. Nature has supplied with lavish hand those elements, features and conditions which are essential in perfecting and retaining Buffalo's reputation as the Model Convention City of America.

Experience has taught that there are five prime qualities to be considered when a city is to be selected as a meeting place. They are:

Ready means of transportation in every direction.

A roomy and conveniently located assembly hall, desirable hotel accommodations and reasonable rates.

A reasonable but invigorating temperature.

Hospitality and general interest on the part of the people.

resorts, trips to Toronto via Lake Ontario, Dunkirk and Erie via Lake Erie, and scores of others to command the visitor's attention and furnish that variety of entertainment not to be enjoyed in any other section.

Entertainment Features.

The entertainment features of the Buffalo annual meeting will be up to the high standard set on previous occasions, which is saying a great deal, as everybody knows who has ever attended a Hoo-Hoo annual meeting. It is too early yet to say just what these features will be, but the program will include a trip to the Falls, some delightful saais on the lake, and many other pleasures. The annual banquet of the Osirian Cloister will be the usual elegant and brilliant affair, and will probably occur on the evening of September 8, following the initiatory ceremonies of the Cloister. The banquet is always an elaborate function and all the ladies at the annual are expected to be present at this entertainment. It is supposed to be a full-dress affair, but some men have a rooted aversion to swallow-tail coats, and some women look better in high-neck gowns. It is, therefore, the proper thing to do as one thinks best in these matters.

Ladies are Welcome.

The Buffalo Hoo-Hoo want it particularly understood that in their program of entertainment the ladies will be especially considered. It is hoped that every married Hoo-Hoo will be accompanied by his wife and his daughters, if he has any, and that as many of the unmarried members as possibly can encompass it, will get married between now and September 9 next. Snark Norris has promised to be on hand with his bride, and it is hoped that his commendable determination will prove an inspiration to others.

Hotel Accommodations.

Buffalo has ample hotel accommodations. It is customary for the local committee to designate some particular hotel as "official headquarters," and the members of the Supreme Nine are expected to stop at the hotel so designated. It is not obligatory on the members to go to that hotel, however. Each man can select his own stopping place, but most of those in attendance find it convenient and pleasant to stop at the official headquarters. The matter of selection of the hotel has not yet been decided. When it is, full information as to rates, location, etc., will be published in the Bulletin, and in all the lumber papers. Later on, also, full information will be published concerning railroad rates.

The annual meeting will be called to order at 9:09 o'clock a. m., September 9, but it is best to be in Buffalo September 8. All the members of the Supreme Nine will arrive that day at the latest, and some of them, including the Scrivenoter, will be there as early as the 7th, as there is always considerable preliminary business to attend to. Those members who are to be initiated into the Osirian Cloister should by all means be on hand September 8, and all members who are accompanied by ladies should make it a point to arrive early.

The House of Hoo-Hoo.

Some of our members seem to confuse the House of Hoo-Hoo with the executive office of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo, and frequently the Scrivenoter of Hoo-Hoo receives remittances intended to cover the cost of shares in the House of Hoo-Hoo. To make the matter clear, this little notice is published and will appear in The Bulletin from time to time for the next several months:

J. H. Baird is the Supreme Scrivenoter of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo. He keeps all the records and handles all the money. Remittances for dues to Hoo-Hoo should be sent to him at 513 Willcox Building, Nashville, Tenn.

The House of Hoo-Hoo is an enterprise recently incorporated and having for its object the erection of a club house for lumbermen at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904. The office of the House of Hoo-Hoo is 1200 Fullerton Building, St. Louis, Mo. The officers are as follows: President, Nelson Wesley McLeod, St. Louis; Vice-President, Benjamin LaFon Winchell, St. Louis; Treasurer, William Ashley Rule, Kansas City; Secretary, William Eddy Barns, St. Louis; Assistant Secretary, George Edward Watson, St. Louis.

This enterprise is worthy of your support. Its field of usefulness is broad and it is receiving the enthusiastic support of many of the most prominent business men in the country.

A share of stock in the House of Hoo-Hoo costs $9.99.

Detailed information can be secured from Mr. Geo. E. Watson, Assistant Secretary, 1200 Fullerton Building, St. Louis, Mo.

Comments on Concatenations.

Jeanerette, La.

Seventeen new kittens made their advent into Hoo-Hoo at the concatenation at Jeanerette, La., May 30. Vicegerent G. M. Reddy could not be present, but the loyal members in Jeanerette and vicinity did very effective work, as the initiates all agreed. Brother Junius E. Cropper (No. 7941), who acted as Senior Hoo-Hoo, wrote us all about the meeting. Probably he did not intend for his communication to be published in full, but it is a good thing and very interesting. Brother Cropper has a breezy and picturesque style, and his ready wit would have indicated his nationality even if he hadn't said a word about being Irish. We tried to get a good photograph of this brother, but failed, for reasons set forth in the following letter:

JEANERETTE, La., May 31, 1902.

Mr. James H. Baird, Nashville, Tenn.

Dear Brother Jim: I send as requested my photo. As this is the only one I have, it is taken with my wife; but I send it anyway. You can take mine from it. I have another one, cabinet size, where I am whole, not the lesser half, but my wife won't let me send it. She says the whole map of Ireland is imprinted on it, and my nose is like the main thoroughfare in Cork. "I am proud of my Irish," but she does not like Patties, Mikes or O'Rooks. Of course we never differ in any thing except nationality, and life is too short to let one fall out on such small things. I always say yes if she says I am Dutch, Dago or Cagan. So, Jim, here is my mug. If you don't think it will scare some good candidate or kitten, use it in The Bulletin. My friend and brother, Eddie Marks, wanted me to loan it to him to advertise his triple-strength larc leather; says it looks so tough it would represent the toughness of his special tanned hides.

So bye bye, old man,
J. E. CHORREX (No. 7941).

The Mayor of Jeanerette, Joseph F. Moore, issued a proclamation giving Hoo-Hoo freedom of the city on the evening of the 30th, and citizens were ordered to be indoors by 9:09 o'clock.

Here is Brother Cropper's description of the meeting:

JEANERETTE, La., May 31, 1903.

