The Hoo-Hoo Souvenir Spoon.

The cut shown on another page of "The Bulletin" gives but a faint idea of the beauty and artistic elegance of the souvenir spoon. It is one of the most attractive things of the kind that we have ever seen, and we have seen at least a million souvenir spoons of various shapes, sizes, and designs. This spoon, in addition to bearing the Hoo-Hoo emblem, is adorned with nine cat-tails, such as grow in the marshes in the South, enameled in the natural color of brown, with green leaves.

It is not the intention of Hoo-Hoo to engage in any line of mercantile enterprise, and it is not for the sake of making large sums of money that these various articles of jewelry and other things are sold. The profit arising from the sale of these articles is very small, and does not much more than cover the cost of handling them. All the profits from the sale of the grip tag and souvenir spoon will be turned over to the House of Ancients and used by it for the purchase of stationery wherewith to conduct correspondence on matters pertaining to the good of the Order. Heretofore the House of Ancients has had to buy its own stationery. In the course of the year a great many questions arise that have to be settled by the House of Ancients, and it has been deemed fit and proper that the members of that honorable body be provided with suitable stationery.

The Scrivenoter is instructed to sell the spoon strictly for cash, to members who are in good standing. Most ladies are fond of souvenir spoons, and nowhere could be found a more suitable present for maid, wife, or widow than this unique and distinctive Hoo-Hoo spoon. The price is extremely reasonable; the workmanship, of the highest quality. It is no cheap affair, but is hand painted and hand enameled. The spoon itself is sterling gilt, which means that it is sterling silver, plated with gold. To all intents and purposes it is a gold spoon, and the next best thing to having been born with a gold spoon in the mouth is to become possessed of one of these exquisite Hoo-Hoo souvenir spoons.

Hoo-Hoo Jewelry.

In this issue of "The Bulletin" are shown some handsome cuts of special designs for Hoo-Hoo jewelry. For a number of years we have been selling the ladies' pin to those members of the Order who wished to give a unique and pleasing present to their best girls. These pins gave general satisfaction, and provided an easy and inexpensive method of making smooth the course of true love. Of late, however, we have noted a tendency on the part of our members to blow themselves for more elaborate offerings than the regular Hoo-Hoo stick pin. A number of more or less plaintive appeals for "something better" have reached us. So urgent have these demands become that the editor of "The Bulletin" has taken half a day off on Sunday and evolved five ideas for Hoo-Hoo brooches, and the official jewelers for Hoo-Hoo have made the designs as shown in this issue.

In addition to being artistic and beautiful, these are all "lucky" pins, and are guaranteed to bring success to the purchaser and make his wish come true, provided he wishes for the right thing.

The simple "bar" brooch is recommended as a present to a practical-minded girl. It carries with it a suggestion

Danville, Ark.

Vicegerent James Brizzolara held a concatenation at Danville, Ark., on February 20, initiating ten good men. This is the second meeting held at Danville by Vicegerent Brizzolara, who is doing a great work in extending the interest of the Order in his district of Arkansas. He announces his intention of holding within the next sixty days concatenations at Fayetteville, Waldron, and Booneville, Ark. Brother Brizzolara is a most energetic and faithful officer, and will doubtless show up at the Annual Meeting with quite a record for his State.

One of the best concatenations of this Hoo-Hoo year was held by Vicegerent George E. Watson, at St. Louis, on March 22. Ten good men were added to the list as a result of this excellent meeting.

GEORGE E. WATSON.

Vicegerent for Eastern District of Missouri. W. B. Darns handled the junior work in his usual effective style, and enough thought had been given to the subject to bring out several novelties in the way of general treatment and technic. The candidates had their eyes opened in a way they will always remember, and each one received all that was coming to him. Aside from this, the robust health of all of the candidates, considerably eased the mind of the Junior and gave him full freedom of action. Those in attendance were entirely tractable at all times, and the whole work was left to those appointed for of solid worth and is calculated to impress her with the idea that you are about as good a chance, all things considered, as she will be likely to get. It is "rich, but not gaudy," as Shakespeare says, and will commend itself to one of simple tastes and who likes things that are neat and at the same time elegant.

