Through Hoo-Hoo — A United Forest Products Industry

SO WHAT'S A HOO-HOO?

The unusual name may make you smile, but what we're called is less important than what we are—an organization founded in 1892 on the belief that fellowship builds trust and goodwill between people in all parts of the forest products industry. We believe in the concept that competitors are better thought of as colleagues and friends where your word is your bond, your handshake is a promise, and face-to-face meetings have deep value.

HOO-HOO AND YOU If you support the forest products industry, are at least 18 years old, enjoy socializing with great people, live life with a code of ethics, and have a desire to give back to your community, Hoo-Hoo is for you! We invite you to learn more about and consider membership in Hoo-Hoo International—the fraternal order of the forest products industry.