We had as scheduled a grand concatenation last night. It was the greatest success of the season, notwithstanding all the drawbacks; no notices out, no District Snark, a pour-down—the first rain in forty-five days (and as you know, kittens dread water); we had the finest street parade on record. Also had a real auto-mule-obile, patented May 30, 1903. Eighteen candidates filled application blanks and started; but one fainthearted kitten bristled his fur perpendicular on his back, and in sight of the hall, broke from the ranks, gave a horrible caterwaul and made for the adjacent neck of woods, with Mr. S. R. Guyther and F. E. Williams in hot pursuit, far in the rear. They met a coon, who says: "Mr., is you after dat kitten? If you is, you can't kotch him. Dat kitten dun gone!" Brother Jim, I believe the candidate is still on the run. I was ably supported by Brothers Eddie Marks and Eddie Schwartz and Eddie Curtis. This Eddie trio has no equal in Hoo-Hoo. The whole success of this concatenation lies in this Eddieism. The seventeen stayed kittens are an honor to our great order. These seventeen logs (Cypress logs) was the finest timber in 400 miles of Cypress Swamps of Louisiana; only selects No peck, no windshakes, rotten knots, sap docks. Superfine, and we only sawed out first, second-class and tank stock—not a single board of selects or saps—you know the Jeanerette Lumber & Shingle Company has a double-cutting telescope bandmill, cuts "going and coming." To keep up our record we had a double cutting concatenation. The "On the Roof" at the Linesetter Hotel was a grand banquet. I think Mr. George Linesetter is deserving to be a Hoo-Hoo, but he can only feed the cats and kittens, and sigh and say, I only wish I was a cat. This is our menu:

Catnip	Catastrophe, Creole Style	Francols
	Catfish a la Louisiane
Catawba		Cant
Catbird	Cypress Sauce
	Catamount with Catnip
Caterpillars		Crawfish
Clear and A	Bayou Teche
Catfish	Sau
Black Cats, Tom Cats, Pussy Cats, Kittens, some more
Cats, Shavings, Sawdust, Shingle, Stiver's Cream, Fappy
Cakes, Selects Cafe Noir Acadian.
Cigars, pecky top	Beer, clear of knots.

JUNIUS E. CROPPER.

We had several newly made kittens of the New Iberia Manufactory with us, who seemed to enjoy it immensely, who assisted us greatly in the "step high" and "on the roof" Brother Gonsoulin would be eating yet if he hadn't stopped to get the Hoo-Hoo yell, and the newly-made brother, A "Cyclone" Demozelle, swept his plate from the board. He is passionately fond of crawfish, and surely his share. His spare hours are spent in catching the little crawlers.

Well, Brother Jim, with this writing I am preparing to leave this little city—many dear friends and brothers to leave behind. It is with the greatest regrets and reluctance I drag myself away, but with better prospects I am to take up my future abode in the little mill town of King, Ryder Lumber Company, Bon Ami, La., so my future address will be there. Be sure and address my Bulletin there as I would not like to miss a single copy. I am forever and ever,

Yours in Hoo-Hoo,

JUNIUS E. CROPPER (No. 7941).

Kittens present at concatenation: 3724, 7947, 9919, 7020, 7946, 7938, 16-A, 79, 7941, 4500, 7023, 9942, 7015, 7950, 241, 460-A, 4939, 4918, 5594, 554, 7931, 713, 1263, 9048, 4579, 458-A, 7933, 419-A, 7018, 4916, 7944, 7009, 463-A, 7013, 7945.

Thirty-five old Tommies and seventeen and one-half kittens. Fifty-two on the roof. As the Wildcat escaped about half way. Faint heart never won fair lady, or chicken heart never makes a good Hoo-Hoo. No. 7941.

Nashville, Tenn.

Local lumbermen and Hoo-Hoo had an interesting evening, Friday, June 5. A joint dinner of the lumbermen was followed by the initiation of eleven new members into the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo. At 7:30 o'clock Friday night the Lumbermen's Association of Nashville met with the local members of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo and a dinner was served at Dorider & Sidebottom's. Covers were laid for seventy-five.

The dinner repast was followed by three-minute speeches from many of those present, one of the most interesting talks being made by Bro. S. Lieberman, who made a stirring appeal to the lumbermen outside of the Lumbermen's Association to come into the fold. Others who spoke were F. M. Hamilton, J. W. Love, W. R. Cornelius, Jr., Byrd Douglas, J. H. Baird, J. H. Baskette, O. M. Laing and Charles Cohn.

After the conclusion of the dinner the members of the Hoo-Hoo, numbering about forty, and the eleven candidates for admission to the order, adjourned to the Grand Lodge room at the Masonic Temple. Eleven "kittens" were put through the paces and taught to purr intelligently.

The concatenation was one of the most successful ever held in Nashville. The officers holding the concatenation were: Snark, J. A. Hamilton; Senior Hoo-Hoo, John W. Love; Junior Hoo-Hoo, J. H. Baskette; Bojum, Arthur B. Ransom; Scrivenoter, A. E. Baird; Custocatian, Omar O. Chestnutt; Jabberwock, Joseph Wallace, Jr.; Arcanoper, George Hare, and Gurdon, Darden Asbury. A number of out of town lumbermen and Hoo-Hoo were in attendance at the dinner and afterwards at the concatenation.

In the absence of Vicegerent Hamilton Love, Brother James A. Hamilton (No. 3638) of the Indiana Lumber Company, took charge of the meeting.

Winchester, Ky.

Vicegerent Geo. W. Schmidt held a good concatenation at Winchester, Ky., June 5, initiating a class of seventeen. The Bulletin is indebted to Brother J. C. Taylor (No. 8677) of Barrel and Box, for the write-up of this meeting:

This time it happened at Winchester, Ky. Last winter there was the greatest concatenation that ever happened over at Clay City, Ky., and since that time the Great Black Cat has been so active in this State that the country is getting famous for other things besides bluegrass, whiskey and trouble. In fact, if the good work keeps on, the troubles which have been worrying Pennyroyal corner of the State will soon be dispelled by the worrying elements being converted into good Hoo-Hoo kittens.

Just when or how it started is not on record, but from the best information at hand, it seems that Frank Russell of Clay City, Ky., discovered a nice lay-out for a Hoo-Hoo garden at Winchester, with quite a bunch of kittens peeping through the cracks of the fence with a desire to get over and play in the garden. He communicated this discovery to Father George W. Schmidt of Louisville, and H. Green Garrett of Winchester, telling Schmidt to keep the Great Black Cat of Hoo-Hoo in order while he and Garrett and R. M. Scobee, George Hon and Colonel Perry of Winchester proceeded to round up the kittens, preparing the garden, etc. They did their work well, as all who attended will testify, and when the great bunch of faithful Hoo-Hoo gathered at Winchester Friday, June 5, they found seventeen frisky kittens anxious to play in the garden and seek the light of Hoo-Hoo, and they got what they were looking for, while playing in this great bluegrass garden.