The wishbone design was made with a view to marrying off the confirmed bachelors of Hoo-Hoo, and we bespeak for it the prayerful consideration of No. 378.

The horseshoe pin is the luckiest of all. It will be observed that this horseshoe is not the old-fashioned kind, such as a common "plug" would wear, but is the up-to-date shoe worn by a running horse. It is, therefore, symbolic of the speedy realization of the purchaser's brightest dreams. The attention of Brother Sam. K. Cowan is respectfully called to this design.

The crescent pin is intended for presentation to a romantic maiden, and may be accompanied by a speech about the moon—"the inconstant moon, that monthly changes in its circled orb"—and an entreaty that her love be not likewise variable.

The clover-leaf pin is for widowers with children, who are trying to marry young girls. It is absolutely irresistible—"a thing of beauty and a joy forever." The clover leaf has a border of Roman gold, with the center enameled in the natural clover green.

Any one of these pins would make an appropriate present from a man to his wife, and all are guaranteed to prevent her from asking unreasonable questions when he shows up late at night or early in the morning after having been out with the boys. The horseshoe pin might prove effective as a present to one's mother-in-law, as it would carry with it a delicate hint to "walk away."

All these pins are made in solid gold, with Roman gold finish. We do not keep them in stock, but can fill orders on short notice.

The pins will be sold for cash to members only who are in good standing. Address all orders to J. H. Baird, Scrivenoter, Wilcox Building, Nashville, Tenn.

Comments on Concatenations.

Vicegerent L. F. Bordenave held a very successful concatenation at Norfolk, Va., on March 7, of which the local paper has the following to say:

"The concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo held their regular session last night in Engel's Hall, when many new kittens were initiated into the Black Cat degree. After the new members of the Order had 'looped the loop,' after the latest improved style at Coney Island, they were given seven Turkish baths, and then the dead and wounded were invited over to Seelinger's Cafe, in Bank street, where an elegant banquet was enjoyed.

"During the session which was held in Engel's Hall the following new members were received: Molltrie Bowen, Norfolk, Va.; Z. H. Powell, Port Norfolk, Va.; G. H. Miller, Cincinnati, O.; W. R. Tolleth, Portsmouth, Va.; E. W. Lipscomb, Hampton, Va.; and W. E. Lane, Norfolk, Va. All of these gentlemen were initiated into the many mysteries of the Order, and then the regular business was transacted, after which those present retired to Mr. Steve Seelinger's banquet hall.

"Here the assembly was called to order by Mr. L. F. de Bordenave, who acted as toastmaster. Many impromptu speeches were made.

In numbering Vicegerent de Bordenave's initiates on the Scrivenoter's rolls, the number 2,000 was reached, it being given Mr. Z. H. Powell.

The following menu was discussed at the banquet:

- Lynnhaven Oysters on the Half Shell
- Planked Shad
- Diamond Back Terrapin, a la Maryland
- Consomme of Fowl
- Flair Boiled Potatoes

the purpose. This was another point which contributed largely to the success of the affair, only the unusual carrying power of some of the seltzer bottles causing the least moving around among the spectators. After the ceremonies, there was the usual "On the Roof," a lunch having been prepared in the hall which was refreshing after work.

There was one matter which came up during the preliminary business part of the meeting which should be mentioned here.

On motion it was ordered that a committee—composed of Edward Singer, Chairman; and Julius Seidel, T. A. Moore, and B. L. VanCleave—act as a committee to draw up resolutions of respect to the memory of that good Hoo-Hoo, B. J. Ehnts, who recently died of consumption at Tucson, Ariz., these resolutions to be forwarded to the Scrivenoter for publication in "The Bulletin," and to be accompanied with the request that he send a copy of same to the family of the deceased.