The initiates were: Jeff Davis Spencer, Rogers, Ky.; A. G. Locknana, Winchester, Ky.; John A. Graham, Lexington, Ky.; David Graham, of John A. Graham & Co., Lexington, Ky.; Henry C. Nunnally of Nunnally Coal Co., Richmond, Ky.; W. P. Azbill, Azbill & Bush, Winchester, Ky.; James P. Scobee, Scobee & Williams, Winchester, Ky.; J. W. Scobee, R. P. Scobee & Son, Winchester, Ky.; C. T. Derickson, Reliance Manufacturing Co., Winchester, Ky.; B. L. Drake of B. Y. Drake, Slade, Ky.; C. L. McClure, Swann-Day Lumber Co., Clay City, Ky.; G. E. Tomlinson, Reliance Manufacturing Co., Winchester, Ky.; Louie Bradley, Swan-Day Lumber Co., Clay City, Ky.; W. R. Wallace, K. & P. Lumber Co., Winchester, Ky.; J. G. Brown, W. P. Brown, Indianapolis, Ind.; D. T. Matlack, Central Miss. Co., Winchester, Ky.; C. Childers, Climax Stave & Tie Co., Campton, Ky.

The officers of the occasion were: Snark, George W. Schmidt; Senior Hoo-Hoo, R. R. Perry; Junior Hoo-Hoo, Col. Rodger D. Williams; Bojum, J. C. Rash; Scrivenoter, J. B. Hall; Jabberwock, O. H. Pollard; Custocatian, Frank B. Russell; Arcanoper, Frank Griffin; Gurdon, H. G. Garrett.

ROGER D. WILLIAMS,
Of Lexington, Ky., a natural born Junior Hoo-Hoo.

Among the faithful Hoo-Hoo who answered to the roll call were the following: 9921, 9930, 9935, 9925, 9928, 9933, 9918, 9932, 9920, 9939, 9919, 9923, 3310, 9931, 2845, 9934, 4040, 3324, 3315, 8671, 3325, 3304, 783S, 1849, 7241, 1711, 4352, 8677, 3308, 1839, 7304, 3656, 8372, 5964, 3328, 4645, 5255, 3302, 4653, 3322, 4661, 7240.

The kittens were rounded up at the office of the Sun-Sentinel, the great weekly paper owned and edited by Col. R. R. Perry, who is a veteran Kentuckian, and devout Hoo-Hoo, postmaster of the town, and is always ready with a good story or powerful editorial, as the occasion may require. His newspaper office and press room are located in a church building, and he claims his surroundings are appropriate, for he makes it a point to preach sound doctrine in his paper. While some of us read the editorials in his paper and others explored his work room, the workers of the delegation trimmed the whiskers of the kittens, filled out their histories and prepared them for the session in the garden. And we need only say that Col. Roger Williams was the junior for all of you who to know him and his work to know it was great.

Father Schmidt presided with dignity, and all the other boys did their work faithfully. Frank Russell and J. B. Hall were specially active, and E. L. Edwards of Dayton, Ohio, was pressed into service where he did excellent work.

After the kittens had been duly exercised and their eyes opened to the light of Hoo-Hoo there was an "on the roof," at which the orators of Hoo-Hoo, including Garrett, Scobee, Hon, Perry, Pollard and Ballard and a lot of others entertained us when the cigars came along.

The spread was on the Dutch lunch order. It was mighty good, and there was plenty of it, and in addition to the regular refreshments that go with such a spread, there was a small bottle of soothing syrup distilled by a firm named Taylor, especially for this occasion, at every plate.

There is no use to try to tell you all that happened, either at the sessions or at the lunch, for there was something happening all the time, and no one man could keep up with it.

In the first place the people were there to make it happen. There was General Passenger Agent Charles Scott of the Lexington & Eastern Railroad, who not only made a half-rate for the occasion but came along himself, like the good Hoo-Hoo he is, and helped to make things pleasant and lively.

Frank Griffin came up from Louisville to see that the L. & N. was properly represented, and he certainly did his part.

Nearly all of those who were kittens at the great Clay City concatenation were in attendance, and they were all alive, wide-awake and doing something all the time.

Mayor Scobee of Winchester gave us the keys of the town early in the game, and the business men of the town called in the services of the local artist and decorated the show windows with black cat pictures and words of welcome to Hoo-Hoo.

Col. Roger D. Williams said he was not feeling very good. He had caught cold by the exposure at Camp Jackson with the wind and rain playing havoc with their tents. You would never have known though from the work he did that he was not feeling all right.

J. D. Cone of the American Lumberman worked his camera on the gathering at the "on the roof" session.

The Winchester boys certainly did make it pleasant for us and we are all proud of them and of the hospitality of the town.

Bainbridge, Ga.

Buffalo, N. Y.

The list of Hoo-Hoo at Buffalo is larger by fifteen since Vicegerent John F. Feist's excellent concatenation June 15. The meeting was a great success in every respect, and already a good class is in sight for another concatenation which will be held soon, though the date has not yet been fixed. Also a concatenation is in early prospect at Tonawanda, N. Y., and at Toronto, Canada. A great deal of interest is manifested by the members throughout the State of New York, and doubtless several good meetings will occur between now and the time of the annual meeting.

Whatcom, Wash.

Vicegerent E. Clark Evans rounded up thirty-one festive kittens at his big concatenation at Whatcom, Wash., June 12. A large number of members were present, and the occasion was a very jolly one indeed, as is indicated by an article in the local paper, of which the following is an excerpt:

"This is Hoo-Hoo day on Bellingham Bay, and the Black Cats are swarming hither by train and boat from all points of the compass. The occasion is a concatenation to be held in Whatcom today for the purpose of promoting the objects of the Order and to conduct any blind kitten that may chance to be here through the infernal regions, which are said to be as hot as Hades.

"There are at least 150 Black Cats in the city at the present time and about 40 blind kittens, the latter being candidates for the initiatory degree, and a furnace has been especially built for this occasion. It will be heated seven times hotter than usual and the singing process will no doubt make the kittens squirm with the activity for which the wily felines are noted.

"There is a distinguished lot of Black Cats for this occasion, the best material in the State. A Hoo-Hoo is always jolly. The Order is conducive to everything that goes to make a man happy. They are very calm today but when the shades of night fall it is said that the caterwaulings of the cats and kittens will issue forth in shrilling shrieks, and the Bedlamic fury will be intense.

"The concatenation tonight will be held in K. P. hall. Vicegerent E. Clark Evans of Seattle will call the Black Cats to order at exactly nine minutes past 9 o'clock. There will be 40 black kittens in the steamchests to be transferred into regulation Black Cats. Each candidate or kitten has nine "stunts" to perform, which if acted properly, admits them to the torture chamber. The proficiency with which the kittens execute the "stunts" decides which degree, there being nine different degrees to choose from. The dry kiln degree is one, and a hot one, too. There are kittens here from all over the State and from Oregon. There are Black Cats from the East and from the various Pacific Coast States. They are a representative body of men, the very best citizenship of the Union.

A grand banquet will follow the initiatory work. The banquet will be held in I. O. O. F. hall and will be served by Gus Bettman, the well known caterer. Around the festal board will be exemplified the real objects of the Order—the principles of good fellowship. The local committee of Hoo-Hoo, J. R. Keans, H. B. Bateman, George Spencer, have worked assiduously to make the event a complete success. A Hoo-Hoo is a hale, well-met fellow and when there is a bunch of them together a good time is always assured. They simply put their heads together, build an impromptu program and it's always a peach. They all swear "by the tail of the Great Black Cat."

The napkins used at the session on the roof were embellished with a picture of the Black Cat, and the menu, as will be seen, was most unique:

Consomme of Balled Hay	Soup	Puree of Sawdust

Florence, S. C.

The concatenation at Florence, S. C., June 12, introduced Hoo-Hoo into a section of the State where the Order has not heretofore had a following, and the meeting there will doubtless be followed by another in the near future. Vicegerent J. E. Fitzwilson was unable to be present, owing to the sudden death of his wife, which sad event occurred June 10. In his absence, ex-Vicegerent W. B. Dozier of Columbia, went over and took charge of affairs, and the meeting was a most enthusiastic one, the class initiated being uncommonly good in point of quality.

The following resolutions on the death of Mrs. Fitzwilson were adopted:

Resolved, That it is with deep regret and sorrow we have heard of the very recent death of the wife of our beloved Vicegerent, Mr. J. E. Fitzwilson; and we hereby tender to him our heartfelt sympathy in this saddest of all afflictions.

Death's harvests are always gloomy, desolate and sorrowful, but when he takes a young wife in the fullness and completeness of womanhood, words cannot tell the desolateness of the grief and the sadness. Scarcely old enough to look back, she crossed into the beyond ere her hands had begun to gather the full blown flowers of earth's better gifts. Yet while death has robbed a home of its most beloved treasure, Heaven has gained another voice to chant the music around the great Throne.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Mr. Fitzwilson, and to the Scrivener, at Nashville, Tenn., for publication in The Bulletin.

W. W. LUMPKIN,
CHARLES KANKIN,
B. D. DARGAN,
W. B. DOZIER,

Committee.

Charleston, W. Va.

At Vicegerent H. A. Hollowell's concatenation at Charleston, May 29, the class numbered thirteen, which from a Hoo-Hoo standpoint is a very lucky number, indeed. Certainly the meeting was a great success. Brother W. S. Grassie (No. 121-A), of the Capital City Supply Company, was the local man in charge of the preliminary arrangements, and he and his assistants deserve much credit for their excellent work.

Beaumont, Tex.

The Texas Vicegerents do the most astonishing things in the way of holding big concatenations, but their modesty is so great that they send in to The Bulletin only the most meager details of their splendid exploits. The concatenation held at Beaumont by Vicegerent Kilburn Moore, June 13, was a mammoth affair, a class of forty-five having lined up for initiation. The loyal brethren at Beaumont rendered most enthusiastic assistance and the occasion was a memorable one. The following satisfying menu was served at the session on the roof:

William of Fare—Hotel de Log
Saturday, June Thirteenth, Nineteen Hundred and Three.
Chilled Turkey, Sawdust Dressing
Potato Salad, Boarding House Style
Golden Punch
Cold Ham, a la Swine	Hen Salad, Pine Top Dressing

Approaching Concatenations.

Vicegerent J. M. Burns will hold a concatenation at Asheville, N. C., July 3.

Vicegerent J. E. Duke is arranging for a concatenation at Norfolk, Va., July 3.

A concatenation will be held by Vicegerent M. V. Geagan at Colorado Springs, Col., during the meeting of the Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico Lumber Dealers' Association, July 7, 8 and 9. The exact night of the concatenation has not been yet decided.

Obituary.

Mrs. J. E. Fitzwilson, wife of Vicegerent J. E. Fitzwilson (No. 8683), died at her home in Columbia, S. C., June 10. Her death was a great shock to her many friends, and a large number of the members of the Order sympathize deeply with Brother Fitzwilson in his great bereavement. At the concatenation at Florence, S. C., June 12, fitting resolutions were adopted and are published on another page of this paper.

Notes and Comments.

From time to time a great many newsy letters are received at this office from the members. Indeed, as I have said before, whatever of interest attaches to The Bulletin is largely due to the fact that so many of the brothers are kind enough to help me out in my editorial work. That is one reason why I so often publish in these columns the compliments paid the paper. I think the members deserve as much credit as myself, and I feel sure they take an honest pride in The Bulletin's popularity. Just now I am under obligations to Brother H. T. Olcott (No. 6710) of the Bluff City Lumber Co., Pine Bluff, Ark., for a very interesting letter, in which he gives a graphic description of the scenes that took place in his town in connection with the recent remarkable exodus of the colored population. Brother Olcott says:

Pine Bluff, Ark., June 2.—Thinking you might care to hear about Pine Bluff and how she lost about ninety-eight per cent of her negro population last week, I write as follows, although a poorer hand at expressing oneself would be hard to find:

About three weeks since, a religious fanatic, Ellen Durnet (negro), was very sick in bed, but suddenly got up and went to church, and in the "Speriance Meetin," which is a sort of rider to the preacher's eloquence, told the people how 'twas dat de Lord tol her he would make her well and dat she wuz to go out and warn all de peopul dat on the 29th day of de Lord, 1903, in de mont ob May, dar would be a cyclone and flood dat would 'stroy Pine Bluff and foh six miles round, and foh de peopul to fly from de wrath to come—dat a white boss would come outer heaven, snortin' fiah, yes, Lord! And de white doves would fly down and warn the peopul," etc.