Whereas the Almighty, in his wisdom, having seen fit to remove our brother, Barney J. Ehnts, we, a committee of his friends in the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo, do hereby express our regret and sorrow over the loss of one of our most beloved and highly esteemed members. We recognized in him the many qualities of a true gentleman whose attributes of character made him beloved by all. We, therefore, extend to his bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy in this sad hour, realizing that in his death they have lost a dear and beloved husband and parent; our Order, one of its most enthusiastic members; and the community, one of its most respected citizens.

In witness whereof we have here signed our names this twenty-second day of March, 1902.

EDWARD SINGER, Chairman;
JULIUS SEIDEL,
T. A. MOORE,
B. L. VANCLEAVE.

Notes and Comments.

We have received from Brother George M. Duncan, Vicegerent Snark for New Mexico, a little present, which is quite the cutest thing we have ever beheld. It is the Hoo-Hoo cat made of tiny black feathers and mounted on cardboard. It is absolutely perfect, even to the shading of the inside of the cat's ear. The eyes are made of black beads, with a little line of yellow paint around the margin. The whole thing, from the cat's front paws to the top of the curl in its tail, measures about five and a half inches. We do not know whether Brother Duncan has turned Mexican or whether he just hired a Mexican to make this cat. He lives at El Paso, Texas, where he is connected with the Emporia Lumber Company, of Houston, Texas, but his business requires frequent trips over into New Mexico, and he has been, therefore, appointed Vicegerent for that district. We presume he also gets over into old Mexico sometimes, and he may have learned to do feather work himself. At any rate, we have had the feather cat framed and hung up in the editor's sanctum sanctorum.

Appleton, Wis., March 2.—J. H. Baird, Scrivenoter, Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Sir and Friend: Inclosed please find check for $2, as I do not know just how I stand in the matter of dues. Business is very good, and I like the people in the Northwest very much; but occasionally I feel a longing to see the South, with the many old friends I used to meet. Hoping to see many of the boys, including yourself, at Milwaukee this fall, I am Fraternally,

A. A. TEEL (No. 5195).

P.S. Say Jim, I have the greatest boy on earth; he shows some signs of being a Hoo-Hoo later.
A. A. T.

Saginaw, Mich.—J. H. Baird, Scrivenoter, Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Sir: Inclosed please find check for 99 cents on account of dues. I am sorry to have let it run so long, but the phenomenal rush of business in our line lately is entirely responsible for the delay. I am only a young Hoo-Hoo, having recently strayed from one of the Order's noisiest and best-tracked stamping grounds where conditions were most favorable for a growing cat to shake off the last vestiges of kittenhood. I had my eyes opened by Brother Braden and others at Portland, Ore., where kittens squirm and are glad of the chance.

Would that a little of that Western catnip might be instilled into the many capable, but dormant, felines in this "neck of the woods!"
Yours fraternally,

NO. 7664.

We have recently received numerous letters similar to this:

Montgomery, Ala., February 13.—Mr. J. H. Baird, Scrivenoter, Nashville, Tenn.—Dear Brother: I see that "The Bulletin" speaks of Hoo-Hoo jewelry. Would it be too much tax on you to give me details about this? There is a person in the world upon whom I should like to place some of it.
Sincerely in the faith,

NO. 4838.

A recent letter from Brother W. M. Stephenson (No. 2676), who for some time has been located at Duluth, Minn., as the general agent of the Wisconsin Central Railway Company, advises us to change his address, as he has been transferred to St. Paul, Minn., as general agent of the railway. We are pleased to learn of his promotion; there is no better man or better Hoo-Hoo than Billy Stephenson, and we expect some day to see him manager of a whole railway system.

Our thanks are tendered the various members who from time to time have notified us of the death of some one of our brethren, also to those who have helped us to locate members whose names appear on the Unknown List.

Dear Hoo-Hoo: I inclose my dues for this year. Success to the Order. I notice I am the only Hoo-Hoo in Idaho in the 1901 passbook. Say, I am lonesome; I wish there could be a class of kittens got together on the roof here, and there might be if a good Hoo-Hoo would come and assist me. I am satisfied the lumber business is looking up in this State.
Yours, B. T. O. T. G. S. B. C.
E. E. GLAZIER (No. 3418).