The negroes assembled in the church readily fell under the spell and spread the news. The white folks were amused at first, then got uproarious, but as the days passed and about Monday, the 25th, help began to give notice that they were "gwine," matters sobered and storm talk was the gist of all conversations. Upon reference to the almanac it was seen that there would be a storm period about this date, so that positive denial could not be given the storm story. A local insurance company sought to promote trade by distributing circulars with scare headlines stating that Hicks, the weather man, and the Prophet Ellen said the storm would be here on time and advising them to invest in a cyclone and fire insurance policy. This helped clinch matters with the superstitious. Real estate men also posted placards advising the sale of real estate to them before the big blow. The now crazed negroes commenced to sell property of all description at probably an average of ten per cent on its cost and the second-hand furniture men had more than they could do taking in stuff—much of it practically new at ten per cent of its value. Real estate men made good deals, one instance under my observation being a $1,000 lot and house going for $40, enough to move family away, and other instances reported equally as absurd.

"Thought she was the Lord's chosen prophet."

A mass meeting was called and prominent white lawyers, negro preachers and men of influence tried to stem the tide of superstition and apparently the two thousand people gathered seemed to have quieted down. One local negro preacher, Rev. Battles, told his people that they should not listen to this half-crazy negro woman, who was without character, and that all the matter was that she had filled up on "a mess of po'k and had had dreams." Mayor King White, and other local men advised them not to run away, but be brave and go down by the white folks; that they need not expect the white folks to be favorable to taxing themselves to educate the negroes if education had made no change in them, as shown by their intention to run at the first alarm. Sixty of the students of the Branch Normal, a State college for negroes, left in spite of all the efforts to quiet them, and this will probably be remembered when an appropriation is asked to educate the negro in future.

Almost all industries were paralyzed several days before the storm—trade fell off in stores and the drays had a bonanza. Teamsters charged $5 for a small load hauled outside the six mile limit. Trains left baggage and negroes that could not be accommodated, although extra coaches and extra baggage cars were attached. White women who had kissed kitchen work good-bye years before were compelled to nurse, cook, wash and otherwise take care of necessary work, as the hotels and restaurants were so short of help they could barely accommodate the patrons they already had. The installment men had their hands full, seeing that installment stuff did not leave. One could not collect any sort of money—rent, payments, etc., as they were keeping it for emergencies. When you asked them where they were going they invariably replied, "I don't know, boss, where I'm gwine, but I'ae gwine jess de same."

Many left hungry; one old nigger, with five in his family, only had twenty-five cents worth of cheese for the three days they were out.

There was rain and some lightning, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. At Little Rock, where many negroes went, there was a severe storm and lights had to be used. As the "prophetess" had been placed at Little Rock because she had said if they left her in jail here the storm would not come, many thought the Lord was angry and sent the storm there. Some boarded the 3 p. m. train and returned to Pine Bluff and went through another storm. They were between the "debbil and de deep blue sea," but those that were under the trees on the six mile line stood the rain, believing that Pine Bluff was being destroyed. At one of the camps the tents blew down on them and it is said they lay on their backs in water all night moaning and offering prayers.

Before the storm and while things were excited a negro preached social equality, stating that any negro was good enough to marry a white woman, but his remarks were cut very short and he struck a "hot trail" for tall timber. Laborers that wanted to work were intimidated and coerced into going over the six mile limit and some of the reckless ones declared it to be their intention to come back after the storm and plunder. One negress' cry was to the effect that she hoped "de Lord would kill all de white trash for she shore wanted a diamond ring." As a precaution the town was patrolled by mounted citizens, and if there was any lawlessness, it did not come to light. It is estimated that out of ten thousand negroes in town, there were probably less than two hundred on the day of the storm and hundreds have not come back yet and the fugitives are still dragging in slowly. Industries are running but are all short of help. Many returned to find themselves jobless. New school teachers were appointed in place of those that fled—the school board, taking the stand that those ignorant and superstitious enough to run from the prophecy of a half-witted negro, were not fit to educate children.

The "prophetess" was turned loose the 30th and given a ticket to Pine Bluff, but she left the train at a halfway station, being afraid to face her people. One old negro said he had been working since the war to get a start and now had lost it all and had to start again, and if he could get his hand on the woman, he "shore would burn her." The negroes are pretty well ashamed and it is well that Ellen cometh not to the home of her forefathers.

Some negro woman that belongs to the "Holy Ghost" church said: "Its only de ignorant dat kant understand de ways ob de Lord that makes fun, caze we saved de town wid our prayers." The town is a sufferer to the extent of probably $50,000—undoubtedly twice this.

Ellen predicted, or it is rumored so, that a pigeon would light on the courthouse at a certain time. However, some practical jokers caught a white pigeon and fastened it to the hand of the town clock by a rubber band, which gathered a crowd numbering hundreds, until finally the bird was released. At the same time a large white goose was let down from the top of the tower which made a bee line for the crowd when it reached the ground. Those negroes would rather have been shot than to have had that goose touch them and they considered it a direct message from God.

The negroes have it that the chief of police went to arrest the woman but some doves flew on his shoulder and he threw up his hands saying, "My God, Ellen, I came to arrest you, but God has rebuked me."

There were a great many white people with weak nerves that could not stand the racket and had urgent business at neighboring towns, but they have since wished they had stayed, as they are "paying the fiddler now" and their neighbors are laying it on rather heavy.

If you ever tried to corner a young calf when it was scared, you know about how hard it is to stem a tide of superstition that finds such fertile soil among the negroes.

These same practical jokers guaranteed to have the white horse come down the river on a raft with fire from his nostrils, but the elements prevented and the negroes were too busy trying to get out of town to wait for this part of the prediction. There was to be one building that the Lord was going to save—the courthouse. On Friday quite a crowd of refugees camped around that building so they would not have to leave town, but could hang to the only building that would be saved. There are many laughable incidents, but it is doubted that even the false alarms and the discomforts they suffered have dampened their ardor as to "direct word from God" and their being called to preach the word.

Lack of time prevents any further remarks. This is written you because you expressed a desire to know about the matter, and although I have tried to eat up as little space as possible, I note the size is rather large.

"When some one liberated a white goose."

Many argue that we should invite white labor to come in and let the negro go to more congenial climes, but, while the negro has his faults, they are noted for spending all they make and as we don't have the white laborer it would undoubtedly be hard to get desirable labor, and a trade sustainer like the negro. I expect if the North received our negroes and had the actual experience, there would be the usual change of sentiment like those who come South to live.

H. T. OLCOTT (No. 6710).

CHICAGO, June 12, 1903.

Dear Brother Baird: About two weeks ago, I hired a lumber inspector by the name of "Ryan Gowdy," who wore a Hoo-Hoo button on the lapel of his coat, to go to work for us at Greenville, Miss. I advanced him $25 expense money, and on May 31, our Greenville branch received advice from him from Memphis, that he would not go to Greenville, as he had been offered a better position at Memphis. He also said in his letter that he would return the $25 expense money advanced him to this office, but so far we have heard nothing from him, and I do not even know who employed him. As I find no man by his name in the Hoo-Hoo book for 1902, I should appreciate it very much if you would kindly advise me if he is still a member in good standing, or whether he has been dropped from the list of Hoo-Hoo and is wearing the button unrightfully. Thanking you in advance, I remain,

Faternally yours,

WILLIAM WILMS (No. 7996).

Nobody by the name of Ryan Gowdy is a member of Hoo-Hoo. The incident related by Brother Wilms emphasizes the necessity of being careful in the matter of strangers who wear Hoo-Hoo lapel buttons. As I said in last issue, a great many attempts are from time to time made by non-members to secure buttons from this office. I received a letter this morning from a New Orleans jewelry firm that they had a customer who wanted to buy a lapel button for $2.50, and asking that I send a button that would retail for that price. I wrote the concern that Hoo-Hoo Jewelry cannot be purchased except from this office. A member in good standing can buy a button for $2.10. Why should he want to buy from a New Orleans firm at a higher price? From numerous incidents of this sort I have been led to suspect that efforts are sometimes made by unscrupulous persons to work the Order, and I trust the members will take due precautions to head off imposters.

Those who read the June Bulletin will remember a letter from Brother A. E. Thomas of Cardwell, Mo., who complained of a swindler who was operating over in that part of the country. At the time the letter was published I was under the impression that a mistake of some sort was made as the number given by Brother Thomas (he did not give the name of the man), was that of a now initiate whose application blank was endorsed by one of our very best Vicegerents. I was, therefore, afraid to publish the number as given by Brother Thomas, but I did publish the letter as a warning to our members to have nothing to do with the "peart chap," as Brother Thomas called him, who seems to be going about buying lumber and giving drafts on the fictitious firm of "Harkin & Topin." Since then it has turned out that Brother Thomas did give the wrong number, for the reason that the swindler gave the number of a man in good standing, but I now have the name of the peart chap and formal charges have been promptly preferred against him.

And this brings me to the subject of expulsions. I find that in connection with this there exists a great deal of confusion in the minds of the members. Some of them seem to think that a man can be expelled simply on the strength of a letter written this office stating in a general way that he is no good. Others harbor the belief that the Scrivenoter has the authority to fire a man out if convinced that he is a bad man. If one man had that much power, he would not be simply a member of the Supreme Nine, but very much of an autocrat—a little (in czar on wheels. For the enlightenment of those who are not quite clear on this matter I am going to publish herewith that part of our Constitution and By-laws relating to expulsions, as printed in the handbook:

ARTICLE VIII.

SEC. 4. If any member of this Order shall violate its Constitution, By-laws or Ritual, or engage in any unlawful or disreputable business, or in any manner bring public shame or disgrace to this Order or its membership, he may be suspended or expelled only in the following manner: There shall be filed with the Scrivenoter a written statement of the offense charged, signed by the member making the charge and verified under oath, and supported by such affidavits of other persons as he may desire to present, together with a copy of the same. The Scrivenoter shall file the originals and transmit the copies to the accused by registered mail, without the name signed thereon, which shall be furnished by the Scrivenoter on demand if defense is made. The accused shall have 33 days after the receipt of the charges made in which to make answer, which shall be prepared under oath, and may consist of the statement of others as well as himself. When the Scrivenoter shall have received the answer of the accused, he shall transmit a copy of all the papers in the case to each member of the Supreme Nine, who shall determine the innocence or guilt of the defendant, and in case of conviction fix such penalty as they may deem proper.

In case the accused shall not make answer, within the time herein prescribed, he shall stand suspended until such answer shall be filed.

If any member shall make a false or malicious charge against another member, he shall be subject to suspension or expulsion by the Supreme Nine, and in any case in which the accused may be acquitted the burden of proof shall be upon the complainant to show that he acted in good faith in case the acquittal shall result from a failure to prove the facts alleged, but not when the acquittal results from the construction of the law.

Sec. 5. Whenever a member of this Order is suspended the Scrivenoter shall demand of him a return of his handbook and button, which shall be retained by the Scrivenoter during the period of his suspension. Whenever a member of this Order is expelled, the Scrivenoter shall demand a return of his handbook and button, and if the same shall not be returned within 33 days, he shall proceed to the recovery of same by action of law.

Vicegerent Karl Isburgh of Boston, Mass., formerly of the Smith-Isburgh Lumber Co., has recently embarked in business for himself, under the firm name of Karl Isburgh, and will handle both yellow pine and hardwoods. The new concern, with ample capital to pay cash for all it buys, starts out with bright prospects and has already a most excellent trade. Mr. Isburgh is a splendid type of the enterprising and progressive American business man.

IDAHO SPRINGS, COL., June 15, 1903.

Please find enclosed check for $3, which apply on my dues. Do not know just what I owe. There are only two of us in this city, Brother D. E. Wykoff, No. 160, and myself, but by having an old veteran like Brother Wykoff with me, we manage to hold our own. We haven't much to do now but buck the Western Federation of Miners, but that keeps us busy. Sometimes one of the boys comes up from Denver, not to sell us anything, but to keep an eye on us, I guess.

Fraternally yours,
EDWARD M. MOSCRIPT (No. 8093).

ALBERTA, LA., May 1, 1903.

Dear Brother Baird: I enclose you herewith the blank which was received today. I have only been a Hoo-Hoo since the 21st of February, but since then I have been a "Cat" from the word "go." I think we should hold another concatenation in this section especially to get our Vice President and General Manager. He would make a fine old "Tom."

Being the only Cat in town, I get rather lonesome sometimes, the only things that answer my caterwaulings at night are the owls and bullfrogs.

With kindest regards and best wishes to all Hoo-Hoo, I am,

Yours fraternally,
A. B. McLURE (No. 407-A).

ELK, WASH., May 29.

Dear Sir: I received the Hoo-Hoo button and the paper. I shall do all I can for our Order in this district as I am well pleased with the Order. I beg to remain,

Yours fraternally,
F. W. LAWRENCE (No. 728-A).

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 8, 1903.