Approaching Concatenations.

The concatenation which was to be held at Fargo, N. D., by Vicegerent Harry T. Alsop, has been unavoidably postponed to April 12. A large class is assured, and the members at Fargo have made extensive preparations for an interesting time. Brother T. E. Dunn, of Fargo, past Vicegerent for North Dakota, together with four or five other loyal members, is doing good work in the way of looking after the preliminary details and stirring up interest in the forthcoming event. The Vicegerent himself lives at Mayville, N. D., and cannot, therefore, supervise all the preliminary work. A very striking illustrated invitation has been issued by the Fargo contingent; and, altogether, the prospects are good for a record-breaking concatenation.

Vicegerent Victor H. Beckman, of the Western District of the State of Washington, announces that he will hold, during the month of April, a concatenation at Vancouver, B. C.; in May, at Olympia, Wash.; June, at Seattle, Wash.; July, at Ilwaco, Wash. (a joint Washington and Oregon meeting); July, at Sedro Woolley, Wash.; August, at Buckley, Wash.; September 9, at Whatcom, Wash. These dates are, however, subject to changes. Vicegerent Beckman is the sort of man who usually does more than he promises, rather than less, and he is certainly pushing Hoo-Hoo's interests most vigorously.

Nashville Entertains the Snark.

Mr. A. H. Weir, Snark of the Universe, stopped over at Nashville on his way to attend Hoo-Hoo Day at Charleston, and was fittingly entertained by the local members of Hoo-Hoo. A special concatenation was worked up in his honor, followed by a Session on the Roof in the form of an elaborate banquet at the Duncan Hotel.

The concatenation was given in the lodge rooms of the B. P. O. Elks, which was tendered for the occasion. L. E. Sawrie, Soliciting Agent for the Clyde Line; Henderson Baker, of the Henderson Baker Lumber Company; N. W. Gennett, of the Nashville Lumber Company; Sam Wene, Soliciting Agent of the Plant System; A. B. Ransom, of John B. Ransom & Co., and W. W. Northern, of J. H. Fall & Co., were initiated by the following officers: Snark, A. H. Weir; Senior Hoo-Hoo, John W. Love; Junior Hoo-Hoo, C. H. Sanders; Bojum, J. W. Cantrell; Scrivenoter, A. E. Baird; Jabberwock, F. C. Guthrie; Onatocatian, Wm. A. Binkley; Arcanoper, J. A. Hamilton, and Gurdon, John A. Jackson.

Hands-on Banquet.

After the initiation the banquet was given by the lumbermen of the city at the Duncan Hotel. This was a very elaborate affair. The banquet did not begin until nearly midnight and it was well into the morning before the fun was at an end. An elaborate menu was served in courses, as follows:

Blue Point Cocktail.
Celery.
Green Turtle and Maderia.	Radishes.
Olives.	Anchovy Butter.
Broiled Spanish Mackerel.	Potatoes Julienne.
	Petite Patties a la Chasseur.
	Outlets of Sweetbreads and Champignons.
Potato Croquettes.	New Peas.
	Hoo-Hoo Punch.
	Roast Quail on Canape Watercress.
Asparagus.	Sweet Potatoes.
	Lettuce and Tomato Mayonnaise.
Ice Cream.	Assorted Cake.
Fromage de Bris.	Toasted Crackers.
	Demi-Tasse.
	Toasts of Ceremony.

At the conclusion of this the toasts began, Supreme Scrivenoter, J. H. Baird, acting as toastmaster. Col. F. M. Hamilton formally welcomed the distinguished visitor to Nashville and Tennessee, and Mr. Weir responded fittingly. He said he did not want them to think that, because he was from the same city as Hon. Wm. J. Bryan, he was an orator; but, before finishing, had convinced those present that he knew a few things about oratory.