We are in need of a buyer and inspector for the road, buying and grading poplar, oak, etc., and if you know of a good man who would like to come to this State, please give him our address and ask him to write us giving us full particulars. We want a good, honest, sober reliable man. Anything you can do for us will be appreciated. Thanking you in advance for your trouble, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
C. W. YOUNG (No. 586-A).

MEMPHIS, TENN., June 6, 1903.

I want a good man who can handle a large saw mill, with shotgun, feed and a steam nigger, and is a filer and hammerer, to take charge of the mill of the Roundaway Manufacturing Company, near Mattson, Miss., in Coahoma County, on the Yazoo Valley Railroad. Good wages and permanent employment to the right man; he will have a good position; artesian water from a well 800 feet deep; man with family preferred, as the company will have good houses for the employes. Kindly do what you can for me, and oblige. With personal regard, I am,

Yours cordially,
JOHN W. CHADDOCK.

BOSTON, MASS., June 6, 1903.

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of the book containing Constitution, By-laws, etc., of the Order of Hoo-Hoo; also button, for which please accept thanks.

I am very much pleased with same, and also with business like manner in which the details are carried out.

Respectfully,

H. W. HOBBS (No. 757-A).

LEONARD, N. D., June 6, 1903.

Dear Sir and Brother Hoo-Hoo: I received my button and handbook in due time and many thanks for the prompt arrival of the same. We had a most enjoyable time at Fargo on May 29, and I will say that after I got my eyes open, I certainly came in for my share of the fun.

Vicegerent Snark T. E. Dunn's description of Hoo-Hoo, after a long sleep, in the June Bulletin, was the real thing. To say that I am glad that I am a Hoo-Hoo is putting it very mild.

Yours fraternally,
W. C. GODDARD (No. 794-A).

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., June 9, 1903.

Hoo-Hoo is very quiet here at present; in fact we are scurrying around so during the day to get our part of the enormous trade in this section, that we needs must put in that part of the twenty-four hours most sacred to all Cats, the night, in getting out our work.

Fraternally yours,

WALTER EDMUNDSON (No. 6259).

BOSTON, June 4, 1903.

I am today in receipt of the Constitution and By-laws of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo, as also my Hoo-Hoo button No. 759-A, for which please accept my heartiest thanks.

Although quite a young kitten, having only been in the land of Hoo-Hoo a few days, I can assure you my initiation into that land was a mighty enthusiastic one, which was enlivened greatly by the successful efforts of our Vicegerent Snark, Mr. Karl Isburgh.

I am a member of a number of other secret orders, but the "Hoo-Hoo" spirit of sociability surely beats them all. It is truly worth any man's time and money to be initiated into the Order for the fun alone that he will get out of his initiation without mentioning at all the pleasure he will have in watching the next kitten come into existence.

Again thanking you kindly and extending to you the glad hand of a Hoo-Hoo, believe me,

Fraternally yours,
EVERETT W. MORGAN (759-A).

As will be seen from the reports of concatenations in this Bulletin and in the June number, Hoo-Hoo is quite active in the far West. Good concatenations have been held in Spokane, Stanwood and Whatcom, Wash., and at Fargo, N. D., and it is hoped that before the close of this Hoo-Hoo year a good meeting will be held at San Francisco.

If you have not received your new handbook, write this office at once. Sometimes a package goes astray in the mails. Another handbook will be mailed you if the one already sent has not arrived.

SEATTLE, WASH., June 15, 1903.

Enclosed find check for $9.90 in payment of ten years' dues to Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo. Please send me receipt and oblige.

CHARLES E. PATTEN (No. 444).

BRISTOL, WIS., June 15, 1903.

I have just received handbook and hereby acknowledge receipt of same, but note that I am not listed in the book. How about it? Great care should be taken to get every Hoo-Hoo listed in the handbook.

Yours truly,

(No. 377).

The new handbook stops off with No. 342-A, and consequently No. 377 does not appear in it. In other words No. 377 was initiated after the gong had sounded, so to speak. We had to draw a dead line somewhere, as we could not keep on sending down names to the printers. There are lots of things to do after all the names are in type. Four proofs are read on each list (alphabetical, numerical and states and cities), and corrections are made carefully and prayerfully on each proof. Then the books are printed, and it takes some little time to print 9,000 books. The stitching and binding come next, and altogether the getting out of the handbook is a great big job, as anybody will understand who knows anything about the printing business. It is not in the least like pouring peas through a boot leg. In fact, it is the most tedious and harassing task imaginable, and everybody in this office feels the strain of it, to say nothing of the printers, who relieved their overwrought tempers when the last proof was sent up by writing the following touching line on the margin:

"God be with us till we meet again!"

Here are some of the things one ought to be possessed of in order to be of much help in the Scrivenoter's office or in the printing office, in getting out the handbook:

1. A wide knowledge of geography. He should know the name of every town, river, railroad, mountain range, street and office building in America.

2. An absolutely unfailing memory for names. The ability to forever remember the spelling of a name after having once seen it, and never, never mix up Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Schmidt, or Mr. Clark and Mr. Clarke, etc.

3. A faculty for remembering initials, so that having once seen a man's initials, the same are never forgotten.

4. The ability to connect the right number with the right name. This includes an infallible memory for combinations of figures. Otherwise he may slip up in such cases as M. MacLeod (No. 415) and M. M. Macleod (No. 4116), the first name of each being Murdock, one spelling it "Murdock," and the other "Murdach."

5. Some knowledge of the lumber business.

6. A good English education.

7. Infinite patience.

A smattering of French and Spanish would also help a printer or proofreader in wrestling with the names of some of our members in Louisiana and California. A name like Bayou Teche is hard on a printer who never heard of a bayou, and consequently insists on setting up "Bayou" every time, to say nothing of "Bon Ami," "Chihuahua," and "Aroya Grande."

Despite the greatest care, mistakes occur in the handbook, some of them being very mortifying mistakes indeed. I wish the members would write and call my attention to any errors they may notice, so that correction may be made for the next handbook. Just as soon as the handbook is printed we begin on the next one, and from day to day make changes and corrections. Every member is expected to notify this office of change of address, if one is made. In writing about change of address, it will help greatly if the name of the town, firm, etc., as well as your own name, is written on a typewriter or printed with a pen. Not one man in a hundred writes very legibly. In puzzling out undecipherable names one needs all the education, memory and general knowledge possible, and sometimes our supply gives out at the critical moment.

We are now at work on a supplement to the new handbook. This will be mailed within the next two weeks. Paste it in the back of your handbook when it is received. The supplement begins where the handbook leaves off, and runs up as high as No. 824-A. Of course all these names will be incorporated in the 1904 handbook when it comes out next spring. Probably another supplement will be issued in the meantime.

Late Sunday evening, June 14, telegrams were received here from a committee of Kansas City lumbermen asking for a contribution from Nashville lumbermen for the relief of the flood sufferers. The telegram pictured the dire state of affairs and stated that 25,000 people were absolutely homeless and destitute. Immediately on receipt of the telegrams the Secretary of the Nashville Lumbermen's Association wired the Kansas City Committee to draw for $100 on account and next morning at a conference of the leading lumber firms of the city $250 was raised, the balance of which was transmitted by wire. This makes a total of $350 from the Nashville lumber firms.

The following letter from Brother Harry A. Gorsuch (No. 761), of Kansas City, indicates how the action of the lumbermen was appreciated:

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 20, 1903.

Mr. J. W. Merrill, the chairman of our committee, will answer your very kind letter, giving list of the royal good lumbermen of Nashville who have done just what might have been expected of them when they so promptly and so generously responded to our call for aid for the worthy homeless people of our neighboring towns across the raging Kaw. However, I could not forego the pleasure of dropping you a few lines at this time.

Do you know, Jim, when I was at Nashville at the Hoo-Hoo annual some years ago, I got stuck on the place because of the delightful way in which the lumber boys and in fact all the citizens of the place looked after the bunch of "kittens" who had wandered from the different parts of the country to attend the Nashville annual, and ever since I have had a hankering to drop in on Nashville and say "howdy."

At this time I feel this hankering more than ever, and instead of trying to say something to you by mail to express the appreciation myself and all of our committee feel for your kindly donation, I would like to be there to say

I tell you, Jim, this is a time when the lumbermen of the country have done themselves proud, as we expected they would. Our committee began sending out telegrams, such as you received, last Sunday. We sent them all over the country. At once the replies began to come from all over the country. We would get a wire from the South, then one from the Pacific Coast, one from Florida, one from Maine, one from Texas, and so on. These wires have been coming in steadily all week, giving words of good cheer and requests to make drafts on the senders. The results up to tonight are the beautiful sum of $26,000, which will bring some comfort to a great many poor people who need it in person. I would be glad if you will say to our friends who have subscribed to the flood fund, and likewise to the good people of Nashville who undoubtedly would have been equally quick to have taken the same action had they been called upon, that their contributions are in behalf of a most worthy cause, and that the money we have received from Nashville will be disbursed where it will do the greatest good, and that it will aid in placing a number of families who have lost everything they had possessed, in a position where they will feel like starting life anew, by supplying a few household necessities, which they now so urgently need.

It now, if they ever did, or ever will. We look for further returns next week, and we may well be proud that we are identified with the lumber business, when the representatives of that great industry come to the front in the magnificent manner they have on this occasion.

Wishing you and all the good fellows whom you name in your letter, in the greatest measure, "Health, Happiness and Long Life," and hoping at some time, in the not distant future, to have the great pleasure of meeting you all personally, I am,

Yours sincerely and fraternally,
HARRY A. GORSUCH.

The House of Hoo-Hoo.

Nine Reasons Why You Should Join the House of Hoo-Hoo.

1. It is to be built by lumbermen, for lumbermen, and is to advertise the lumber business.
2. It will be the only private club on the grounds of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, thereby giving the lumbermen a distinct advantage over all other visitors in comfortably taking in the great fair.
3. It will be operated merely to pay running expenses—not for profit—and it will thus enable members to make a considerable saving.
4. It will have comfortable dining rooms where the comforts and saving in eating will be in strong contrast to any other restaurant on the grounds. If you have attended previous expositions of this character you will know what this means.
5. The postoffice and writing room (with stenographers in attendance) make it possible for a member to give such attention to his business affairs as they may require.
6. A man's wife is included in his membership, whether or not he is with her, and the arrangement of the building pays particular attention to the comfort of the ladies. This includes a strictly private lounging room in charge of maids.
7. The information bureau of the club will be equipped to not only give information on personal application, but to also arrange for boarding house accommodations for those who so desire.
8. Being a club only for its members and only for lumbermen and those in allied trades, it will be possible for a member to meet more friends and make more business acquaintances at the club than anywhere else, thus giving a member a distinct social advantage.
9. You should join for patriotic reasons, if for no other. This is distinctively a lumber proposition and all lumbermen should take pride in it. The cost of membership is only $9.99, and there are no dues.

There are at least nine other reasons which are left to your imagination. If you are interested and have received no literature on the subject, inquiries should be addressed to the House of Hoo-Hoo, Fullerton Building, St. Louis.

Meeting of the Board of Governors.

A meeting of the Board of Governors of the House of Hoo-Hoo was held in St. Louis, June 17, for the purpose of reviewing the work thus far done and to outline plans for the future. The report of the secretary showed that about 3,000 members are still needed to complete the membership list and he was instructed to use all possible efforts to complete this part of the work. All reports showed that very satisfactory progress has been made in all departments and this indication favors a more complete success to the project than was at first contemplated, as the idea is growing and new methods of increasing the benefits of membership are constantly being added. Applications from many associations of manufacturers have been received for rooms to be finished with their products and nearly all of the rooms in the building are now taken. In fact, such success has crowned the efforts in this direction that the building promises to be a more complete exposition of commercial woods of the United States than was at first anticipated. The secretary was instructed to try and complete the membership list during the next sixty days and this is entirely within reason, in view of the number of members applying during the past thirty days. Great progress is being made and it is advisable for those contemplating joining this club to no longer postpone action on the matter, but to joint at once.

Dues for 1903.

HEN the clock struck twelve on the night of September 9 last, dues became payable for 1903. The Hoo-Hoo year begins and ends on September 9. Look up your receipts, and if you find that you have not paid 1903 dues, send 99 cents to the Scrivenoter at once. Any form of remittance will do except stamps that are stuck together. Your individual check will be all right.

Contributors to the Imminent Distress Fund.

The following are the names of the contributors to the Imminent Distress Fund since the last issue of The Bulletin. Some sent more than the 99 cents asked for, and each man is credited on the books with the exact amount contributed:

2411—J. H. Friant.	6706—C. B. DeKay.

The Practical Side.

The men whose Hoo-Hoo names appear in the notices below are out of work and want employment. This is intended as a permanent department of THE BULLETIN, through which to make these facts known. It is, or should be, read by several thousand business men who employ labor in many varied forms, and it can be made of great value in giving practical application to Hoo-Hoo's central theme of helping one another. It is hoped the department will receive very careful attention each issue.