John Bell Keeble was the principal speaker of the evening, and had for his subject "The Proper Method of Conducting the Lumber Business from a Practical Standpoint." He said he was always ready to speak, but there was a good dinner at the same time. He referred pleasantly to the warm reception given Mr. Weir when that gentleman came here as a Union soldier in the Civil War, and compared it with the warm reception of last night, saying that Tennesseans were always consistent, and never turned their backs on friend or foe, their temperament always being pretty much the same. He then took up his subject, and handled it with consummate skill. When he had finished, the practical lumbermen present were convinced that what a lawyer of Mr. Keeble's ability did not know concerning lumber and timber, especially presidential timber, should be eliminated from the business. He said he had heard that all lumbermen finally got rich, and called their attention to John D. Rockefeller, who had lost his mustache, eyelashes, and eyebrows, and was now losing all of his hair. He warned them of what their end would be. He closed with an earnest tribute to Nashville lumbermen, whom he classed as the most progressive men in the city.

Other Speakers.

After Mr. Keeble had concluded the following toasts were responded to: F. C. Guthrie, "The Last Call upon a Lumberman;" C. H. Sanders, "The Hoo-Hoo Smoker;" B. Houston Dudley, "Post Mortem Dating;" John Love, "The Old Darky's Tribute to the Southern Man;" John Baskette, "The Promise Made at Home;" Wallace Northern, "How a Kitten Feels."

Mr. Weir was accompanied by Mrs. Weir, who was entertained at cards, by the ladies of Nashville, and who by her charming personality and gracious manners made many friends during her brief stay in the city.

Business Opportunities.

Mound City, Ill., March 25, 1902.—J. H. Baird, Scrivenoter. If you should happen to hear of any one capable of taking charge of a filing room, would consider it a favor if you would refer him to us. We want a man capable of taking charge of saws, band and circular, and for both mill and resaws. We will also have some grinding, such as veneer and planer knives.

METAL BOUND PACKAGE CO.

The Bowman-Hicks Lumber Company, of Loring, La., wants a combination stenographer and bookkeeper and general office man.

Obituary.

Brother L. J. Thompson (No. 3748) died of consumption at Phoenix, Ariz., on February 12, 1902.

Lawyer Jefferson Thompson was born at Edinburg, Ind., thirty-two years ago. He leaves a widow and one child. His remains were carried back to Edinburg. At the time of his death he was a member of the firm of Maley, Thompson & Moffett, of Cincinnati, O.

Brother C. M. Hill (No. 3593) died at his home in Saginaw, Mich., on November 27, 1901. Definite information concerning his death has just reached us. The cause of his death was heart disease. The local paper has the following in regard to this sad event:

"The fatal illness first gave warning last spring, when the deceased, after a business visit to the Pacific Coast, stopped en route home at Salt Lake City and Denver, it being at the latter place that the extreme altitude brought heart failure to Mr. Hill. No serious developments manifested themselves, however, until last August, when again his vital organ was seized with intense pains, he being at the time at his office in Duluth. From thenceforth Mr. Hill was not permitted more than brief respite from the excruciating suffering known only to those afflicted with the dread ailment.

"Noted specialists in all parts of the country—Duluth, Minneapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Saginaw, and Cleveland—were consulted without relief, it being but a week ago last Sunday that Mr. Hill returned to this city for taking treatment at Bellevue Hospital, New York. Though knowing that his days were numbered, that it would only be a question of a short time when the grim reaper would bear him to another life, Mr. Hill, on his arrival home, stuck to his post of duty, it not being until last Thursday that he consented to resign himself to the quietude which gave to him the only hope of life.

Clarence Moore Hill was born at St. Clair, Mich., on January 2, 1855. He received his education in the Saginaw schools, with a subsequent course at the Military Academy, at Worcester, Mass., and a year at law in the Michigan State University. Until some years ago Mr. Hill knew few affiliations in business, acquiring lumber interests in Minnesota and on the Pacific Coast, but about ten years since he took stock and became the president of the C. M. Hill Lumber Company, a corporation doing business under the laws of Virginia, he being also a member of the Arthur Hill Company (Limited).

Brother William Ahlers (No. 5263) died at his home, in Allegheny, Pa., on February 14, 1902.

William Ahlers was born at Allegheny, Pa., in 1864. He was one of the best-known lumbermen in the East, having been prominently identified with the business for a number of years. He was the president of the Ahlers Lumber Company, of Allegheny. Mr. Ahlers had not been well for some months, but his death was quite unexpected. He leaves a widow and three children.

Brother W. L. Mace (No. 53) died of typhoid fever, at Little Rock, Ark., on January 4, 1902, after an illness of over three months. Mr. Mace was connected with the Louisiana Lumber Company, and was manager of the plant at Rochelle, La.

Mr. Mace accepted the management of the plant at Rochelle on September 1, 1901, and was in charge of the business only three weeks when he was taken ill with swamp fever. He went to Hot Springs, Ark., for a time, and was then removed to Little Rock, Ark., where his ailment developed into typhoid fever. He made a splendid fight for his life, possessing a strong constitution; but the dread disease finally wore him out. Prior to his going to Rochelle, Mr. Mace had been the manager of the plant of the W. R. Pickering Lumber Company, at Pickering, La., and before that had been associated with various interests in Arkansas, notably the Fort Smith Lumber Company, of Fort Smith; the Consolidated Lumber Company, of Fort Smith; and other important yellow pine concerns. He was well known in manufacturing circles in the Southwest, and had always taken a prominent part in meetings of the Southern Lumber Manufacturers' Association since its organization.

Brother J. N. Gideon (No. 8363), of Paragould, Ark., was killed on February 19, 1902, at 7:30 o'clock, by touching an electric light wire in his own house.

Isaac Newton Gideon was born at Belmont, O., in 1859. At the time of his death he was connected with the Henry Wraps Company. He became a member of Hoo-Hoo on July 23, 1901. The local paper contained a lengthy account of the funeral, from which the following is an excerpt:

"The sad and unexpected death of our friend, Mr. Gideon, was the cause for intense sorrow with the citizens generally, and with those who knew him it will ever be with a feeling of sadness that they call to their minds the deplorable misfortune that robbed him of his life and enshrouded a home with grief.

"The funeral, in point of attendance, was perhaps one of the very largest ever witnessed in Paragould, and there was every evidence of the sincere esteem in which the deceased was held by the citizens of this place."

The paper has the following account of the deplorable accident which caused Mr. Gideon's death:

"One of the most terrible accidents that ever happened in Paragould resulted in suddenly taking the life of J. N. Gideon, one of our best citizens, at his home, in this city last night at 7:30 o'clock.

"At the hour named Mr. Gideon observed that the electric light-wires running from his residence to his barn were crossed, and were burning. He grabbed a pair of scissors and, running to the wires, attempted to cut them, or did cut them; but the electric current ran into his body with such force that he fell dead on the spot. His daughter, Miss Mary, was by his side, and, seeing her father prostrate on the floor of the back porch with a live wire in his hand, seized a spade, and in an attempt to break the wire loose from him received quite a shock. But relief came too late; for Mr. Gideon was dead—electrocuted almost in the twinkling of an eye, as if struck by lightning.

"At the time of the deplorable accident only Mr. Gideon and Miss Mary were at home, Mrs. Gideon being now absent at Indianapolis, Ind., where she was called some two weeks ago on account of the death of her mother. She was notified at once by telegraph of the accident, and will arrive to-morrow morning, only to find the husband whom she left well and hearty two weeks ago cold in the chilly embrace of death.

"Mr. Gideon was forty-one years of age, was born in the State of Iowa, and came here from Indianapolis eleven years ago. He was for a long time a valued employee at the Wraps factory; but a few years ago when the company was reorganized he acquired stock and has been for the past few years the foreman for the Henry Wraps Company at their building shop."

Brother A. S. Gearhart (No. 4259) died at St. Paul's Sanitarium, at Dallas, Texas, on January 2, 1902, after an illness of three months.

Albert Sweeney Gearhart was born at Sherman, Texas, on January 19, 1874. At the time of his death he was manager of the M. T. Jones Lumber Company, at Dallas. He was initiated into Hoo-Hoo on May 16, 1896, and always manifested the greatest interest in the Order.
